MURDER TRIAL OF JENA MEN OPENS MONDAY

Pair Facing Second Trial In Slaying Of LaSalle Trooper, Son

COLUMBIA, Jan. 3 (Special)—Two Jena men charged with the murder of State Trooper Ulis Floyd and his son, Donald, in February of 1952 go on trial here for the second time Monday.

The first trial, held in Columbia last fall, was declared a mistrial when the jury was unable to reach a verdict. The defendants, Luther Pearson and Martin Jackson, have admitted the shootings but claimed self-defense.

The much-delayed second trial will get underway in district court before presiding Judge Frank Mouser. Prosecuting attorney will be Cam Minard, district attorney for LaSalle and Caldwell parishes, and defense attorneys will be Warren Hunt of Rayville and C. W. Flowers of Jena.

The father of Pearson is a key witness for the state. The elder Pearson left the state while underbond prior to the first trial.

Pearson and Jackson allegedly killed Floyd and his son, Donald, 25, at the Floyds' home after the trooper had earlier told them to go home because they were drinking.

Donald Floyd was slain in an exchange of gunfire with the men after his father had been fatally wounded.

The trial was moved here from Jena because of high feeling over the shootings in that area. The state had asked the death penalty for the pair in the first trial.

CRESTON KNIFE VICTIM EXPIRES

Wielder Is Still At Liberty Pending Grand Jury Investigation

NATCHITOCHES, Jan. 3 (Special) — The Natchitoches parish grand jury will meet Tuesday to decide if any charges will be filed against Hansel Friday of Creston in the knife slaying of his neighbor, Buddy F. Fuller, 49.

Fuller died Friday afternoon of wounds suffered in a fight in Creston the same day with Friday. Friday told authorities he wielded the knife in self-defense.

Friday is not being held pending the outcome of the grand jury hearing, authorities said.

Eye-witnesses said Fuller died as he attempted to make his way back to his home following the fracas.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday at the Pleasant Hill church near Creston with the Rev. J. R. Nelson officiating. Burial will be in Pleasant Hill cemetery under the direction of Southern funeral home of Jonesboro.

Pallbearers will be Whit Waggoner, Jack Waggoner, Clarence Waggoner, Don Eabes, George Wallace and Sidney Graham.

Fuller is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lula Waggoner Fuller; one son, Pete Fuller of Texas; two daughters, Mrs. Helen McLean and Miss Marie Fuller, both of Monroe; his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Fuller of Eros; two brothers, R. F. Fuller of Eros and Jewell Fuller of Monroe, and three sisters; Miss Suzie Fuller and Mrs. Eunice Poe, both of Eros, and Mrs. Ethel Hairr of North Carolina.

Fuller was born in Eros, moving to Creston a few years ago. He was employed at a saw mill there.

FARM PAGE TO BE PUBLISHED

Purpose Is To Provide News Of Special Interest To Rural Residents

The Morning World will begin publishing a farm page on each Tuesday, effective Jan. 6.

The purpose of the farm page is to keep Morning World rural readers in 15 parishes informed of advancements in farming technology, to give them a page with news which directly concerns them and their way of living.

Subscribers have been urged to contribute farming information concerning this region.

Parishes which will be covered in the weekly farm roundup are Morehouse, West Carroll, East Carroll, Ouachita, Madison, Franklin, Tensas, Catahoula, Concordia, Caldwell, Jackson, Lincoln, Union, Richland and LaSalle.

The first farm page will feature a review of 1953 farming prospects in northeast Louisiana and a general review of new trends in agriculture in this region.

5 Men Arrested In Big Gambling Raid

M. C. Nugent Of Monroe And Four Vicksburg, Miss., Men Taken Into Custody, Bond Is Sought After State Troopers Swoop Down

By YVONNE BRETT
Staff Reporter

DELTA POINT, La. Jan. 3 (Special) — Five men were arrested here about 10:20 last night as plain-clothes state troopers swooped down on the Circle Club in a gambling raid.

Four Vicksburg, Miss., men and one Monroe man were placed under arrest by the state troopers for operating a gambling game.

M. C. Nugent, 29, 109 Thomas street, Monroe, was identified as the operator of the game. State troopers identified the other four men as A. L. Slaughter, 48, B. H. Ethridge, 48, Charlie H. Sadal, 48, and Louis Hassley, 36, all of Vicksburgh.

The five men called a bondsman soon after being taken into custody. No bond had been set late tonight.

Authorities said the men will be transferred later to the Madison parish jail at Tallulah.

This was the second time the club has been raided. The first raid was conducted on Dec. 22 and the club opened again soon after the raid. Eight persons were arrested in that raid.

The state police confiscated a roulette wheel, chips, money boxes, dice and dice sticks. State police then paid the customers off for the chips they were holding.

Most of the approximately 50 persons in the gambling room at the time of the raid were identified as residents of Vicksburg.

"We're getting used to this," one of the customers said. "It happens so often."

The three plain-clothesmen entered the club about 9 p. m. and a bingo game was in progress at the time. Troopers then went to the gambling room, which was opened following the bingo game. There they observed the gambling games in operation.

At 10:20 p. m. the officers notified the operators of the games that they were state troopers and "this is a raid."

Then two uniformed troopers from Troop F entered the doors and blocked the passage for all persons.

Troopers said the customers were playing roulette, dice and blackjack.

DEATH COMES TO FELIX TERZIA

Prominent Former Lumberman, School Board Member Dies

Felix A. Terzia, 66, of 2708 South Grand St., prominent retired lumberman, died following an operation in a local hospital at an early hour Saturday. The funeral will be held in Mulhearn Funeral Chapel Monday at 3 p. m. Dr. H. L. Johns, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will officiate and interment will be in Riverview Burial Park.

Active pallbearers will be George Tidwell, Burt Sperry, W. A. Walker Jr., E. F. Madison, Pete Godwin, Tony Cascio, J. H. Trousdale, Jr., and James Sparks.

Honorary pallbearers will be Travis Oliver, Sr., Meyer Greenwall, E. T. Lamkin, Frank Farmer, A. B. Myatt, Sr., John M. Breard, Jr., Barlow Inabnet, H. Flood Madison, Dr. Joe Brown, Herbert Rosenhein, Fred Hudson and all friends of the family.

Mr. Terzia, born Dec. 18, 1886, was member of a well known Louisiana family. His early life was spent in Bastrop, where he attended high school and prepared for Louisiana State University, where he was graduated in 1904.

Thereafter he followed lumbering in Mississippi, coming to Monroe to live in 1919, when his father and brother, Theodore, established with him the Parlor City Lumber Co. in the south end of Monroe.

Mr. Terzia married Miss Verne Pigford, Sept. 15, 1915, daughter of a prominent merchant and banker of Mississippi.

After the death of his father, Mr.

Groundwork Begun For Television Station Here

The first ground-clearing for the construction of Monroe television station got underway Saturday at 1 p.m. on Forsythe avenue near the railroad crossing.

The UHF (ultra high frequency) station will be owned by Howard Griffith, J. O. "Red" Willett, and Maurice Glazier.

Bulldozers belonging to Willett are expected to have the ground-clearing job finished in several days.

The studio, transmitter, tower and antenna will be located at the Forsythe avenue site. The station expects to be on the air before June 1.

The three partners will supervise construction of the station which will be concrete block masonry.

Call letters for the UHF station are KFAZ. The first letter was issued by the government. FAZ stands for Freda and Zoe, wives of the owners.

Griffith urged prospective television buyers to make sure the set which they purchase has a UHF receiver. All late model sets have not and special equipment has to be purchased to enable the set to receive UHF, Griffith said.

The local station received its permit early in December.

TRUMAN ORDERS BOARD TO PROBE VINCENT CASE

President Follows Recommendation Of Acheson On Status Of Diplomat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3—UP—President Truman Saturday night directed Secretary of State Dean Acheson to let a special five-member board determine the status of suspended diplomat John Carter Vincent who has been accused as a loyalty risk.

Acheson himself had proposed such a board in a long memorandum to Mr. Truman on the case.

Vincent, a career diplomat, was suspended by the State Department last Dec. 15 after the President's loyalty review board branded him a loyalty risk.

But at the same time the State Department left up to Acheson and Presiden Truman the final decision on Vincent's future.

Acheson recommended a board composed of:

Judge Learned B. Hand, retired senior judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals in New York, chairman.

John J. McCloy, former high commissioner for Germany.

James Grafton Rogers, former assistant secretary of state under Secretary Henry L. Stimson.

G. Howland Shaw, a retired foreign service officer and a one-time assistant secretary of state under Secretary Cordell Hull.

Edmund Wilson, retired foreign service officer and former ambassador.

In a four-line memorandum to Acheson, Mr. Truman said he read Acheson's memo and added:

"I think the suggestions which you make are well taken and I authorize and direct you to proceed in the manner which you have outlined."

When the President's loyalty review board made its findings it recommended flatly that Vincent be fired on ground that there "is reasonable doubt as to his loyalty to the government of the United States."

The board emphasized, however, that it did not find Vincent "guilty of disloyalty."

Vincent has been a frequent target of Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Pat McCarran (D-Nev.).

He was U.S. consul at Tangiers when the State Department suspended him. This left disposition of the case up to Mr. Truman and Acheson.

In his memorandum to the President, Acheson noted the board did not accept or reject the testimony of former Communist editor Louis F. Budenz that he was informed Vincent was a Communist and under Communist discipline.

SHRINERS START DIMES CAMPAIGN

Special Auction For Raising Of Funds To Be Held This Month

The first step toward the $30,000 goal established for the March of Dimes in Ouachita Parish was made yesterday when the members of the Northeast Louisiana Shrine Club directed the first concerted solicitation of the 1953 drive.

Throughout the downtown areas of Monroe and West Monroe, and on Louisville Avenue, the Shriners appealed to the passersby to drop their coins in the barrels, buckets, and pans they had for receiving donations. They were attempting to exceed the record set last year for a one-day drive of $2,185. No figures were available last night, but Tom Firnberg, chairman of this year's polio drive, stated last night that the receipts looked very favorable. A complete report will be forthcoming Monday.

Next Saturday, Mayor John Coon and members of the Monroe police department will conduct the drive on DeSiard Street. The mayor will be serving coffee to all who wish to partake in front of one of the local five and ten cent stores.

Firnberg again urged the citizens of the parish that this year, more than ever, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis needs help because of the $7,000,000 indebtedness the foundation incurred in handling the high incidence of polio.

Other features of the drive, which will continue through January 31, will be announced later. The climax of the drive will be on January 29 with the mother's march, directed by Beth Breese.

Irving Zeidman, publicity chairman for the drive, also announced a special auction for the rising of funds will be held this month, with all the proceeds given to the March of Dimes. Monroe and West Monroe merchants are donating merchandise for the auction, which will be broadcast by the local radio stations.

New Congress Gives Tax Reductions Top Priority

SEN. BYRD RAPS TRUMAN'S PLAN FOR TAX CUTS

Says High Officials Should Be On Same Standard With People

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) today urged defeat of a proposal by President Truman to give President-elect Eisenhower tax exemption on his living expenses in Washington.

"In this day of cruel and harsh taxation," Byrd said, "all officials and all citizens should be on the same standard."

Truman yesterday asked Congress to give the tax exemption not only to his successor in the White House but also to Vice President-elect Nixon and to House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr.

Some Republican lawmakers viewed the proposal with suspicion. Rep. Simpson (R-Pa), for example, suggested it might be a "mouse trap idea."

Byrd, a member of the Senate Finance Committee which would have to pass on the proposal, said in a statement:

"Whatever may be the reasons that prompted President Truman to ask for tax exempt compensation for the incoming President and vice president, we can safely assume that this did not emanate from either Gen. Eisenhower or Sen. Nixon.

"The facts are that four years ago, by a very small majority, President Truman was given tax exempt compensation of $50,000 annually under the guise of expense funds, and shortly thereafter Congress voted a $2,500 tax exempt allowance for each congressman and senator.

"For their acceptance of these tax exempt payments from the Treasury, both Mr. Truman and members of Congress were severely criticized.

"It should be understood that provision is already made for authorized expenses of the president, the vice president, senators, and congressmen. The President's proposal for special tax exemption would, in effect, increase the salaries.

"After a bitter fight in Congress, a bill proposed by Sen. Williams of Delaware, on which I was a co-patron, passed last summer to abolish these special tax exemption privileges. If the compensation of the president, the vice president, and senators and congressmen is inadequate, the proper approach is to increase the salaries in the regular manner, subject to taxation. It should not take the course of special tax exemption."

HOLIDAY DEATH TOLL CLIMBING

276 Killed In Traffic Over Four-Day New Year's Holiday

CHICAGO, Jan. 3—UP—The traffic death toll for the four-day New Year's holiday mounted slowly Saturday, and traffic experts hoped their advance estimate of 410 deaths might prove too high.

The latest United Press tabulation showed that 276 persons had been killed in traffic since 6 p.m. Wednesday. Six others died in plane crashes, 31 in fires and 76 in miscellaneous accidents for a total of 389.

The combined traffic total for the four-day Christmas holiday and the present New Year's weekend was 864. The total for both holidays for all accidental deaths was 1,153.

The New Year's toll actually was running behind the average hourly traffic death rate for all of 1952, but it did not take into consideration persons who are injured and will die in the future.

The current rate was 3.7 deaths per hour, compared with last year's average hourly rate of about 4.3.

The National Safety Council estimated in advance that 410 persons would die during the current holiday period, which ends at midnight Sunday.

But the experts were pleased at the relatively safe driving over the hazardous New Year Eve and New Year Day period.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the safety council, said the all-time holiday record of 588 traffic deaths set during the recent Christmas holidays may have had a sobering effect upon motoroists.

Bill Calls For Income Tax Cut Of 5 1-2 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 —UP— House Republicans got the new Congress off to a booming start Saturday by giving high priority to a bill to cut personal income taxes about 5½ per cent in 1953.

In 1954 the reduction for most taxpayers would be about 11 per cent.

The tax relief measure—one of the prime issues in the GOP election campaign—was dropped into the legislative hopper by Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.), chairman-designate of the tax-writing House Ways and Means committee.

Reed said House Republican leaders agreed to tag his bill HR 1. This means it goes down as the first measure introduced in the 83rd Congress.

That does not mean it is certain of enactment, but it does mean the GOP majority is sympathetic and its chances of passage are good.

Reed's proposal is that Congress advance the date of tax relief provided under present law, from Dec. 31, 1953. to June 30.

The Democrats, in enacting a tax increase bill in 1951, provided that the increase would end on Dec. 31, 1953. This would mean a tax reduction for most individual taxpayers of about 11 per cent next year.

Reed wants the taxpayers to get the benefit of this relief for one-half of this calendar year. Some Democrats welcomed the bill and said they would support it.

The new speaker of the House, Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., of Massachusetts, said federal spending must be cut before taxes are reduced. But he indicated the tax cut may be possible this year.

Reed explained that one reason for advancing the date for individuals was because the excess profits tax on corporations expires June 30.

"While I favor permitting this law to die a natural death," he said, "I maintain that our individual taxpayers are entitled to simultaneous relief.

"For every individual who has an interest in a productive enterprise which is being throttled by the 82 per cent (excess profits) tax, for every inequity and for every arbitrary and discriminatory provision of this law, there are thousands of small taxpayers who are equally entitled to tax relief and who, believing that they will receive fair and equal treatment, have placed their trust in the Republican party."

KOHLER REMOVED FROM TOP-LEVEL PLANNING STAFF

Diplomat Arrested For Drunkenness Suspended For 30 Days

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 —UP— The State Department Saturday removed Foy D. Kohler, who was arrested on drunk charges while carrying secret papers, from a top-level assignment, suspended him for 30 days without pay, and reprimanded him for violating security regulations.

The stiff punishment was meted out after an investigation of an automobile accident Dec. 6 in nearby Arlington, Va., in which Kohler and his wife Phyllis figured.

A car driven by Mrs. Kohler snapped off a telephone pole while the Kohlers were returning home from a party. Both were arrested on drunk charges and Mrs. Kohler additionally was charged with reckless driving.

Two secret documents dealing with Tunisian and Moroccan questions, under debate in the United Nations at the time, were in the trunk of the Kohler automobile.

Kohler said he was taking them home for a "week-end" reading. He said the documents were locked in the car during the party which led up to the accident.

The diplomat was relieved of his duties as a member of the department's top-level policy planning staff. He will be assigned other, as yet undetermined, duties. The 30-day suspension will cost him $1133 in pay.

Kohler still will be in the suspended list when Secretary of State-designate John Foster Dulles takes over. Presumably Dulles will decide his future.

Kohler, a native of Oakwood, O. is a veteran of 21 years of previous service, holds the rank of foreign service officer class one, and earns $13,600 annually.

He had "no comment" on the department's action, nor would the 44-year-old diplomat say whether he intends to resign.

As a result of the accident, Kohler forfeited $8.75 on the drunk charges. His wife was convicted for reckless and drunken driving. She was sentenced to 30 days in jail but this was suspended in lieu of a three-hour jail term which she is appealing. She also is appealing $150 in fines.

Jes' Ramblin'

In the great scramble to see whose baby was the first born in 1953, not only in Monroe but in other cities of the nation, there has been an interesting situation created. In Washington, D. C., a baby was born as the bells sounded for the entry of the new year. That has occasioned a question as to whether the baby thus born belonged to the old year or to the new year. And the problem is one that concerns finances of the parents. For the decision will de-

M'CARTHY TAKES SEAT WITHOUT SENATE PROTEST

Senator's Challenge Goes Unanswered By Democrats

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 —UP— Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, controversial Wisconsin Republican whose finances were the target of a Senate subcommittee attack, took his seat in the 83rd Congress without opposition Saturday.

The Communist-in-government hunter had dared the Democrats to try to block him from taking his seat. But they sat on their hands. He took the oath for another six-year term — a term in which he will wield more power than ever before.

McCarthy's dare was provoked by a critical report of the Senate Elections subcommittee. The group reached no conclusions or recommendations. But it asked "obvious questions" about his financial dealings and said it was turning "the record" over to the Justice Department, along with that of McCarthy's chief foe, former Sen. William Benton (D-Conn.)

Benton started the investigation by trying to get McCarthy expelled from the Senate.

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.) was chairman of the subcommittee. Sens. Robert C. Hendrickson (R-N. J.) and Carl Hayden (D-Ariz) were the other two members.

Hendrickson told newsmen the report is "without the force of law." He doubted that the subcommittee had any authority after the last Congress adjourned.

Meanwhile, the New Jersey senator disclosed the subcommittee soon will submit another report on the investigation of the 1950 election of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) and certain election complaints in Michigan.

The McCarthy report raised questions about how he could justify taking a $10,000 fee from the now-defunct Lustron Corp., of Columbus, Ohio for a booklet on housing when Lustron was financed entirely by the Reconstruction Finance Corp., a government agency under McCarthy's eye as a member of the banking committee.

It also cited an instance when McCarthy borrowed $20,000 from Russell M. Arundel, Washington representative of the Pepsi-Cola Co., in 1947 at a time when bottlers sought to end sugar rationing and, the report said, McCarthy was attacking government sugar controls.

The subcommittee also said there is "the definite possibility" that McCarthy received funds "for purposes other than assisting in his anti-Communist activities."

McCarthy denounced the report as a "new low in dishonesty and smear."

The report said Benton himself may have violated the corrupt practices act in connection with a campaign contribution of $600 from Walter S. Cosgriff, former RFC director, and now a Salt Lake City, Utah, banker.

JUDGE ACCUSED OF 'COERCION'

Condemned Rosenbergs Say Decision Smacks Of Political Pressure

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—Julius and Ethel Rosenberg charged today that the words of a judge's decision denying them clemency "smack of political pressure and coercion."

Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman yesterday denied another plea of the condemned atom spies for clemency, saying he still considered their crime "worse than murder."

The Rosenbergs, slated to die at Sing Sing prison the week of Jan. 12 for conspiracy to spy for the Soviet Union, were visited at the prison today by their two small sons and their attorney.

Later the attorney, Emanuel H. Bloch, issued a statement he said was given to him during the visit by the Rosenbergs.

Bloch said they had composed the statement hurriedly after reading Judge Kaufman's opinion.

CHOUDRANT, Jan. 3 (Special—A widow reported to police yesterday that $830 in savings was missing from her favorite hiding place—a fruit jar buried in her smoke house.

Mrs. Mollie Dugal, who lives alone on a farm about four miles from here, reported her hams untouched.

Hiking Airman Robbed Of $76, Gets $1 Back

RUSTON, Jan. 3. (Special)—A motorist picked up a hitchhiking airman at Ruston today, robbed him at gunpoint of $76 and then generously refunded a $1 to help the serviceman complete his trip.

State police threw up a roadblock and picked up a 20-year-old man at Bernice suspected of the holdup. He was identified as Harold Ray Methvin.

He was jailed in the parish jail at Ruston and charged with armed robbery.

The unidentified airman told police a man, who described himself as a traveling salesman, picked him up at the outskirts of Ruston and drove him halfway between Ruston and Choudrant. The airman said the man then pulled a gun and robbed him.

After handing the soldier back a dollar bill, he ordered the airman out of his car.

A Choudrant resident, Jimmy Lee O'Neal, picked up the stranded hitchhiker a few minutes later and took him back to Ruston where police were notified.

Police said the airman was enroute from Barksdale Air Force base in Shreveport to his home in Jackson, Miss.

TROOPERS BACK TO 8 - HOUR DAY

Regular Schedule Resumed After Special Holiday Shifts

Members of the state police returned to the normal eight - hour day at 8 a. m. Saturday after working 12 - hour shifts for the past two weeks. The special shifts were put in effect during the Christmas and New Year's holidays in order to provide a maximum of protection for motorists on highways.

Capt. Roy Byrd, in announcing the change back to the eight-hour shifts, expressed thanks to the motorists for their "extreme care and thoughtfulness on the roads." The head of local troop F said "in spite of several serious accidents in this area and a number of minor ones, these occurances have been held to a minimum. It is gratifying to know that there were so few accidents when one considers the huge number of vehicles on the roads."

World's First Iron Sub Will Get New Home

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 3—UP—The world's first iron submarine, appropriately named The Pioneer, will be moved indoors away from the ravages of the elements, curious kids and garbage-can hunters.

Now standing within a stone's throw of the famed equestrian statue of Gen. Andrew Jackson in Jackson Square, the tiny, odd-looking contraption will be moved a short distance away, to the Lower Pontalba Building which faces the square.

There it will be the center of a special defense exhibit to be opened Jan. 8, featuring other later developments in the tools of warfare.

The exhibit will mark the opening event of a year-long celebration of the Louisiana Purchase Sesquicentennial, and will begin with appropriate fanfare including a band, color guard, and representatives of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, city and state.

Later it will remain in the Pontalba's museum portion on permanent exhibition.

The Pioneer, which had a brief active-life span, has had an interesting career. It was designed and built by three Orleanians in 1861 and successfully launched a year later, maneuvered through the Basin and out into Lake Pontchartrain.

It was sunk in the lake shortly afterward to prevent it falling into the hands of Federal troops. There it lay until 1878, when a swimmer found and reported it. The sub was raised to the surface and put on exhibit at Spanish Fort, where it remained until 1907.

Next it was set up at the Camp Nicholls Confederate Soldiers' Home, where it stayed until 1942, when it was placed on exhibit in the square.

Museum Director Ben Mathews explained the reason for uprooting the old relic, one of the country's most valuable among submersibles:

"For the past 10 years (it) has stood out in the weather in Jackson Square, in no way protected from the elements or the public. Small boys climb over it and into it and beat on its metal sides with rocks to hear it echo. The pigeons and birds roost in and on it, and the park-bench sherry-heads find it a convenient place to cache their bottles. It is always half full of trash."

BUYERS ATTEND FURNITURE MART

Three Monroe Men Will Inspect New Styles In Chicago, Grand Rapids

J. G. Durrett, Sr., accompanied by W. D. Durrett and J. G. Durrett, Jr., left last week to attend the furniture markets for Monroe Furniture Co., in Chicago, Ill., and Grand Rapids Mich.

The three Monroe men will see new varities and styles of furniture during their buying trip.

Durrett stated that a new furniture period was developing and that a trend to black was seen in the latest offers.

The Chicago Market Daily, national furniture magazine, stated that black metal furniture started when outdoor wrought iron furniture styles became so attractive they were brought indoors and that it will reach a new high at the coming show.

Durrett said that selections would be made at the show to please all customers and that he expected to have some of the newest and best lines ever displayed in north Louisiana.

Monroe Furniture Co. which sells both wholesale and retail, has retail stores in Shreveport, Alexandria, Lake Charles, Bastrop and Ruston.

Make Small Progress In Rebuilding Of Churches

LONDON (AP)—London's supreme effort to rebuild war - damaged churches and remount their stately spires will be one third complete in June when coronation visitors flood this nation.

Nazi airmen and buzz bombs, whether they were aiming for London's churches or not, struck 624 out of 701 Anglican churches.

The damage still is evident in every section of the city, but after five years of labor, 200 restoration and repair jobs are nearly finished.

Among them are 15 famous churches—some huge and some just parish meeting houses—standing again in the heart of London's sightseeing districts.

American, Canadian and European visitors at coronation time can't miss seeing at least two or three of the 15 if they do any sightseeing at all. Distinguishing restored churches or restored sections however, will be difficult. Restoration work looks almost exactly like the original masonry and carpentry of four and five centuries ago.

St. James, Piccadilly, cost 125,000 pounds ($350,000) to restore and All Saints, Langham Place, cost 120,000 pounds ($336,000).

Several other restoration projects eventually will cost far more than construction of the original buildings. In many instances, extensive research and study were needed before artists, masters carpenters and masons could begin their work.

The bill for restoration of war-damaged churches in London alone—not counting huge jobs in Coventry, Plymouth, Southampton and dozens of other large British cities—will cost nearly 4,000,000 pounds ($11,200,000).

Such a bill in economically hard-pressed Britain is far harder to meet than in America. Here also, restoration donations must be divided between churches, schools, public works and private property. All money for repairing Hitler's damage can't go to churches.

The British government eventually will meet about 3,000,000 pounds ($8,400,000) of the London bill. Public subscription, church donations, bequests, fund - raising stunts and foreign contributions must raise the remainder.

The public campaign for London churches was opened in 1946 with the bishop of London's reconstruction fund. The Right Rev. J. W. C. Wand, bishop of London, got the campaign off to a good start by sitting on the steps of famed St. Paul's Cathedral and accepting whatever gifts anyone wished to offer.

In one day he received 36,000 pounds (now $100,800).

Colonel Derek Searle, official of the bishop of London's fund, has presided over the collection of 580,000 pounds ($1,624,000) of the 750,000 ($2,100,000) which make up the public portion of the fund.

The total job, Col. Searle says, will require about 15 years and he estimates that excellent progress has been made during the first five years of the campaign.

One of the largest single contributions came several years ago from Holy Trinity Episcopal Church of New York. The gift was 12,000 pounds ($33,600) and was earmarked for help in restoring St. Mary-Le-Bow in the East End.

Bishop Wand says now in computing the job already done and the job remaining: "We hope that when our loyal friends in America, Canada and on the Continent visit us during the coronation, they will seek out the results of our labor and appreciate the enormity of our task."

DR. EARL GUINN INTERIM PASTOR

Will Start To Serve College Place Baptists Temporarily

College Place Baptist Church, at present without a pastor, will have its pulpit filled by an interim pastor starting this Sunday when Dr. Earl Guinn will take charge temporarily.

Dr. Guinn is one of the outstanding preachers of the Southern Baptist convention. He is a graduate of Acadia Baptist Academy and Louisiana College. He attended Southwestern Seminary and received his Th. D. from New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary.

He has served as pastor at Sterlington Baptist Church and the First Baptist Church in Bossier City.

He served as head of the department of preaching at Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth, Tex. before he became president of Louisiana College.

Trouble In America's Schools

A fearful thought is now passing through the minds of a majority of American educators who want to see the youth of this nation grow to be useful citizens and especially, to carry on the traditions of this great republic and the principles for which this nation has always stood. That thought is the ever increasing fear of Communists in the various school systems of this nation.

Perhaps there is no better way to spread the tenets of leftism and socialism than in the schools and colleges of the country. Communists, as such, rarely teach violent revolution or even some of their main thoughts such as complete state ownership of all existing material values, not to mention state ownership of the individual person himself, rather they base their teachings on "democracy" and a "gradual rise of social progress for the American people."

All of this is aimed at one idea. The eventual rise of the Social state and the resulting possible overthrow by a revolution of Communists at the decisive moment. Consider the case of one university. Its economics, political science, public administration and journalism departments had several leftists, if that can be the correct term, as those individuals consistently preached the downfall of the capitalist system.

Those people were careful to always denounce the Soviet tactics, never denouncing the eventual aims. The Soviet Union was praised at every turn and the failures of the U. S. and its allies were always brought to bear. It is not necessary to remind the readers how many classes came before these people each day.

In each class, there were outspoken students with political leanings to the right. These students naturally spoke in defense of their nation's principles and great history. They were not only denounced by a majority of their fellow students as being "reactionary and not facing up to future progress," in one instance, they were transferred to another class, so that the left-leaning professor could consolidate his advanced desciples who were soon to graduate and in some instances, become instructors, thus furthering the Communist cause.

The right wing and center minded students carried their fight to the Governor of the state who turned the matter over to the legislature which was in session at the time. An investigating committee was then formed and with the cooperation of the Attorney General's office, the investigation was opened amid the screams of anguish from the "attacked" professors who were having their "free speech impaired" and were the targets of "ignorant farmers come to govern in the name of democracy."

Imagine, if you can, all of this taking place in a neighboring southern town. The Leftist students then packed the halls of legislature and carried many signs denouncing the investigation and terming the legislature a "fascist" body. Unfortunately, the whole matter was eventually dropped after the professors signed pledges of non-communism and after several resigned their positions.

This whole scene could have been a "sellout" in Hollywood and resembled Europe, not the U. S. Perhaps there were no actual Communists in the faculty, but it is obvious that the disciples were there.

It is not known exactly how many "card carriers" are infesting the schools and colleges of this nation, but the number is large. Each one of these devils has at his disposal, many "fellow travelers" and Socialists who, though they don't believe in violent revolution which the Communists actually preach, believe that the eventual aims are the same. Complete socialism. Even Stalin considers himself a "Socialist," not a Communist and Bolshevic, which he naturally is.

Each Communist is well trained. In fact, there are schools in this very nation which are actually operated by the Communists to train revolutionaries and agents. One of these is the Jefferson School of Social Science in New York City. Its secretary is the notorious Fredrick Vanderbilt Field. It teaches among other things, "the nature of Capitalism and why it drives towards war and fascism," "the aims of Socialism and the path towards its realization." Some of its courses are "Marxism-Leninism," "U. S. Imperialism and Puerto Rico," "Marxism and the Woman Question;" "Introduction to Marxist Philosophy;" "Marxism and Culture;" "People's Liberation movements in the American South; In Asia; in Africa;" and "leaflet and poster production."

If these aren't enough to raise the hair on your heads, it also teaches streetfighting, barricade building, strike breaking and other ideas so alien to America. It boasts that it graduates "10,000 trained revolutionaries a year." This is not the only school of its type. There are others. The Lincoln School, the Benjamin Franklin School and the George Washington School. Each one in a strategic Northern City.

Unless these universities of treachery are stamped out, America will be in a terrible position. It must be done immediately. There are enough leftists in regular American schools without these bombshells in America's midst.

Action must be taken.

New Age Of Armor

Marines in Korea tried out experimental "bullet-proof" shorts, with results not disclosed. Presumably, however, the tests were satisfactory because this twentieth century armor will be shipped to fighting troops to supplement vests of the same material already in use.

To find precedent for armored "shorts" it would be necessary to go back to the age of knighthood, when the mounted warrior was covered from head to foot with armor which made him unrecognizable. After gunpowder was discovered armor was discarded for centuries, to be readopted in 1914, when the lethal machine gun imposed such severe casualties as to force use of metallic head protection for fighting men.

Skeleton in Lady Wonder's stable has been discovered. She predicted election of Dewey in 1948.

This Christmas proved again that you can buy a man a necktie but you can't make him wear it.

The Washington Parade

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON — NEA — In an effort to find some solution for the hassle over admission of foreign ports, the Bureau of Immigration is planning to make three test runs on some of the big transatlantic liners.

A survey of a typical Queen Elizabeth landing, with 2100 passengers and a crew of 1200, showed that it took 16 immigration service inspectors five hours to clear them all under the new McCarran-Walter immigration law. That's the equivalent of 10 man-days.

What it means is that the immigration service may have to keep one inspector on board the Queens at all times, traveling back and forth across the Atlantic in five-day crossings, just to supervise admission of seamen to the U. S. for their shore leave.

Eventually it is hoped to work out some practical way to solve this problem without delay to U.S. commerce. But it raises the question of whether the immigration service now has enough inspectors to do the job.

For the past five years immigration inspectors have been boarding Pacific liners at Honolulu for the run to San Francisco. But that's a minor job compared to handling Atlantic crossings, which have the Europeans aroused.

Over The Counter

There's a story going around Washington about a couple of men sitting on stools in a restaurant, eating their lunch.

"What do you think of Harry Truman?" asked the one of them, just to make conversation.

The other looked around the restaurant and replied, "Too many people here now, I'll tell you later."

When the crowd had thinned out a bit, the question was repeated. The second man looked around again and then mumbled, "Still too many people here."

Finally they were alone in the restaurant and the counter man had gone back to the kitchen. "Now tell me what you think of Harry," came the demand.

The second man looked around again, swallowed his final bite of pie, washed it down with his last sip of coffee, wiped his mouth, leaned over and whispered into his friend's ear, "I like him."

No Encore

A number of Democratic administration officials — like Commodore Jack Small, head of the Munitions Board — tried to resign their jobs early in December.

The jig was up. They couldn't start any new policies till the new team took the floor. They wanted to take a little extra Christmas vacation before going back to their old jobs or finding new ones to make a living in this tough, but more remunerative, civilian life.

But the word that came back from the White House on all proffered resignations was, "Stay until the curtain goes down." The only exceptions made were for a few officials like ex-Stabilization Director Roger Putnam, for whom a successor — Mike DiSalle in this case — had been found.

One More Bruiser

President Truman will probably get another parting sock in the jaw when his Missouri River Basin Survey Commission files its report. The commssion is expected to criticize everyone who has had anything to do with Big Muddy's development in the past. This includes Army Corps of Engineers, Bureau of Reclamation and all those who have advocated a Missouri Valley "Authority" like Tennessee's.

The Missouri commission may recommend an interstate compact agreement to control floods, navigation, irrigation and power development. This is understood to be what General Eisenhower favors for the future, though he has approved continuing TVA.

If interstate compacts are proposed by the new President for the Missouri, Columbia and other river systems, majorities in the new Congress and other river systems, majorities in the new Congress are expected to approve them more readily than federal river management.

Inflation Of The Mind

Stabilization Director Mike DiSalle has what he considers a good reason why indirect monetary and credit controls over inflation won't work. These indirect controls are now being advocated for use by the Eisenhower administration in place of the direct price and wage controls.

From June, 1950, to February, 1951, says DiSalle, we had indirect controls, we had a surplus in the Treasury, the budget was in balance and there was no shortage of goods. Still the country went through an inflationary boom.

People drew out the money they had in savings and bought things they feared were going to be in short supply. It was psychological inflation, which doesn't follow any of the rules of indirect monetary controls.

One out of every four physically disabled men and women is now being given assistance by federal and state vocational rehabilitation programs. The aim of these programs is to train the handicapped for paid jobs. The total cost of these vocational education programs is now $33 million a year, of which the states pay a third. To place all the physically handicapped in gainful employment would cost an estimated billion dollars a year.

Mary E. Switzer, head of the Federal Security Administration's vocational rehabilitation program, says that of the 63,000 physically handicapped people placed in jobs last year, 12,000 had been on relief rolls. As public-assistance beneficiaries, they cost the taxpayers over $8 million a year. It cost $6 million to train them. Now they earn $22 million a year in wages.

Old Idea In New Garb

Major revision of the U. S. Social Security system is the object of a referendum and drive being conducted by U. S. Chamber of Commerce. The proposals are to bring the present federal old-age and retirement plan, the railroad retirement plan and all federal, state and local government civil service retirement plans into a single organization.

These plans now cover about 45 million people. The new plan would bring the 15 million employed people not now covered into the single system. Then — and this is the kicker — the aim would be to put social security on a "pay-as-we-go" system.

This would mean reducing social security payroll contributions by employers and employes to the amount needed to cover only the actual costs of old-age retirement payments and other benefits. It would eliminate the huge reserves now being built up to meet the costs of future benefits. This is an old reform idea — dressed up in a new form.

Spotlight On Hollywood

By Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD — NEA — Hollywords on the Record: Ida Lupino, on her friendship with her ex-husbands and their wives:

"Both my ex-husbands (Louis Hayward and Collier Young) are still close friends. Why not? Howard (Duff) likes them, too. We get along fine. Some people don't understand this. I suppose they think I'm a wicked woman. But you see there is something in common among Louis, Collier, his new wife Joan Fontaine, and myself. We were all searching for something and only now have found it. I have found Howard, Collier has Joan, and Louis is happily married, too."

Clifton Webb, reporting on the progress of his biography.

"I'm half-way through. Darryl Zanuck suggested that I call it 'Maybelle and Me.' My mother's name is Maybelle. So I've been using it as my title. But not too long ago, Darryl came by and said that he wanted the title back for a new movie. It turns out to be the story of a horse."

Marilyn Monroe, on diamonds: "People keep asking me if I believe that diamonds are a girl's best friend. Frankly, I don't. But after all, I'm doing 'Gentlemen Prefer Blondes' and I can't go too far away from the picture. I have to stay with it."

Stewart Granger, on acting: "I'm not an actor. I'm no good at controlling my emotions. Cagney Brando and Clift are my idea of really great actors. I wish I were half the actor that they are."

Jean Simmons, recalling her Ophelia role in "Hamlet": "I can't say that 'Hamlet' was easy. To tell the truth, I didn't understand what I was talking about half the time."

June Allyson, on her threat to retire: "I'd still love it. But Dick (Powell) is opposed to it. He keeps saying, 'Why, sweetheart, you've worked so hard for so many years. Why don't you just sit back and enjoy your stardom?'"

Barabara Payton, explaining the Greer Garson in her voice: "I'm easily influenced by others in speech. I played the part of an American girl in my British picture, 'This Woman Is Trouble,' but every now and then I'd bust out with a British accent. The director had to scream at me and remind me that I was supposed to be an American girl."

Touche!

David Niven, admitting to a feud with Gloria Swanson: "We didn't get along while we were on the stage together in 'Nina'. And I couldn't care less. On the opening night, Gloria was wearing a blue taffeta tent that she had designed herself. The whalebone came out of her bosom at one point and stuck me in a nostril."

Arlene Dahl, peeling off the "Smart-Business-Woman" tag: "I'm really not a smart business woman. It all started as a hobby. I get ideas and turn them over to people who know more about business than I do. It's no great tax on me mentally."

Joan Davis, commenting on the dearth of comediennes: "It's the toughest thing in the world for a woman to be funny. A woman comic has to have a certain warmth, like Marie Dressler had, and it must come over. Otherwise the audience doesn't give a darn. You have to make them want to root for you."

Marie Wilson, after being named as a "Venus" by a physical culture association: "Gentlemen, thank you. I get the 'physical' — but what's this about 'culture'?"

Exploring New York

The Calvary Baptist Church on West 57th Street. The steeple is crowded with people. Twelve floors of apartments over the roof ... The bankiest-looking bldg. on 5th Avenue: Tiffany's ... The bright eyed, sweatered Barnard College girls making W. 118th Street resemble a scene from a George Abbott musical ... The lively polar bears at the Bronx Zoo. The Marx Brothers in fur coats. A terrific crowd-pleaser ... The painting of Damon Runyon over his favorite corner in Lindy's. Looking down on many of the characters immortalized in his stories ... "Times Island" (at 42nd and Broadway), where you can buy a newspaper from nearly anywhere. There's a local newsstand, a stand for out-of-town gazettes, a foreign stand and stand for back numbers ... The town's most mystifying mulal: The way Broadway's glitter is embellished during a storm.

The Radio City Music Hall foyer which has the world's largest chandelier. Weighs two tons ... The charming nook in Sutton Place: A tree-lined private cobbled road ... The homes on Grove Street built in the early 1800s ... Many years ago several wealthy New Yorkers couldn't acquire boxes for the opera at the Academy of Music. They evened matters by building the Metropolitan Opera House ... Serene Washington Square — once a cemetery and public gallows ... The one movie theatre consistently showing Westerns. It is named: The New York ... Edwin Goodman, landlord of Bergdorf's, has a penthouse on the top floor of his famed store. But in order to dwell in the non-residential edifice he is listed as janitor.

The Owl, a restaurant at 49th and 6th, where showfolks breakfast until midnight. At the stroke of 12 a poster goes up to announce "Lunch Now Being Served" ... The only cafeteria in Our Town with a menu: Langley's at 50th and 6th. Its bill-of-fare is tonier than those in many swank places ... The costliest window showcase in town: Van Cleef & Arpels on 5th near 57th. More than a million dollars in gems sparkle there, seemingly unguarded ... The legend that people who work in banks enjoy the best hours. Hundreds of bank-tellers toil weekends behind soda fountains (and as cashiers in shops) to make a decent living ... One of the most relaxing spots in town: The upper deck of the Rockefeller Observation Roof — where you laze in steamer chairs — sometimes over the clouds.

The Diamond Exchange on W. 47th Street, where jewelers receive daily packages from South Africa, London and Paris, in plain wrappers (bearing 60 cents postage) often containing $600,000 worth of uncut stones ... The sector of Rockefeller Plaza where all the British shops and agencies are located. Nicknamed the English Channel ... The corner of Grand and Ludlow Streets on the lower East Side, known as Cucumber Corner to the wholesale pickle people. Millions of sweet and sour ones are loaded on trucks throughout the night. Such perfume! ... The world's largest delicatessen (Katz's) at the corner of Houston and Ludlow. They serve over 10,000 sandwiches a day — featuring 17 kinds of salami ... The unusually fresh air in the Holland Tunnel. Changed every one-and-a-half minutes.

Why New York remains the entertainment capital: More than 700 theaters seat almost half the population of Los Angeles ... The romantic touch at the Marriage Chapel in the Municipal Bldg.: Flowered wall paper and potted palms. All for $2 ... The memorial windows at the Little Church Around the Corner. They honor famed actors of the yesteryear... The most delectable food bazaar of them all: The massive Park Avenue market (in East Harlem where hourly shipments arrive from tropical places. A mouth-watering thrill ... 42nd Street, between B'way and 8th, once the scene for the Best Plays. It is now the home for 13 movie mosques where old cinemas never die ... That limousine (with the grinning skull mounted on its front) once belonged to Al Capone. The skull is the new owner's idea ... The reason the baby gorillas at the Bronx Zoo are behind glass: To protect them from your germs.

The long-time belief that New Yorkers can live next door and never know your name is no longer true. Apartment house dwellers now must contribute mutual aid in case of enemy attack. One of the Atom Bomb's little victories ... The panhandler con-man in the 70s trying to peddle his only "valuable possession," a diamong ring. He'll ask you fifty for it and will settle for five. Actually worth two-bits... The tiny shop on Lexington Avenue with this refreshing candor: "We're Not Going Bankrupt. This is just a Special Sale to help pay the Rent!" ... Those tugs that assist the mightiest liners rate more of your respect. They may look shabby but they cost $200,000 each... Maiden Lane in lower Manhattan was once named Virgin's Path. Until bluenoses objected.

The pistol Aaron Burr used to kill Alexander Hamilton is on exhibit (or was) at the Bank of Manhattan, a few blocks from his grave in Trinity Churchyard ... Trinity Church is the richest parish in the U. S. Worth over 25 million ... The term, "Almighty Dollar," by the way, was coined by Washington Irving. He was born at William & Fulton Streets — the very buckle of The Money Belt ... Wall Street got that name this way: The area was considered the last stop of Manhattan Island and Peter Stuyvesant ordered a wall built, "to keep out undesirables" .... Wall Street slopes downhill from Trinity Church to the East River and is 10 degrees off the surveyor's straight line. Even the untrained eye can detect that it is crooked.

If you are doing the Empire State's observation tower and the day is clear — you can see what 50 miles away looks like ... Those milestones along St. Nicholas Avenue (denoting the distance to City Hall) were set up by Benjamin Franklin ... Our town isn't all skyscrapers and sidewalks. It includes more than 300 farms ... Not all the chorus girls wind up at the Stork or El Morocco after the show. Many of them may be found in midtown bowling alleys — having a ball ... The shapeless crone swathed in layers of furs no matter the weather. She waddles the Trash Can Circuit — stuffing choice morsels into a costly leather container — the initial "L" monogrammed in gold ... The handless clock in the Havana-Madrid chorines' undressing rooms. It is lettered with this reminder: "You're Not Getting Any Younger."

Next time you find yourself in the lowest part of Manhattan go over to Coenties Slip. It's a street with a story right out of Shakespeare ... When the Dutch settled there a youth named Coen fell in love with the Burgomaster's daughter ... Her name was Antye and her father ordered her to wed another ... Coen (as did Romeo) killed himself in that street ... Antye didn't follow the script by taking her life but long after her husband's demise — she left instructions to be buried near her first love...The neighbors named the sector Coenantye — after the lovers — but someone couldn't remember how to spell it — and changed it to Coenties Slip.

Chaplin isn't coming back. O'Dwyer isn't coming back and La Baker isn't coming back. Looks like the only thing coming back is good times ... More than 1500 members of Equity worked in the Post Office during the holidays. For many actors (and actresses) it was the first employment in '52 ... Hal Block (the jester on the "What's My Line?" panel) and the sponors are having tifficulties. Sillehboy ... Intimates suspect Russell Nype will take the diamond and sapphire ring out of his vault and put it on Diantha Mander's finger New Year's Eve at the St. Regis ... Kim Moran's Palm Beach chums will betcha she's been secretly sealed since Summer. He is sportsman Robert Tracey. Kim was once Mrs. James A. Moffett (when he was Fed. Housing Administrator for FDR) and before Moffett she was Mrs. Joseph (Tugboat) Moran of here ... Gen. Vaughan's friend, John Maragon (just out of jail), will work for a New York realty firm.

Eisenhower's Hotel Commodore staff numbers 125 ... Mrs. E. has a staff of 7 ... Ike's readers number each letter for reply. Incoming mail load is about 3000 daily .. Hers is about 500 ... Ike's mail is marked for standard answers ... Each of Mamie's gets a personalized reply ... She has a 1600 first-name mailing list. People she knows well enough to call by their first tags ... Mrs. Ann Whitman is Ike's senior Girl Friday ... Col. Schultz is top aide ... Vandenberg keeps callers smiling with his contagious grin ... Ed Russel (of the Harrisburg Eve'g News) is one of Ike's closest friends ... An Indiana firm sent the General a tiny putting green for the living room. It has completely absorbed his fancy ... To a pair of teenage visitors from Scarsdale (Boy, 17, Girl, 15) Eisenhower said: "I hope your generation does better than ours. Ours has too many wars" ... His Iritis (an eye infection) is bothersome, but no longer agonizing, he said ... Feels zingier since he stopped smoking.

We recently radio'd that if our hopes are realized — the New Year's Eve program would feature "the most important American of them all." ... Sometime tonight we will definitely know... Jean Ravaud's Le Biarritz, a French restaurant (in the E. 60s), is a new pet for midtowners. ... Millionaire inventor Chas. Adler, jr. is gifting his speed control system (for highways) to Uncle Sam. National mags will feature articles on it. ... Anne Jeffreys and Bob Sterling open their new act at the Waldorf's Empire Room in Feb. Their lyric-duets are clever. ... Patrolman McAuliffe (one of the heroes i. that Times Square shooting spree) had his gun stolen as he lay wounded on the pavement. Shopkeepers on his 20-year beat moaned when they learned "Mac" (54) was shot. ... Rookie Connie O'Shea, 24 (on the force only 18 months), shot bandit-killer Clarence O. Sims straight to the chair. ... Order your tickets now (from me, please) for the Mad. Sq. Garden Show March 16. Proceeds to widows and families of cops and firemen in Greater N. Y.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — If you believe returning members of the new minority party, it's more fun to be a Democrat now than for some years back. Enough of the legislators arriving for this week's opening of the 83rd Congress subscribe to that view to give it validity, and to warrant some examination of the reasons.

There are few signs of gloom around the Democratic cloakrooms, and certainly no admission of crushing defeat. Democratic survivors of what Republicans cautiously refer to as the Eisenhower landslide see an excellent chance of regaining control of the house in 1954. They aren't so sure about the Senate, where the third of the seats to be contested a year from next fall belong to states which may increase the Republicans' hair line control.

After 20 years in which the Democratic party has controlled both houses of Congress in all but two, the new line of thought seems to be that, except for loss of chairmanships, the Democrats are as well off as they would be if the responsibility of running the country were still on their shoulders. The feeling of Democratic members, particularly from the South, is one of respect for the new administration, and of relief that President Truman will no longer be around to accentuate the party's natural division along sectional lines.

The Eisenhower administration, from the brief comments heard thus far, has a chance to obtain material Democratic support on much of its early legislation, especially the anticipated appropriation cuts. Action on regular bills is still months off, and there will be partisan battles in committees and on the floor, but the spirit of good will is there, and resentment over defeat of the Democratic presidential ticket is almost completely absent.

However, the best reason for the Democrats' good humor is their strength in both houses, which gives them confidence that they can block almost any measure on which there is sharp division between parties. That means Republican majority leaders must keep their members either on the floor or close by much of the time, which is always a strained situation. The Democrats have been in the same fix in several Congresses during the last 20 years, and the veterans among them smile as they recall various embarrassing situations the Republicans are likely to get themselves into.

Among the fairly representative group of Democrats who have been asked the question, Governor Adlai E. Stevenson, soon to become a private citizen, is not regarded as the actual leader of the Democratic party. Neither are they prepared to comment on the possibility of his renomination in 1956. That will be up to the Democratic party as a whole, according to a cross section of its members in Congress. Among southern Democrats, Stevenson sentiment seems lacking and in other sections it is tempered by determination to pick a winner next time.

One odd story, not uncovered here during the presidential campaign, is that Stevenson's nomination was encouraged by back stage operators in Illinois who wanted a Republican governor, and realized they had no chance if Stevenson ran for re-election. In support of this idea, it is reported on apparently good authority that a number of dissident Democrats in Illinois who were at odds with Stevenson helped whip up enthusiasm for him at the Chicago convention to get him out of the gubernatorial race. This may sound implausible, but it seems to have gained a certain credence, and undoubtedly will figure in Democratic discussions from now on.

One thing certain is that the Democrats want to put this Congress strictly on record for campaign purposes. They recall that it was the record of the 80th Congress (1947 - 49) which President Truman used as his springboard —"that terrible do-nothing 80th Congress" — in his unexpectedly successful campaign for election in 1948.

The feeling of this vigorous Democratic minority can be summed up as one of relief that the Truman administration, which provided the Republicans with their campaign issues, will shortly pass into history, giving the party a chance to catch its breath, regroup and consider the type of counterattack to be made in the next four years, with 1954 as the intermediate objective.

Girl Whose Heart Stopped Beating Is Still In Coma

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 3—UP—Pretty Carla Johnson, a 17-year-old coed who has been in a coma since Oct. 17 when her heart stopped beating eight minutes during an appendectomy, was flown home from Houston, Tex., Saturday.

She was lifted from a private plane on a stretcher at El Paso International airport and taken to the home where she grew up, in an ambulance.

She was put into her own room, from which most of the furniture has been removed and replaced with hospital equipment.

The hospital equipment includes a high, white bed and special devices to feed her through the nostrils. She has been fed thus since her operation and a special diet high in vitamins has kept her so healthy that her cheeks are rosy.

Her heart stopped— physicians call it "cardiac arrest"—while she was on an operating table in Houston. A surgeon quickly made an incision in her chest, took her heart in his hand and massaged it back to life.

But during the eight minutes that her heart was still, cells in her brain were damaged by oxygen starvation. Physicians said she will remain in a coma until the cells are repaired by nature. They don't know how long that will be.

Physicians at Houston said there was nothing they could do for her, since her regaining consciousness is only a "question of time" and told her parents they could take her home. Her father makes a modest salary as a deputy district court clerk.

Rex Baker, a Humble Oil Co., vice president, provided a company plane to take her home. Dr. Frank Cole of Houston nurse Nell Barton and Carolyn Bond and Ginger Knower, two of her friends at the University of Houston, flew to El Paso with her.

"Carla slept all the way," Miss Bond said. "We noticed that she roused several times, but she does that frequently. She still is not conscious."

Numerous times since the operation, her eyelids have fluttered and she has appeared to want to speak but has always sunk back into a stupor again.

"She stood the trip very nicely," Miss Barton, who constantly checked her pulse during the flight, said. "We were pleased that she did so nicely."

Dr. Cole went back to Houston in the plane and Dr. J. R. Floyd of El Paso took over the case. She will be attended night and day at home by her mother, Mrs. J. W. A. Johnson, her grandmother, Mrs. William A. Johnson, and a nurse.

Her father was waiting at the airport. Her mother, who has been with her almost constantly at Houston, came home Friday to help get the room prepared.

Houston churches, her sorority at the University of Houston and a fraternity have been holding regular weekly meetings to pray for her recovery.

Physicians said that when she awakens, she may remember all of her past life, including some things that happened since the operation. Or, they said, her memory may be as blank as that of a newborn baby.

No written test is required for these positions. Applicants for these positions will be rated on the basis of their training and experience as shown in their application.

Applications may be filed for these positions until further notice, with the exception of truck driver. Applications for this position will not be accepted after Jan. 16.

Phone Service Boosted In Ruston During 1952

RUSTON, Jan. 3 (Special)—Telephone service to Ruston was boosted by about eight per cent during 1952, according to a summary released here by E. D. Cowan telephone company manager.

Cowan said 312 telephones were added during the year to reach a total of 4,136 in use now. A total of 106 long distance circuits now carry calls to and from Ruston. Six of the circuits were added in 1952.

HORACE HEIDT SEEKS TALENT

More Than 90 Per Cent Of Cast Of 40 Selected This Way

More than 90 per cent of the entire cast of 40 players in the new Horace Heidt show coming to Monroe Jan. 27 are graduates of the "youth opportunity program", recruited over a period of years by Horace Heidt in his search for talented young people.

Discovered in cities and towns from coast to coast and from overseas many famous-name entertainers are enjoying the fruits of success through the direct opportunity afforded them by Horace Heidt. Talented persons in Monroe may get a chance to "strike it lucky" when Horace Heidt plays at Neville auditorium, one performance only Tuesday, January 27.

Those who think they have entertainment talent and who would like to showcase your ability before your hometown friends with Horace Heidt should get ready to audition for a representative of Horace Heidt. John J. Murphy, who will be in Monroe on January 19 and 20 for the purpose of hearing and seeing the talented youth of Monroe and surrounding territory. All contestants must be at least 14 years old, and must bring their own music and accompanist. Group contestants can number no more than four people. Auditions will be held at the broadcasting studios of KNOE in Monroe at 7:30 p.m.

Charlie Chaplin Looks For Peace And Quiet In Swiss Mansion

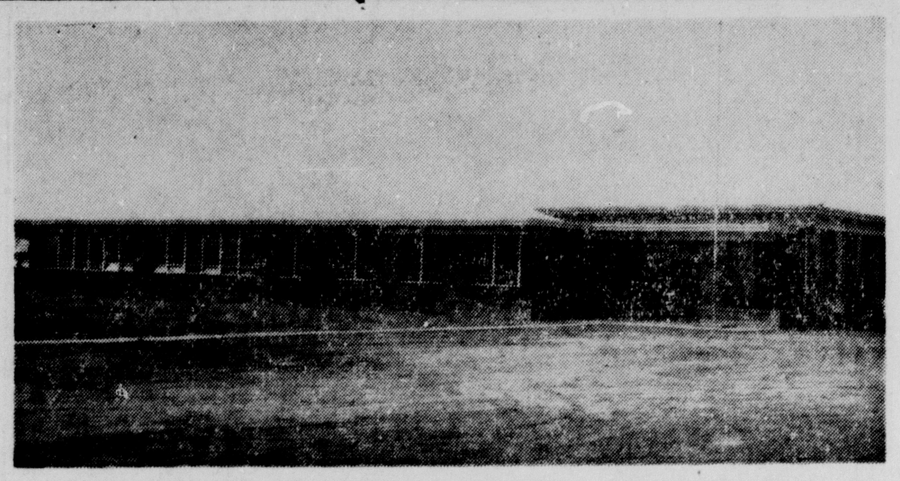

CROSIER, Switzerland, Jan. 3—UP—Charlie Chaplin said Saturday he hopes to enjoy six months' "peace and quiet" in the mansion here which he is said to have bought for about $350,000.

The British actor, who visited the house with his lawyer, said he, his wife Oona and their children will move in Monday.

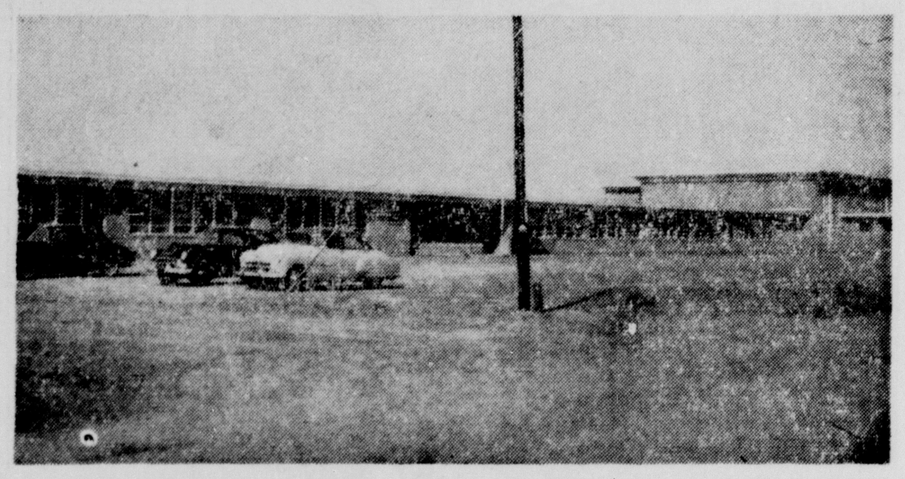

"I want to have six months' peace and quiet in this house," he said. "We will not go in for big parties and receptions, but keep to ourselves."

Chaplin would not say whether he had bought or is renting the 19th century mansion, but informed sources said he purchased it outright from Minot Crafton, a former U.A. ambassador to Berlin. Crafton's asking price was known to be $350,000.

The Chaplins are taking over the house completely furnished, including the Louis XV furniture, fine paintings and Gobelin tapestries which Crafton brought to it from his French chateau.

NEW NEGRO GRAMMAR SCHOOL—One of the outstanding buildings in the school projects for Negroes in Ouachita parish is the Swayze Elementary school. PARISH HIGH SCHOOL FOR NEGROES—The Terzia High School, located just south of the Monroe City Limits, is one of four high schools for Negroes in Ouachita parish school system. Negro School Building Program Showing Big Strides In Parish

With the beginning of another year, the Ouachita Parish School Board is well on its way towards completion of a program which will afford all students, both white and colored, with ample opportunities to further their education.

A recent tour of the schools for Negroes in Ouachita Parish revealed that this group, which in the past has been neglected, is now receiving its share of both buildings and equipment.

The three schools, Terzia High School, and Swayze and Booker T. Grammar Schools, are excellent examples of the work being done in this field by the Ouachita Parish school board. Employing 45 teachers, the three schools have a present enrollment of 1,520 students from the first grade through high school. All are built along the new lines specifically prescribed for school buildings which allow all outside rooms and complete fire protection. They are of steel construction with a brick veneer finish and all are painted in soft colors which keep eye glare to a minimum.

The Terzia High School, under the principalship of Mary F. Goins, is a combination school with 307 grammar school pupils and 161 students in the upper grades and is located on hte Richwood road south of town. Complete in every respect, the home economics department has made available to its students both gas and electric ranges. Milton C. Hall, supervisor and assistant superintendent of the parish system, explained that the two types are provided because of the high number of electric ranges both in town and in the country. The gas ranges, he said, are still the more numerous and must be provided for those following this line of study.

Done entirely in eye - resting green, the building prevents much of the glare that was prevalent in the older schools. The high school, which is in its second year of operation, is located on an eleven-acre campus. The old buildings are utilized for music and agriculture workships and class rooms.

A combination gymnasium-auditorium provides space for school assemblies or meetings as well as basketball courts and other indoor activities.

Terzia High School is the third of four Negro High schools either constructed or to be constructed by the parish school system. Others are the Myles School at Sterlington, and Central High School, located approximately three miles south of Calhoun. Contract for the Tim Tippit High School, to be built in West Monroe, will be let sometime in January, according to tentative plans.

Of the two grammar schools visited on the tour, the Booker T. is by far the largest and is presently housing 676 students, although in an emergency the maximum can be raised to approximately 900. Seventeen teachers work in the 22 classrooms, with five vacant. Because of the expected rise in school age children within the next four or five years, the building was made larger than the present demands.

Located on a 13-acre campus the building houses upper and lower elementary grades and can be separated into two distinct wings when desired. Each of the rooms has its own lockers and, for the lower grades, rest rooms are provided for each room. All rooms are finished in soft pastel colors.

The Swayze Elementary School with 376 pupils has 12 class rooms. It is similar to the Booker T. School in construction and facilities. Both have lounges, a clinic, library and a combination auditorium - gymnasium. Cafeterias are provided for all schools and each is under the direction of trained dieticians.

In both schools a constant temperature is maintained by a special heating system which operates through the tile flooring. Gauges outside determine the amount of heat to be used, thus counteracting any sudden change in outside temperature.

Although the building program of the school system is still at its peak and will not begin levelling off for another year, the prospect of facilities for Negro children in the parish is far better than at any time in the past. For now, where there used to be small ill-equipped school houses, stand modern structures with every available convenience. The full impact of these modern schools cannot be determined for several years, or until the present pupils are out of school and making their mark in the world. But a change can be noted in the slackening of truancy in the schools, a tendency which indicates this group will take advantage of the many facilities provided for them.

New Blueprint For Union Of Europe To Be Studied

STRASBOURG, France, Jan. 3 (AP)—Leading legislators from the continent and Britain gather next week to examine the latest blueprint for European union.

This blueprint is the work of a special constitutional committee which has been meeting in Paris for several weeks.

It will be debated by parliament members from the six prospective partners in the union—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—and observers from Britain and some other Western European nations.

After speeches and votes, the committee will take back its draft for probable revision and repolishing. It is due to be submitted in final form to the six continental foreign ministers by March 10.

Eighty-seven MPs of the sponsoring nations will be sitting as the special Ad Hoc Assembly which was formed last September to write a confederation charter. They will be joined by 13 observers, with power to speak but not to vote, from Britain and other member states of the Council of Europe.

The Ad Hoc Assembly will convene in the Council of Europe headquarters here Wednesday under the gavel of Assembly President Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium.

Three days later the same men will reconvene as the common assembly of the six-nation Steel and Coal Community (Schuman Plan) to hear Jean Monnet, chairman of the community's executive branch, deliver his first "State of the Union" message and offer his first annual budget.

For Schuman Plan affairs, "the State of the Union" means the present status of steel and coal industries in the vast new trading area formed by the six member states. Monnet's staff in Luxembourg City has been at work for months preparing this report.

The next act in the merger will be the establishment next month of a common market for coal, and, two months later, for steel. This will mean that, after April, the mines and mills of the group will be able to ship anywhere in the six nations without tariffs, quotas or other restrictions.

The setting up of the common markets will mark the real beginning of the Schuman Plan, officially proclaimed last August. The intervening time has been spent in filling administrative posts and organizing the new international staff.

One of the issues which plagued American founding fathers in Philadelphia more than a century and a half ago has already risen within the committee in Paris and undoubtedly will be disputed on the Assembly floor.

This is the relative status of the "big states" and the "little states." Legislators from Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg have demanded equal representation with France, West Germany and Italy in one house of the proposed two-house legislature—in effect a veto power.

Representatives of the large states argue, like the Virginians at Philadelphia, that they should have extra votes in both houses.

The rest of the blueprint envisages a joint supreme court, a foreign ministers' council and a consultative social and economic council to supervise or advise a joint nine-man executive board.

The constitution-framers picture the executive board—headed by a "premier of Europe"—as the agency to co-ordinate the Schuman Plan and the European army plan—if and when the European Defense Community is ratified.

One of the undecided points is how Britain and other democracies are to be linked with the emerging continental community. One proposal is that the outsiders should sign "contracts of association" which would define the rights and obligations of associate members of the community. Another is to handle the liaison through the Council of Europe.

JAYCEES WILL HEAR HUCKABY

Commissioner Will Outline Department Functions In Address Before Group

Monroe Commissioner of Streets and Parks Wayne Huckaby will be the guest speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Monroe-West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday. The luncheon meeting will be held on the roof of the Virginia Hotel.

Garland Shell, president of the organization, said Commissioner Huckaby would show the group both the income and outlay of the city expenses, with special emphasis on his department. The expenses and income of the department of streets and parks will be given in detail, it was indicated.

All Jaycee members are urged to attend the meeting.

Wesleyan Guild Plans Tuesday Meet At Church

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church will meet in the church chapel on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at which time Maurice Glazier will show pictures and give a narrative of his travels in the Holy Land. The showing of the films will preceed the regular business meeting.

Visitors are cordially invited to attend the meeting. Immediately following the showing of the film, visitors may feel free to leave.

LAKE CHARLES WOMAN KILLED WHILE PRAYING

Police Believe Robbery Is Motive For Street Shooting

—Mrs. Estelle Tower, 41, was shot to death last night as she knelt in prayer while staying at the home of a friend.

Mrs. Tower, with her rosary still clutched tightly in her hand, collapsed and died on the sidewalk after she had been shot in her hand, shoulder and chest.

City Detective Mark Hogan said Lake Charles police were working on the theory that robbery was the motive. Hogan said police theorized that someone who expected Mrs. Tower to collect $125 in rent had planned to rob her.

The rent had not been collected, Hogan said.

Hogan said two boys, skating at a rink nearby, saw Mrs. Hogan run out of the house and collapse on the sidewalk. The detective added that the two boys said a man dashed out of the house shortly after Mrs. Tower had come out.

Mrs. Tower, whose husband, DeWitt Tower, is in a Ruston sanitarium, was an unemployed dental assistant and masseuse. She had planned to go to work at Camp Polk, friends said today.

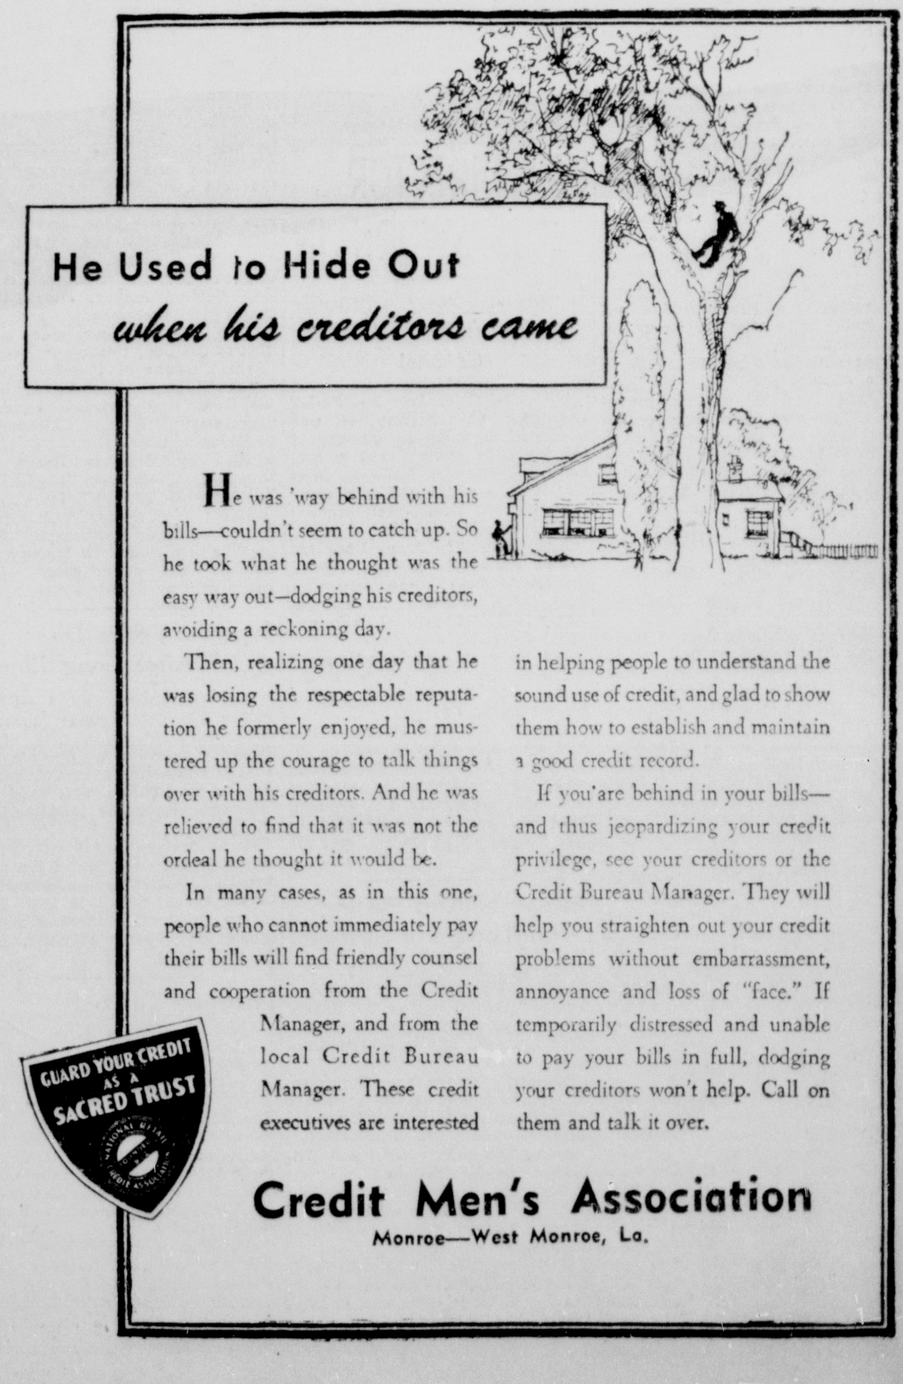

Mrs. Tower was staying at the home of Mrs. Mabel Leaggio at the time of the shooting. Mrs. Leaggio told police that Mrs. Power had told her she would prepare for bed while Mrs. Leaggio went after the Leaggio children, who were at the movies.

Mrs. Tower's only child, Dewitt "Sonny Boy" Tower, lives about a block from the Tower home. He only recently returned from military service.

Detective Hogan said the wounded woman was running in the direction of her son's home when she collapsed and died.

Hogan added that a man was arrested in the neighborhood about 20 minutes after the shooting, but said that no connection with the shooting had been established.

Stories From Louisiana History

By CARRIE MAE HARPER

By CARRIE MAE HARPER

"Now that I am a Spanish Don I must have a Spanish name," thought the young soldier, "It is lucky that I have such a simple given name. I need only to change the spelling of it."

And so Jean Filhoil, the French adventurer, became Juan Filhoil the Spanish Don serving in the Spanish army during the war against England. He had joined the Spanish army in New Orleans and fought in the West Florida campaign. Later he served as commandant of the Post of Opelousas.

Then came the assignment which started Juan Filhoil on his life's work.

"You are to establish a post in this region," Don Estevan Miro (the Spanish governor of Louisiana) told him, pointing to a map.

"On this river," asked Filhoil, studying the map.

"Yes. The Ouachita River," said the governor.

Don Juan Filhoil arrived in northern Louisiana about 1780 (the date is not certain) and established a post at Ecore a Fabri. Later he moved the settlement down to Prairie des Canots, the present site of Monroe, and built a fort at approximately the present site of the Monroe Steam Laundry on South Grand Street in Monroe. He called the fort "Miro," naming it for the Spanish governor.

Don Juan served as commandant at Fort Miro for fifteen years. The region was sparsely settled and the character of most of the settlers was far from perfect. The commandant never succeeded in getting them to cooperate with him fully and the settlement grew slowly though it was never molested by Indians.

Governor Miro was succeeded by Governor Carondolet and Don Juan now had trouble with the government as well as the settlers. Carondelet granted a huge tract of land to Baron de Maison Rouge and Don Juan was afraid that Maison Rouge was trying to take his command from him.

Then the Baron died, leaving his estate in such a muddle that it took the courts years to straighten it out.

There was an inventory of the Maison Rouge estate but this was destroyed by Dominque Bouligny and Juan Filhoil was furious. The governor paid no attention to his letters of complaint, however, and Don Juan resigned as commandant.

He did not leave Louisiana but remained here as a planter, living on the land he had received as partial payment for his services to the Spanish government.

Don Juan had tried to bring some culture into the region by teaching his own children and other children at the fort to read and write. He was very interested in the welfare and education of young people and he donated the first plot of ground to be used for a school in Monroe.

On September 5, 1811, he divided up all the land he owned on the east side of the river into 300-feet square lots and named the town Fort Miro (later changed to Monroe in honor of the first steamboat to arrive there). He donated one lot for a courthouse square and one for a school.

Fort Miro became the largest town in the region and was the capitol of the Ouachita territory after Louisiana was sold to the United States.

Don Juan died in 1821 and was buried in the cemetery at Linderman plantation, the home of his daughter. When Filhoil Avenue was opened in West Monroe the burial ground was destroyed and nothing remains of the tombstone and fence that marked the final resting place of this man who gave most of the years of his life and a great deal of his property and finally even his grave to the cities of Monroe and West Monroe.

FINISH MAILING US TAX FORMS

District Commissioner Of Revenue Says 55 Million Pieces Sent Out

Morris A. Fremming, district commissioner of internal revenue for this area, today reported that the revenue service has completed its annual mailing of federal income tax forms—an operation that involved approximately 55 million pieces of mail.

He urged taxpayers who have received their forms at this early date to prepare and file their income tax returns well before the March 15 deadline.

The bureau's huge mail operation was simplified this year, Mr. Fremming pointed out, by the adoption of a new "booklet" assembly of the required forms and instruction material. Labor and material savings from the use of the new income tax booklets are expected to amount to about $351,000.

All of the tax forms, schedules and instructions that formerly were manually assembled, folded, and stuffed into business-size envelopes are contained in the new booklets, which were mailed without envelopes, from the bureau's processing branch in Kansas City, Mo. They were tested in Indiana and Massachusetts during the last filing period, and the results were extremely satisfactory. In adopting this system on a nation-wide scale, Mr. Fremming said, the bureau hopes to make the taxpayer's task easier and also realize substantial savings on the huge operation.

About 42 million persons received the Form 1040 booklets. Farmers and self-employed persons received appropriate additional forms in their booklets. Form 1040A, a single sheet with instructions on the back, was mailed to persons who filed on this form last year.

When filing their returns, Mr. Fremming said, taxpayers should detach from the booklet, and fill in, those forms required by the nature of their income, and mail them to the director of internal revenue for their district. The tax forms in the booklet are adequate in nearly all cases, but additional separate forms, when needed, can be obtained from any director's office and also from most banks and post offices.

The features of the booklet most welcomed by taxpayers are its convenience the larger type face used in the instructions, and that fact that the forms are not folded in mailing. Internal revenue officials say that the booklets seem to facilitate quicker and easier filing of returns and they hope that their use will also help reduce the number of inaccurate or faulty returns.

Savings in time and money have been made possible under the new mailing plan through the elimination of outer envelopes and a 50 per cent reduction in the manual labor required in the mailing process. The assembling operation formerly assumed by the Bureau has been eliminated because high speed presses of the Government Printing Office print and assemble the booklets. The addressing operation has been speeded up through the use of an automatic label machine, which applies address slips at the rate of 38 to 60 a minute.

Under the old mailing procedures, the cost of mailing income tax orms this season would have been $371,000 for labor plus $258,000 for envelopes. Booklet mailing will cost approximately $278,000.

Fourth Drug Company Files Suit Against N. O. Super Markets

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 3 (AP)—A fourth drug company filed suit today against Schwegmann Bros., Super Markets for alleged violations of fair trade price agreements.

The suit was filed in federal district court yesterday by the Mathiesen Chemical Corp., a Virginia firm manufacturing Squibbs pharmaceutical products.

The drug company asks for a permanent injunction and a temporary injunction pending final legality of the practice, and requested "other . . . relief as the court may deem proper . . . ."

Eli Lilly Co., Johnson and Johnson and Personal Products Corp., are the other three drug concerns which have filed suit against Schwegmann.

Bank Stockholders Set Election At Vidalia

FERRIDAY, Jan. 3 (Special)—Fred Falkenheiner, vice - president and cashier of the Concordia Bank & Trust Company, of Vidalia, announces that the annual meeting of stockholders of the bank will be held in the board room of the bank building on Tuesday, Jan. 13, for the annual election of officers for the coming year.

WAC DIRECTOR IS SWORN IN

Irene Galloway Immediately Promoted To Colonel

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3—UP—Lt. Col. Irene O. Galloway, 44, was sworn in Saturday as director of the Women's Army Corps to succeed Col. Mary A. Hallaren. Miss Galloway, a native of Carrol county, Iowa, was immediately promoted to colonel.

Army Secretary Frank Pace Jr., pinned the eagles of a full colonel on Miss Galloway's shoulders after Maj. Gen. William E. Bergin, Army adjutant general, administered the oath.

Col. Halleran automatically steps down to lieutenant colonel if she remains in the WACs. Her plans have been kept secret.

Lt. Col. Ruby E. Herman, who had been scheduled to become difector of the WACs, disclosed this week that she decided to become a housewife instead. Lt. Col. Herman said she married movie director Art Flannery Nov. 25 and quit the service.

House Mourns Passing Of Three Old Members

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3—UP—The House expressed its "profound sorrow" Saturday over the deaths of three of its members since the 82nd Congress adjourned last Summer.

Members of the new 83rd Congress spent most of the afternoon of the opening day eulogizing the late Reps. E. E. Cox (D-Ga., Adolph J. Sabath (D-Ill.) and William G. Stigler (D-Okla.).

They also paid tribute to the late Sen. Brien McMahon (D-Conn. who died during the congressional recess.

Democratic leader Sam Rayburn (Tex.) described Cox and Sabath as great Americans who devoted their lives to their country.

DOCK STRIKES SOFTENED BY HOLIDAY LULL

No Picketing Of Piers Has Started As Yet; No Settlement Seen

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—An AFL dock specialists' strike for higher wages caught the spirit of the holiday week-end lull today.

There was no settlement—but neither was there any picketing of piers.

The strike is being conducted by three small locals of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association composed of weighers, samplers and scalemen. They handle bulk cargo such as coffee, sugar, cocoa bans and hides among other things.

Although other longshoremen's locals unloaded ships around New York's bg harbor today, no cargo was transferred from piers to trucks and lighters.

The strike by the specialists' locals has affected cargo handling to a lesser extent at Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Hoboken, N. J., and Yonkers, N. Y.

Federal mediators will resume hearings on the case tomorrow.

The locals have turned down an employer offer of a 25 cents an hour wage increase. Their wage demands have not been disclosed.

The mediation service said current wage rates for a 40-hour week are samplers, $75; weighers, $88; and scalemen, $80. Only about 500 men are involved in the strike.

In Washington, Rep. Roosevelt (D-Lib-NY) introduced legislation calling for a congressional investigation of racketeering on the New York waterfront.

For weeks the New York State Crime Commission has been probing harbor conditions and receiving sworn testimony about a reign of terror and gangsterism along the waterfront.

'DOROTHY DIX' AMONG BEST 10

Reviewer Expresses Opinion Biographical Books Best Of Year

"Dear Dorothy Dix," widely popular new book by Harnett T. Kane of New Orleans, has been selected among the ten best biographies of the year by John K. Hutchens, nationally known book reviewer of the New York Herald Tribune. Mr. Kane's book was cited in the critic's annual selection of outstanding volumes of 1952.

A review of the Dorothy Dix biography, written by Lady Stahl, appeared in the Monroe Morning World soon after its publication on October 13.

Mr. Kane has made several appearances in Monroe under auspices of Pilot International, women's service club which sponsored reviews of his books.

Mr. Hutchens noted that in his opinion biographical books were the best of the year. In praising "Dear Dorothy Dix" he called attention to the fact that it presented much "hitherto unknown data" on the private life of the Southern woman who was called America's Mother Confessor."

"Dear Dorothy Dix" reached the Herald Tribune's national best seller lists in only three weeks after publication and has remained on the lists ever since that time It was chosen on numerous Christmas lists of the year, and Helen Hayes may play the part in a stage version. Mr. Kane wrote the book with the collaboration of Ella Bentley Arthur, Miss Dix's confidential secretary.

Cited as the other nine best biographies of the year were: "Sam Clemens of Hannibal," by Dixon Wecter; "The Glitter and the Gold," by Consuelo Vanderbilt Balsan; "Winston Churchill," by Robert L. Taylor; "I Live Again" by Princess Ileana of Romania; "Nell Gwin," by J. H. Wilson; "Royal Bob" by C. H. Cramer; "Through Charley's Door," by Emily Kimbrough; "Papa's Table d'Hote," by Maria Sermolino" and "Bullfighter from Brooklyn," by Sidney Franklin.

Japanese Prince Dies After Long Illness

TOKYO, Sunday, Jan. 4 —UP—Prince Chichibu, younger brother of Emperor Hirohito, died early Saturday morning at his seaside villa in Kugenuma near Yokohama after a long illness with tuberculosis complicated by jaundice. He was 50.

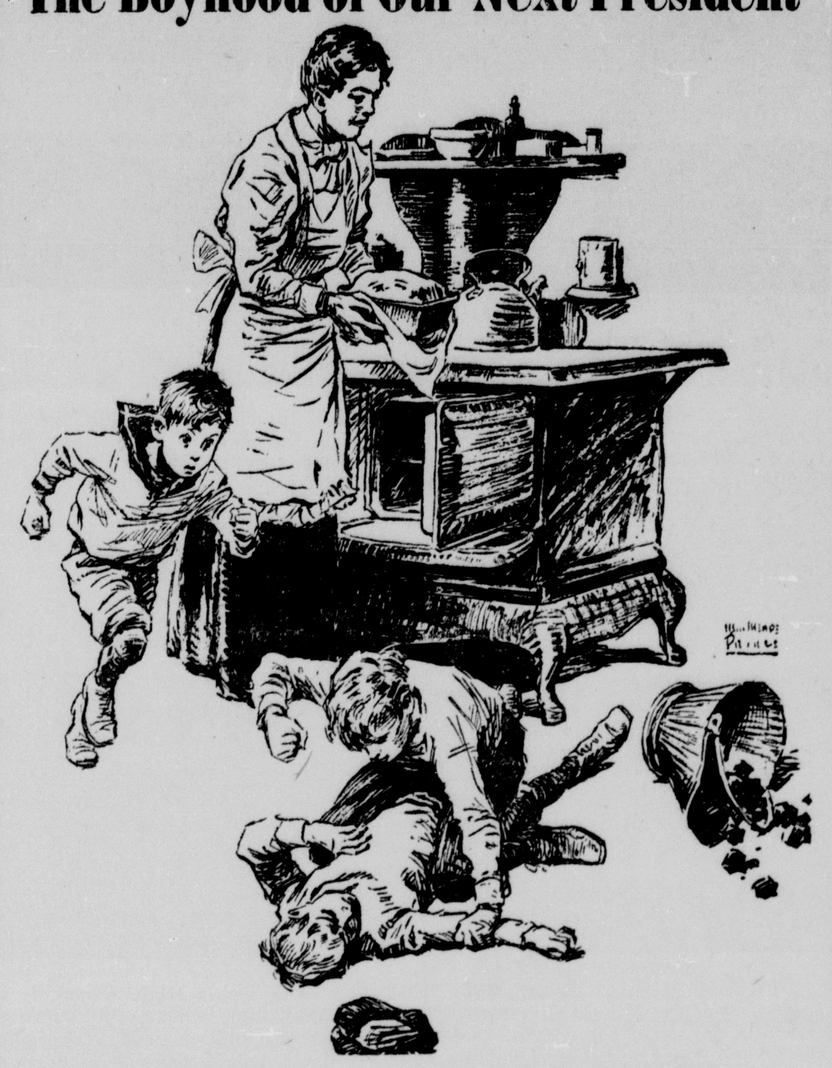

He is survived by his wife, Princess Setsuko, daughter of the late Tsuneo Matsudaira, ambassador to the United States in 1927. The prince, unlike his three brothers including Emperor Hirohito, had no children.

Networks To Pool Facilities For Inaugural Ball

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3—UP—The Republican inaugural committee said Saturday that the four major television networks will pool their facilities on the evening of Jan. 20 to televise both sections of the Eisenhower inaugural ball as a public service.

One section will be held in the new Georgetown University gymnasium and the other in the local armory. President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower plans to attend both.

The Boyhood of Our Next President

This is the fourth of a series of intimate sketches of President-elect Eisenhower's boyhood, adolescence and young manhood in Abilene, Kansas. Drawings by the late William Meade Prince Adapted from "The Soldier of Democracy" by Kenneth S. Davis.

FIGHTING IN THE FAMILY . . . Like most families with a lot of boys, the high-spirited Eisenhower youngsters had their normal share of family fights. Their mother seldom interfered.

"They have to get it out of their system," she once told a visitor.

One Saturday morning, while Mrs. Eisenhower was doing the week-end baking in the old coal stove, Edgar and Dwight started mixing it up in the kitchen. They rolled across the floor, knocking over the coal scuttle. Earl ran in from the dining room. Ed was sitting astride Dwight, giving him an unmerciful beating. Earl started across the kitchen to help.

"Let them alone," said "Ma" Eisenhower sharply, without turning from the stove.

Five minutes later Dwight and Edgar were friends again, playing together in the yard.

60 KILLED, 100 INJURED IN RIOT

New Year's Day Colombian Uprising Put Down By Government

BOGOTA, Colombia, Jan. 3 —UP—Nearly 60 persons were killed and more than 100 wounded when "bandits" attacked the Palanquero air base before dawn on New Year's Day in a vain attempt to seize arms, ammunition and food, it was announced Saturday.

Lt. Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, commander in chief of the armed forces, said "more than 50" bandits and seven members of the air base garrison were killed in the clash. One raider was captured.

Among the attackers killed in the battle was the "notorious murderer Benito Cely, who had terrorized farmers in the region" (about 80 miles northwest of here), Rojas said.

(Official statements did not identify the bandits, but it appeared likely that they were members of the opposition liberal party, which has been waging increasingly fierce guerrilla warfare against the government for the last six years.)

The general said the bandits attacked at 3 a.m. Thursday, when all of the garrison except the regular sentries had gone to bed after celebrating New Year's.

The sentries quickly roused the sleeping soldiers, Rojas said, and the bandits were driven off after a brief but bloody battle along the air base runways. Five soldiers, a non-commissioned technician and a sailor were killed.

Rojas, newly returned from a tour of the air base, said no damage was inflicted on planes or installations there.

He said the bandits left 33 dead on the field.

"Authenticated information indicates that additional dead and wounded were carried away by the bandits who fled, while some bodies were thrown into the Magdalena River," he said. "Thus, it is believed that more than 50 bandits were killed and more than 100 wounded."

BERSERK NEGRO ENDS OWN LIFE

Shoots 3 Neighbors, Clubs Another With Axe Before Suicide

HOUSTON, Jan. 3—UP—An elderly Negro grocer who Friday night shot three neighbors, clubbed another with a double-bit axe then tried to kill himself, finally succeeded Saturday at Jefferson Davis hospital.

The body of Charley Lenard, 56, was found strangled by a venetian blind cord he had wrapped around his neck at his hospital bed early Saturday.

Friday night, Lenard ran amuk, shot Joseph Goodie, 49, in the neck and face, with a .410 gauge shotgun. Then he shot Goodie's son, Jimmy, 12.

Lenard then went into a home at the rear of his store and shot Delia Smart, 60, in the left leg after aiming first at the woman's husband, Jesse.

Jesse Smart and Lenard fought over the gun which Mrs. Smart finally grabbed and struck the berserk grocer. Lenard picked up the axe and clubbed Smart.

PUT RAIDERS TO FLIGHT

Two White Women Attacked In Africa, Kill 3 Natives, Wound Another

NAIROBI, Kenya, Jan. 3—UP—Two white women, one of them a star tennis player, fired on a band of Mau Mau terrorists who tried to raid their lonely farm home Friday night, killing three of the attackers, wounding a fourth and putting the rest to flight.

Mrs. Dorothy Raynes-Simson, a well-known South African tennis player and Mrs. Kitty Heselburger, a widow, were listening to the radio in their Nyeri district home when the gang of Kikuyu natives rushed into the long room, brandishing short swords.

Raiders caught Mrs. Heselburger by the throat and threw her over a chair. Mrs. Simson seized her revolver and fired two shots at a man who was running at her with a sword. He staggered a short way and fell dead.

Mrs. Heselburger struggled free from her attackers, took another revolver, and joined Mrs. Simson in a chase after two other raiders. She took a pot shot at a moving figure in the dark. He was shot dead. They later identified him as their cook.

A third dead raider was found outside the kitchen door.

The two women then went back to the living room and reloaded their revolvers.

FORD COMPANY 50 YEARS OLD

$50,000,000 Engineering And Research Center To Be Dedicated

Ford Motor Company is 50 years old this year.

To mark its 50th anniversary, the company has planned a series of commemorative events during 1953.

Highlight of the anniversary year will be dedication of the company's $50,000,000 Engineering and Research Center in Dearborn, Mich. The ceremony is set for June 16, date of the company's incorporation in 1903. It will be followed by a state dinner to be attended by several hundred national figures.

On the same day, local company officials, Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers and their wives will attend anniversary banquets in 33 United States cities in which Ford maintains plants, parts depots, and sales offices.

A pictorial book, "Ford at Fifty," will be published by Simon and Schuster in April. A portrait of an industrial enterprise taken in its 50th year, the book graphically depicts the American environment and the people who make possible the growth and success of such an institution.

Approximately 500,000 copies of the book will be produced. Each of Ford's 160,000 employes will receive one. The publication was edited by Joseph J. Thorndike, Jr., formerly managing editor of "Life," and was written by Joe McCarthy, former managing editor of "Cosmopolitan." Pictures for the book were taken by several noted photographers including Philippe Halsman, "Life" cover photographer.

Theme of the anniversary, "Fifty Years Forward on the American Road," will be featured in a two-hour television show and an hour-long radio broadcast the evening of June 15.

The telecast will be carried on two major networks. The show will be produced by Leland Hayward, who presented such Broadway hits as "South Pacific" and "Mr. Roberts." The recorded radio program, to be aired on one major network, will be adapted from the television show.

The Ford Archives, largest institution of its type in industry, will be dedicated early in May. Some of the country's leading scholars, archivists, and historians are expected to attend the ceremony.

A motion picture, which centers around the anniversary theme, will be premiered in Dearborn during May. The first audience will be composed of top members of Ford's management and their wives.

The Rotunda, the world's largest privately-owned industrial display building, will be reopened as a public showplace around June 1. It was converted to an office building during World War II. Theme of its exhibit will be "Progressive Research and Engineering."

United States dealers will hold open-house programs for the public in June. Employes and their families will participate in "birthday party" events in the Detroit area and all branch locations in July and August.

In late 1953, the initial volume of an official Ford history will appear. Tentatively titled, "The Rise of Henry Ford," the publication will cover the period from 1866 to 1920. Author is Allan Nevins, twice a Pulitzer prize winner for biography. Mr. Nevins will write several more detailed volumes dealing with the life of Henry Ford and history of Ford Motor Company during the next three years.

The "Ford Times" and "Lincoln - Mercury Times," company magazines, will feature the anniversary in their June editions.

Approximately 2,000,000 anniversary calendars, featuring seven Norman Rockwell illustrations, were distributed in December. All Ford employes received copies. Ford's world-wide dealership organization distributed approximately 1,750,000 of the calendars, which were printed in seven languages.

WILL CONTINUE ON IN MEXICO

Ex - Ambassador O'Dwyer And Wife Find No Solution To Marital Rift

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 3 —UP—Retired Ambassador William O'Dwyer flunked his biggest diplomatic test Saturday when his young ex-model wife moved in with friends who said she might seek a divorce.

After spending the Christmas and New Year's holidays apart, Sloan Simpson O'Dwyer and her politician-husband were reported "unable" to find a solution to their marital rift.

They refused to discuss their separation and O'Dwyer angrily denied Mexican press reports a quickie divorce decree already has been granted.

But the 32-year-old New York model took up residence "temporarily" with friends here upon her return from a lengthy Acapulco vacation with her mother that began when O'Dwyer resigned as ambassador Dec. 6.

O'Dwyer was housed in bachelor quarters in a luxury apartment building.

Friends said the former New York mayor admitted privately the marriage is "all washed up." One intimate said the O'Dwyers are "living under a friendly agreement —a separation sanctioned by the Catholic church."

O'Dwyer was busy setting up a public relations firm and "looking into" other business prospects that made it unlikely the 62-year-old politician will return in the near future to New York, where municipal investigators are anxious to quiz him about the growth of crime during his regime as mayor.

YOUTH KILLS GRANDMOTHER

Says He Shot Aged Woman Because She Complained About His Drinking

HARRISON, Ark., Jan. 3—UP—An 18-year old youth who can't read or write shot and killed his 68-year old grandmother at Red Rock, Ark., after, he claimed, she told him he "shouldn't drink" and shot him.

Clinton Dodson, the grandson, was treated for a shotgun wound over the right eye in Jasper, Ark., and lodged in Boone county jail here on open charges. A coroner's jury Friday night ordered him held for murder.

Sheriff Roy Raulston, who took office two days ago, said the rear top of Mrs. Dora Dodson's head was blown off by a charge from a 16-gauge shotgun and it appeared, he said, that she was shot from behind.

Raulston said that Clinton was illiterate and was unable to work because of a "bad nervous system." He said the youth told him that he had been drinking and when he came home Mrs. Dodson began "nagging" him.

$250 MILLION PAID TO VETS OF KOREAN WAR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 —UP— Mustering out pay has poured more than $250 million into the pockets of 1 million Korean war veterans, it was learned Saturday.

These are men called into service since start of the war. They are entitled to such pay on this basis: $100 for less than 60 days active service in the United States; $200 for 60 days or more service in the United States, and $300 for 60 days service or longer with at least one day's duty overseas.

The services would not say how many men are entitled to mustering pay. But Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett said 714,000 men were released in the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1952, and 1 million more will have been released when the current fiscal year ends next June 30.

Personnel released since July 16, 1952 receive their muster-out pay at the place of discharge without having to make application. Those released before then had to make application in writng either to the Army Finance Center, Indianapolis, Navy Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Cleveland, Air Force Finance Center, Denver, Marine Corps headquarters, Washington, D. C., or Coast Guard headquarters, Washington.

The Army is the only service with up to date records showing the number receiving pay both before and after the application rule was changed. Its records show that through last Dec. 23, 435,516 Army men received $112,876,100.

The Navy said its latest figures showed that 201,065 applications had been received and 173,605 processed, with payments totalling $46,421,300.

The Marine Corps received 110,000 applications through Nov. 30 and processed 92,109 and paid out $20,020,400.

The Air orce received 131,128 claims and paid 98,634 a total of $22,096,600 through Dec. 30.

Except for the Army, the services said that since payments are now made at the point of discharge records here are not up to date.

CRIME GENIUS BACK IN JAIL

Officer Has Sinking Feeling; He May Have To Return Him To N. C.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 3—UP—C. L. Miller whose job it is to return fugitives to North Carolina had a sinking feeling Saturday. He heard that James B. Wilson is back in the lockup.

Wilson, a safecracker by trade and an escape artist by genius, was arrested by Chillicothe, Ohio police while engaged in his profession.

Miller looks forward with considerable dread to the day Ohio police dispose of their case against Wilson and advise North Carolina the man is available to finish out a 7-10 year sentence for burglary. Miller likely will be delegated to return Wilson.

Twice before Miller has gone to other states to pick up the wily Wilson. And twice Wilson has escaped, leaving the officer with a case of embarrassment and a set of empty handcuffs.

Wilson first escaped from the Orange county prison camp in August, 1950 He was arrested in Texas and Miller went to get him.

They got as far as Birmingham, Ala., on the way back. There Miller glanced up from his newspaper and he was startled to see a pair of locked handcuffs—but no longer around Wilson's slim wrists.

Last August the FBI and Texas police arrested Wilson again, this time in Dallas, with a big Cadillac, a girl friend and $2,600 in cash.

Miller went to get him, taking along stout chain as well as handcuffs. At Memphis, Tenn., while changing trains, Miller had Wilson locked up in jail.

The two continued to Atlanta. Miller tucked Wilson into an upper berth and chained him. At Gainesville, Ga., Miller peeped at the prisoner. Wilson was sleeping soundly.

"Boy, I've got you now," Miller said.

Near Greenville, S. C. Miller gave the chain into the upper berth a tug. It fell down. Wilson was gone.

Miller said he dreads another train ride toward North Carolina with Wilson.

Wilson isn't much of a conversationalist, Miller said. He sits quietly and thinks.

And Miller knows now what he's thinking about.

THERMOMETER REMOVED — Charles Brun Chapman, 38, merchant marine engineer, shows his wife at New Orleans the nine-inch, brass-bound steam thermometer which he claims was sewed up in his abdomen for three days. He says he accidentally fell on the instrument aboard the SS Marion Lykes where he is chief engineer. A first operation, he tells, failed to reveal the thing, but pain persisted and X-rays detected the foreign body. (AP Wirephoto)

First Day Of New Congress Turns Out To Be Confusing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—All was confusion on Capitol Hill today. For the 83rd Congress opened, and the average observer, who couldn't tell the congressmen without a program, didn't have any.

It was especially difficult in the House, where 81 eager faces were on display collectively for the first time.

A favored few (newspaper men, photographers, congressmen) had a little pocket book, with pictures of congressmen in it. It wasn't the answer. Try to pick out a face from a book with 500 faces, you'll get the idea.

Other than the difficulty in identification, everything went smoothly as the Republican team took over in both houses.

There were such interesting sidelights as (A) famous visitors to the Senate, (B) an official verification that the Republicans won the election, and (C) the good news that the U. S. Senate is operating under the Constitution.

The famous Senate visitors were Mrs. Bess Truman, whose husband has had a job on Pennsylvania Avenue for the past seven years, and Mr. Richard Nixon.

Mr. Nixon formerly was Sen. Nixon and soon will be Vice-President Nixon. Right now he's a private citizen, but he still attracted considerable attention when he dropped in on his old senatorial pals. And even though Mrs. T. soon will be leaving the White House, she was carefully pointed out in her front row seat in the gallery.

The House went through the formality of deciding in effect, whether the Republicans or the Democrats won the most House seats in November. The side which won the most seats, would get to name the new House speaker.

Well, the votes were painstakingly counted, and to the surprise of nobody, Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, a Republican, was the winner.

The Senate did this part of the job much more simply.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio proposed that Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire be president pro tempore of the Senate. Speaking for the Democrats, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas suggested that the name of Sen. Walter George of Georgia be substituted for Bridges'.

The Democrats yelled yes and the Republicans no when it was put to a vote.

"In the opinion of the chair," said Vice President Barkley, "the noes have it—by a narrow margin."

The good news that the Senate is operating under the Constitution came during a discussion of a proposed rules change.

This dialogue took place:

Sen. Russell of Georgia: "What rules are we operating under now?"

Sen. Anderson of New Mexico: "Are we not operating under the Constitution?"

Russell: "I think we are, and hope we continue to do so."

Not only were things done constitutionally today; they also were done on a more loving note than usual.

"I love this house," said Speaker Martin.

And in the Senate, Barkley gallantly kissed the Republican hand of Sen. Margaret Smith of Maine.

state by the troopers.

As in all raids conducted so far, the troopers were courteous to the operators and the customers. The five arrested men showed no emotion as they were led off.

However, three women detained in the gambling room broke down in sobs. They were later released. Troopers said they questioned them to see if they had anything to do with operating any of the games.

More then 250 people were at the club playing bingo when the troopers arrived. More were in the club's bar and dance hall.

"Isn't this exciting," said an elderly woman as she watched the troopers go into action. Then she got in line and cashed in her chips —winner.

DODGE APPOINTED BUDGET DIRECTOR

Ike Asks Detroit Banker To Attend Cabinet Meetings

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 —UP— President-elect Eisenhower Saturday named Detroit Banker Joseph M. Dodge as his budget director and raised the job as far as he could toward Cabinet rank.

In appointing Dodge, who has been acting as his liaison with the Budget Bureau since last Nov. 9, the President-elect asked Dodge to attend Cabinet meetings and report directly to him.

This request to sit in with the top command in the new administration reflected Eisenhower's desire to give him "as much Cabinet status as he can," said James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary.

LOOK FOR NEW MEANS TO AID CONVICT WORK

Incentive System May Put Extra Premium On Angola Labor

By JAMES McLEAN

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Louisiana prison leaders, occupied with overhauling ill-kept Angola, are looking toward an incentive system putting extra premium on convict good work and conduct.

Reed Cozart, assistant director of institutions, says he has written other penitentiaries asking how their incentive plans work, their advantages and disadvantages.

Cozart is working toward possible recommendations to be made to the next Legislature on the subject.

Prisoners got wind of the move, still in the discussion stage, and their new weekly, "The Angolite," dug into the news with enthusiasm.

Joining Cozart early next week for an expert scrutiny of his entire program will be his old boss, Director James V. Bennett of the U. S. Bureau of Prisons, from Washington, D. C. Cozart is former director of the Federal Correctional Institute at Seagoville, Tex.

"What we want," explained Cozart, talking about incentives, "is a reward for everybody to work up to, to give them some incentive so those with good behavior or excellent work can earn better prison jobs and time off from their sentences."

An incentive salary, maybe up to $7 a month, also is being discussed. It would come from profits of prison industries. This, too, would require legislative action.

"Now, everybody is treated alike no matter what their prison behavior or adjustment," Cozart commented.

"We're thinking in terms of a graduated rate that would help long-termers as well as short-termers. At present, only first offenders can get twice as much time as multi-offenders.

"It would improve morale of prisoners, it would encourage them to learn skilled work—it would go far toward building a good rehabilitation program."

Rehabilitation means guiding an inmate toward a more useful life so he won't burden taxpayers again by turning against society as soon as he is freed.

State law gives prisoners convicted of felonies a chance to apply for parole after serving one-third of their terms. First offenders with sentences less than five years can be considered for parole at any time.

Also, the law gives prisoners a chance to earn "single good time" and for first offenders, "double good time," to help them whittle down their prison stretch.

For example, a first offender with a good record and serving a five-year sentence can get one year and nine months trimmed off.

A repeat offender, serving five years, can get 10 months and 15 days off.

What Cozart and acting Warden M. H. Sigler are thinking about, in addition, is the incentive salary and good time play by which prisoners for the first time could earn even more time off.

This would be called "meritorious good time" or "meritorious pay." Under this plan, for instance, now used in the federal system, a convict might add two extra days a month to his good time.

As for incentive pay, a skilled worker might get as much as $7 a month, a clerk $5, an unskilled worker $3.

WILLIAMS' RITES SET FOR SUNDAY

Hillbilly Singer's Funeral Services To Be Held In Montgomery

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 3 —UP—Funeral services for hillbilly singer Hank Williams will be held in the city auditorium here Sunday, with a chorus of "Grand Ole Opry" entertainers singing one of his favorite hymns.

Relatives of the 29-year-old singer-composer, whose mournful ballads were known to thousands of lovers of mountain music, said they engaged the auditorium to afford Williams' admirers a chance to attend his funeral.

Williams' body lay in state at his mother's home here Saturday. Long lines of the curious filed by for a last look at the composer of such songs as "Cold, Cold Heart," "Lovesick Blues," and "Jambalaya."

Williams died on New Year Day while his chauffeur was driving him through West Virginia enroute to an Ohio singing appearance. A coroner's jury investigating his death is awaiting an autopsy report before resuming its hearings.

"A Baptist minister will conduct services for Williams at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Plans call for the rendition of Williams-composed hymn, "I Saw the Light," by a chorus of entertainers from the "Grand Ole Opry" radio show on which the hillbilly singer starred.

RECREATION IS BACK IN SWING

Basketball, At 3 Gyms, Will Be Played Every Night

The recreation program sponsored by the Monroe Recreation department gets back into full swing this week after the holidays.

Basketball will be played every night, with L. T. I., Ouachita and Selman Field gym being used. Square dancing will start Thursday night with beginners coming at 7 o'clock and the more advanced dancers at 8 p. m.

The youth program, for boys and girls 13 years of age and under, will have the weekly program on Friday nights, starting at 6:30. The Dramatic club will have its weekly rehearsals on Saturday morning, from 9 a. m. until 10 a. m., under the direction of Mrs. Kay Causey. The stamp club will meet at 3 with George Buckley in charge. The Teen Age club meets every Saturday night, starting at 7:30. The Recreation Center is located at 113½ Catalpa Street. Everyone is invited to take part in the programs sponsored by the Recreation Department.

The white center is open every day from 1 until 9 p. m.

The colored program will be announced later but the center is open each day at 1 until 9 under the direction of Minion Foster. The youth program at the colored center is on Thursday night and the teen-age club on Saturday night. The colored center is located at 703 Reed street in Bryant's Addition.

GOODBYE BRACES . . . HELLO SKATES—Pam O'Neil (left) and her sister Pat, this year's March of Dimes poster children, try on their first ice skates. Both little girls were stricken by polio when the 1948 epidemic struck their hometown, Raleigh, N. C., and both received swift aid from the March of Dimes. They have made a good recovery and Pat, who was hit hardest, has shed her leg braces — for skates. The 1953 March of Dimes continues through January.

cide as to the income tax allowance for the year concerned. Should it go with the old year or be classed and allowance made for the new year when returns are computed?

We have never before heard that this question had been raised. In Monroe it has been thoroughly established that Kenneth Mark Bassett belongs to the new year, for he arrived at exactly 12:01 a.m.

We did not realize that an aged newspaper would create so much interest but the story in the News-Star and Morning World that stated that John M. Breard, Jr. possesses an issue of "The New Moon," issued here July 27, 1833, has caused those who are fond of papers and articles of long ago to sit up and take notice.

We have been asked to inquire through this paper how many would like to have a copy were it to be reproduced? The cost of reproduction would be nominal, provided a number desire to make a purchase. Already one beauty shop operator stated that she would, if she had to do so, pay up to $5 for such copy but that if a number make purchase it would not cost much over a dollar a copy. Do others so desire if it can be reproduced at a nominal figure?

The approval by the Civil Aeronautics Board of the merger of Delta and the Chicago and Southern Airlines is mighty good news to everybody here. The combined distance served will be 9,508 miles.

Delta Air is a company that largely originated in Monroe where the first offices were maintained before removal to Atlanta. The late C. E. Faulk of Monroe was for years president, and Travis Oliver, prominent Monroe banker, is the treasurer of the company. C. E. Woolman, the president at this time, was a resident of Monroe and started his magical aeronautical career by introducing cotton dusting by plane.

These connections make Delta Air closely affiliated with Monroe and its progress has been unusual and highly pleasing to local citizens, many of whom are stockholders in the company since it was first formed.

Seems like open season for new pastors hereabouts. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., at College Place Baptist Church, has left for the mission field in central America. Covenant Presbyetrian Church today has for the first time a minister who is taking charge. Dr. Wayne W. Gray will preach his first sermon this morning as its pastor. Dr. R. J. West will preach first sermons today as pastor of Peniel Baptist Church and Rev. Filer J. Seal, for some years pastor of Trinity Church, West Monroe, has removed to Baton Rouge to assume duties at a large Baptist Church there. His successor here is not yet determined. And the First Methodist Church of Monroe, also is getting a new assistant pastor, Rev. Henry C. Blount, Jr., who is well experienced and comes with the best of recommendations.

When one aids in any way those in dire need, one should never expect even a "Thank You" for his pains, for genuine giving calls for no recompense. But when one does receive one he is pleased, one must admit.

Just received by Good Fellows in a neat little envelope and stationery a "Thank you". It stated: "To Express Appreciation and To Thank You for Your Thoughtfulness."

We purposely omit the name affixed but it warms one's heart to receive a word of commendation.

OFFICIALS SEEK SETTLEMENT TO NY BUS STRIKE

No Means Of Reaching Accord With Transit Strikers Seen

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—City officials kept their eyes open today for a means of ending the three-day strike against eight private bus companies, but they saw no signs of a settlement.

The long holiday week-end softened the impact of the New Year's Eve walkout by 8,200 drivers and maintenance men of the CIO United Transit Workers. But, unless a solution is reached, Monday morning commuters will feel the squeeze of the inoperative bus companies which normally carry 3½ million bus fares daily.

Daniel Kornblum, director of the city's labor relations division, met in City Hall with Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri's fact-finding committee. Their purpose: to "explore" the strike situation.

The union demands a 40-hour week instead of the 44 and 48 hours worked, now. It wants the same pay for 40 hours that its members got for 44 and 48 hours plus a 25 cents an hour raise.

DEATH COMES

Terzia became president of the Parlor City Lumber Co. He also served as president of the Louisiana Building Materials Dealers Association.

He was always interested in civic affairs, served on the Louisiana Flood Control board and in 1931, was named by the governor to a place from Ward 3 of the Ouachita parish school board. The vacancy occurred when the late J. J. Herring moved from the city. The next year, in 1932, he ran for the same office and was re-elected and again this occurred in 1938 and in 1944, making him member of the school board for 20 years. In 1950 he did not make the race because of failing health.

The death of Felix Terzia is the second one in his immediate family in barely three months time. Last October 22, his brother, Leo F. Terzia died here after a short illness.

Mr. Terzia is survived by his wife; a daughter, Clara Virginia, now Mrs. David Gehring, Akron, O.; a son, Felix Terzia, third, Shreveport; two brothers, Fensky Terzia, Monroe; and William Terzia, Bay City, Mich.; and two grandchildren, David Gehring, Jr. and Gwyne Gehring.

When Mr. Terzia became critically ill, his daughter flew here from Ohio, but Christmas eve she returned home as her father was seemingly much improved. She was summoned Friday and flew here Saturday morning, but not until after her father's death had occurred.

The funeral is set for Monday to enable the brother in Bay City, Mich., to arrive for the services.

IF You Are Earning Less Than

$12,000 in a YEAR

$12,000 is not too much for the man we want to represent us in the Monroe area.

If you are earning less than $12,000 now and want to get into a new, pleasant business where you can be set for life, here is a real opportunity for you.

Most of our top men in other parts of the U. S. are drawing from $8,000 to $12,000 in a year. Our old reliable company . . .which is a leader in the field . . . now has an opening here for a man between the ages of 50 and 65.

We want a man over 50 because our business requires a mature man with a car to deal with refined people (no high pressure).

No investment . . . we furnish all materials . . . pay your earnings in advance. Please write us an outline of your experience. All replies in strict confidence. Write VICE PRESIDENT, Dept M-1, P. O. Box 676, Dayton 1, Ohio.

Miss Owens, a life-long resident of Pioneer, is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glover Owens; one brother, Earl Owens of Pioneer; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Campbell of Epps and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mattie J. Owens of Pioneer.

DAZED SERGEANT TELLS OF CRASH

Story Touches Off Giant Search, Three Crewmen Found Dead

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 3 (AP)—An Air Force sergeant, bloody and dazed, stumbled out of fog into the Raleigh-Durham Airport early today with news that a C47 transport plane had crashed in a driving rainstorm.

The sergeant's story, told in broken, almost incoherent phrases, touched off a 100-man search which six hours later found the twisted wreckage of the plane with its three officer crewmen dead.

The lone survivor, Staff Sgt. Edward Matus, a native of Cleveland, O., was rushed to Duke Hospital in Durham, suffering from shock and multiple cuts. His condition improved steadily during the day.

The search parties, which used a bloodnound in an unsuccessful attempt to retrace the sergeant's staggering steps through a thick pine forest, found the wreckage less than two miles from the airport's tower. Inside were the bodies of the three officers.

The Air Force identified them as Capt. Louis R. Gossman, pilot, and 1st Lt. Norman W. Joyce, co-pilot, both of Donaldson Air Force Base, Greenville, S. C., and 1st Lt. Robert W. Shaw, of Pope Air Force Base, Fayetteville, N. C.

Gossman was a native of Canton, Minn., Joyce of Waycross, Ga. and Shaw of Castleton-on-the Hudson, N. Y.

Headquarters of the 18th Air Force at Donaldson said the plane on a routine training flight, was returning there from Stewart Air Force Base at Newburgh, N. Y., when it crashed while attempting the emergency landing about midnight Earlier it had tried to land at Pope Air Force Base, about 50 miles south of here, but visibility was zero.

Sgt. Matus, interviewed in the hospital, reported the plane appeared to be making a normal landing when it knifed into some trees. He said he "was struck in the face by something and dropped instinctively to the floor."

Knocked out by the impact, he awoke later in a dazed condition within the wreckage. He said he "called out but no one answered."

NEW SAINT TO BE CROWNED IN HAVANA

Will Be Beautiful Virgin On Guadalupe Of Mexico For Latin America

By BEN F. MEYER

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—A new patron saint for Roman Catholics of Latin America — the beautiful Virgin on Guadalupe of Mexico — is to be crowned here next week.

The event, one of the most solemn and important of its kind in years, is to take place in elaborate ceremonies lasting from January 6-12.

Announcement of the coronation plans was made by his eminence, manuel, Cardinal Arteaga Betancourt, archbishop of Cuba, after a visit to Mexico, where the Virgin of Guadalupe is the cherished patron saint.

The Virgin of Guadalupe was chosen as the principal patron of Latin America, a church spokesman said, "because she was the first to appear in Latin America."

The story of the Virgin of Guadalupe is this:

On the outskirts of Mexico City, in 1531, a poor Indian, Juan Diego, walked near the rocky, barren hill of Tepeyacac, which until a few years before had been a place of Aztec worship.

"I heard the sounds of music — music so sweet that it could have been made only by an angel," Juan was quoted. Looking up at the towering rocks he saw the form of a beautiful woman, with a halo about her head.

The frightened Indian fell to his knees in fear and reverence. The woman told him to advise his bishop that she wanted a great temple to be built on the hill in her honor.

Juan ran to the house of a bishop, told him of his experience, but the bishop was skeptical. He said he wanted proof.

From time to time, Juan went back to the hill. On each of three occasions, the woman appeared, and each time repeated her instructions.

Then an uncle of Juan's became ill. He went for a priest. On the way he saw the woman again. The woman assured Juan the uncle was now well.

She commanded him to gather some flowers for her. Juan looked at the rocky barren mountainside and saw roses growing where none had grown before. The woman told him to wrap them in his tilma, a blanket-like cloak still worn by Indians in Mexico, and take them to the bishop as proof of her command.

"God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, January 4, 1953.
The golden text is: "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else" (Isa. 45:22).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson - sermon is the following from the Bible: "I am the Lord: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images" (Isa. 42:8).
The lesson - sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Question. — Is there more than one God or Principle? Answer. — There is not" (p. 465).

Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., Bible study class. Subject: "The Judgment Day".
Friday, 7:30 p.m., Service meeting, 'Informant". 8:30 p.m., Theocratic ministry school.
To be in union with Jehovah God, we must love and understand His word. (Psalms 119:105) John 3:16 shows God loved "The World" enough to sacrifice His Son, that we might gain everlasting life. Did He mean this evil world or the righteous new world? Christ showed He was no part of this world (John 17:9-21) He said Satan was the god of this world, and the Prince of The Air (2 Corinthians 4:4; Ephesians 2:2.)
Today, Satan's forces are rapidly gatheing "All Nations" to the great battle of Armageddon, (Revelations 12:9-12; 16:13-16;) Jehovah always warns a nation, before it is destroyed. Now, the entire world is being warned, before destruction comes upon the wicked. (Matt. 24: 14).
If you are interested in learning more about God's warnings to our generation, before Armageddon strikes, you are cordially invited to hear the above lecture at 3 p.m. You might enjoy a greater study of God's revealing scriptures during our times. The great and only hope for all mankind is "God's Kingdom", a heavenly rule for this earth (Revelation 21:1-4, 10, 24-27; Rev. 11:15-18).

Quota Club Has Annual Christmas Party Recently

Members of the Quota Club and their guests enjoyed their annual Christmas party held in the Cajun Room at the Rendezvous recently.

Upon entering the banquet room, Mr. D. L. Agnew took moving pictures of the members and guests. Surprise toy gifts were then given everyone by Miss Freeda Mickel. Also during the evening Pascal Norris gave clues to the identity of each member of the Quota Club until that person's name was guessed. The reward was a peppermint candy cane. Mr. Jack Elliget gave "The Christmas Story" and as he mentioned a barnyard animal someone in the audience would imitate that animal.

Freeda Mickel distributed to each person present gifts from under the Christmas tree. The secret pal's identity was revealed by the name on the package. The festive table decorations were done by Mrs. Henry Haas and added much gaiety to the Quota's annual Christmas party.

Members and guests present were Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haas, Miss Mamie McNeill, Mr. Mac Ward, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Agnew, Mr. and Mrs Mitchell Denoux, Mrs. John B. Collins, Mrs. Helen Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Keene, Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Norris, Mrs. W. T. Sartor, Jr., Mrs. D. R. Sartor, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Elliget, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Tomlinson, Miss Ovelle Thomas, Miss Armandine Renaud, Mr. H. M. James, Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Murray, Miss Freeda Mickel, Mr. Lewis Boutwell, and Mr. and Mrs. J. K .Britton.

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The nature of a man's daily life is not determined by accident or chance or by the circumstances and happenings of the day, unless one's character be so weak as to be subject to every passing mood or influence.

It is true that some annoying incident of the day may lead to outbursts of ill temper, or arouse feelings of hatred, envy, or jealousy. But insofar as that happens, one's character is at least ill-formed or actually evil.

What one does, if life has any real worth, is determined by what one is. Character lies back of every thought and deed.

It was thus that Jesus stated it again and again, thus fulfilling the religion of the Old Testament saints and prophets, which He said He had not come to destroy but to fulfill.

It was the pure in heart, He said, who had the vision of God (Matthew 5:8); where the treasure is, there would the heart be also (Matthew 6:21); out of the abundance of the heart, good or evil, the mouth speaketh (Luke 6:45); and things were to be settled in the heart (Luke 21:14).

All this was a continuance of what was in the Scriptures that Jesus knew. A wise proverb urged that the heart should be kept with all diligence (Proverbs 4:23), and many Psalms reinforced that plea.

The religion of Jewish saints reached its highest and noblest point in the sincerity of the quest for the knowledge of God. Especially in the profound daring of faith in the prayer: "Search me and know my heart: try me and know my thoughts: and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting."

There is the word of life, the revelation of God's love and grace; the gift of God which is eternal life. There is the word of guidance for living set forth in the teachings as in the example of the Master.

There is the inspiration and incentive in the promise of power, the inflowing of a divine help that uplifts and strengthens human weakness, the experience that St. Paul meant, when he said, "My strength is made perfect in weakness" (II Corinthians 12:9).

To know the Gospels, to live from day to day in the records of what Jesus said and did is to discover the Gospel in all its reality and power (Romans 1:16).

How can one have such knowledge available for us all, without putting the Gospel into daily living and finding what Jesus meant when He promised life more abundantly?

Downsville

Mr. and Mrs. Poincare Rabun of Farmerville and Miss Lolita Golden of Shreveport were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Golden Wednesday.

The Downsville Baptist Church had a candle-light service portraying the Nativity Scene on Sunday evening, December 21st. The program was sponsored by Mrs. Bob Golden, Mrs. Bill Hamilton, and Mrs. Ralph Ashby.

There were two speaker stands presented to the church at the Christmas season. One of the stands was presented to the adult women's class by Mr. and Mrs. Temple Smith of Jonesville, who were former members of the church. The other stand was given to the Men's Bible Class by the Women's Bible Class.

The church presented two end-tables and a picture to its pastor and family as Christmas gifts.

A basketball tournament was held at the Downsville High School on Jan. 1 and 2. Both boys' and girls' teams participated.

The Baptist W. M. U. met with Mrs. Troy Ham on Monday evening.

The Downsville Men's Club met on Monday night. Officers are Troy Ham, president; Lucius McGhee, vice - president; James E. Hamilton, secretary; Dan Calhoun, secretary; M. Elliott, reporter. They discussed arcades between the school buildings, the possibility of putting in main water lines, and also building of a new grandstand.

The Eastern Star held their regular meeting at the Lodge this week.

The Downsville High School girls played the women teachers a basketball game on Dec. 11. The line up for the teachers was Mrs. Sybil Leachman, Miss Carolyn Tate, Miss Dorothy Vercher, Mrs. Ila Hardage, Mrs. Gladys Rabun, and Mrs. Ella Allen. The line-up for the girls was Sarah Wilhite, Betty Antley, Virginia Ballard, Joye B. Taylor, Sue Hicks, and Dixie Cox. Cheer leaders for the teachers Mrs. Versie Hale and Miss Cloma Barron; and for the girls, Mary Sue Riggins and Callie Dyer.

On Friday after Christmas Day, Mrs. Sue Henry Calhoun joined friends of the Tech class of '31 who hold an annual dinner meeting in Monroe. They were Mrs. Peggy Hatch Deloney, New Orleans; Mrs. Nita White Poland, Arcadia; Mrs. Blue Files Mott, Oak Ridge, and Miss Sity Hatch, Rayville.

Mrs. Joe Hamilton gave a dinner party for Mrs. Collins Lipscomb and Mrs. Willard Dowell on Monday evening. Mesdames Bobby Joe McGehee, Sue Calhoun, Fred McFarland, Jimmy Hinton, J. E. Hamilton, and Bill Hamilton enjoyed the happy occasion.

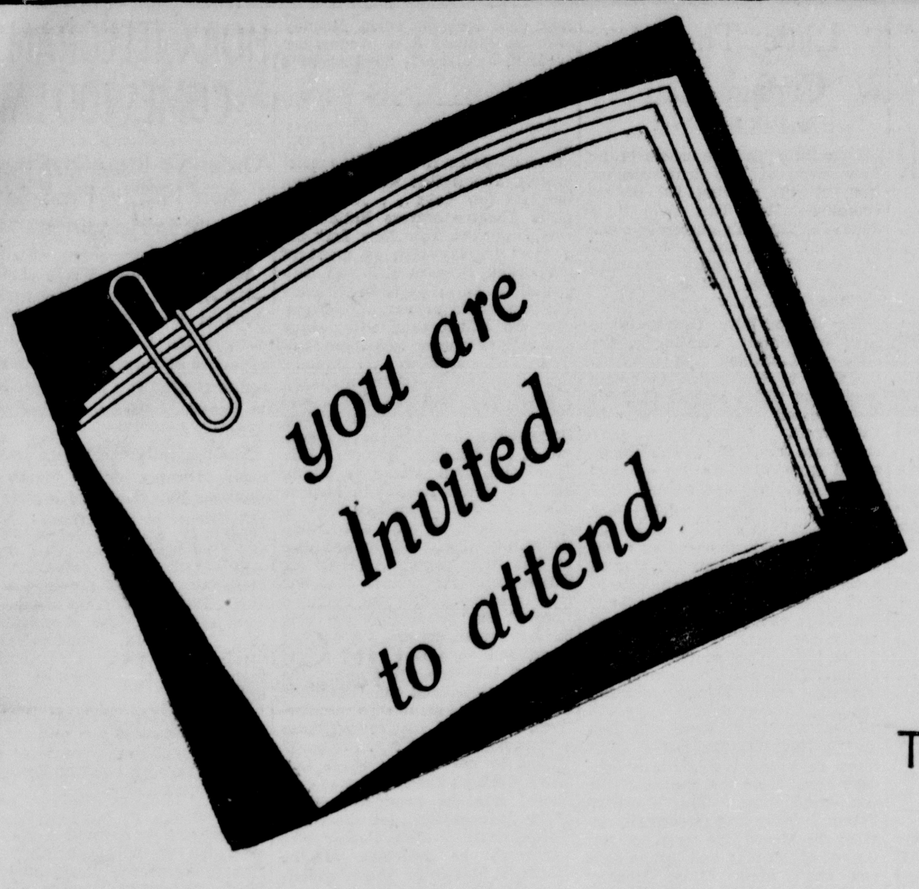

Miss Jimmie Lynn McLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McLeod of Downsville and Mr. Thomas Jr. Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Patrick of West Monroe, were married here Saturday, Dec. 27. They are to reside in Monroe.

Mrs. Naomi Patrick spent part of the holidays at her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Patrick, of West Monroe.

Rev. John Riggins and family spent the Christmas holidays in Monette, Ark., at the home of Mrs. Riggins' mother, Mrs. Sally Hout.

Watch night service was held at the Methodist Church on Wednesday night to welcome the new year.

Miss Dorothy Vercher has returned from a visit to her home

CLAIM ILL-USE OF GAS TAXES OVER NATION

Non - Highways Uses Of Revenue Scored By American Petroleum Institute

By Harry Wilson Sharpe

Washington, Jan 3 (AP)(UP) The American Petroleum Institute said Thursday that million of dollars in gasoline taxes are being diverted to non-highway uses, with New York state the chief offender.

In its bi-monthly tax economics Bureau of Roads statistics to show that while highway use tax revenues are setting new records each year, there is not a corresponding increase in taxes set aside for what they were originally intended-building and improving important traffic arteries.

Newsweek magazine said recently in a report on highway needs that from 1924 through 1950 $3 billion collected from highway users was spent for other purposes than roads. It said that at today's prices the diverted funds would have built 9,000 miles of modern, four-lane highways similar to the New Jersey Turnpike.

President Ralph Thomas of the American Automobile Association said in a year-end statement that street improvements hit a record $5 billion. But he warned that the motorist will have to pay still higher taxes to foot the bill. He said it is almost inevitable that auto taxes will rise again this year.

The only Bureau of roads figures available are for 1951. Figures for 1952 will not be issued until September.

The API said these show that in 1951 record $2,863,225,000 was collected in highway user tax receipts but that $267 million of this was diverted to non-road purposes such as "education, non-highway debt and miscellaneous."

This amounted to 913 cents of every dollar collected. And while levies on the motorist were hitting a new record-a gain of 10.0 per cent over 1950-the amount set aside for roads increased only begin to tell the seriousness of the problem in some states," API SAID "For example, New York diverted $77.5 million in 1951 but alloted only $61.4 million for work on state highways.

"This national diversion does not 8.6 per cent.

The institute listed other figures showing that gasoline tax collections nation-wide up to Sept. 1, 1952 totaled $534,154,365, while the new federal levy on diesel oil for highway purposes totaled $9,569,763.

Added to this for the same period were $66,913,257 in taxes on lubricating oils and $21,478,118 on

The average state-by-state gasoline tax on Sept. 1 was 7.32 cents a gallon.

TEXANS LOBBY TO CUT CRUDE OIL IMPORTS

Claim Situation Is Out Of Balance With Allowables Reduced

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN, Jan 3 (AP)—Organized independent Texas oil men are turning on the pressure to force a reduction in imports of foreign crude.

Imports have increased to a record level while the allowable flow of Texas oil has been cut from an all-time high of 3,387,245 barrels per day Nov. 29, to 3,211,108 at the start of the new year.

Claiming the situation is out of balance, Texas independents are, in effect, waging a campaign to recapture some of the market taken over by foreign oil.

Using the weapon of publicity, the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO) has demanded an explanation of why imports are rising while domestic producing is dropping in the face of decreased market demand.

Six major companies were queried by TIPRO for statements of policy and estimates on 1953 import plans. Five executives have indicated they do not consider imports excessive. The sixth company head, President B. Brewster Jennings of Socony-Vacuum, bluntly refused to give information to TIPRO.

The Texas Railroad Commission, which is required by law to regulate Texas oil production on the basis of market demand, also wants first-hand information on estimated crude and products requirements and a schedule of 1953 importing programs.

To get this data, the commission has invited top industry executives to testify at a statewide proration hearing Feb. 18. A similar hearing was held in 1950 after Texas had absorbed a large decrease in demand while imports were breaking records.

Importers insisted at that time they believed in using foreign crude only to supplement domestic production. They still say the same thing.

Eugene Holman, president of Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, said in response to TIPRO's recent request, "We repeatedly have expressed, and again confirm, out agrement with the national oil policy statement adopted by the National Petroleum Council stating that imports should supplement but not supplant domestic production."

TIPRO is eager to see the Railroad Commission secure 1953 import schedules because TIPRO feels the companies would be forced into the position of proving "good faith" on their pledge not to supplant domestic output with foreign oil.

The threat foreign oil poses for Texas production long has been recognized by the three Railroad Commission members.

In December, 1949, Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson commented: "With imports reported on the increase and our oil exports on the decline, the prospects for 1950 do not look very bright for the oil producer."

Total Of Court Fines Listed For Jonesboro

JONESBORO, Jan. 3. (Special)—A total of $685.50 in fines was collected by local authorities for violations of city ordinances during October and November, according to figures just released by the mayor's office.

Most violated ordinance was that of intoxication and fines on this count totalled $195. Three $25 bonds were forfeited. Two persons were fined $100 each for drunken driving and two persons were found guilty of careless and reckless driving and paid fines of $10 each.

Other violations included parking penalties, drinking in public and disturbing the peace.

Beef Prices To Get Look By The OPS

By MAUREEN GOTHLIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 — UP — Price Stabilization officials disclosed Saturday they plan to survey retail beef ceilings again next week to determine whether they should be rolled back to reflect sharp reductions in cattle prices.

A rollback of only a few cents would save housewives and other consumers millions of dollars.

These officials told the United Press that while farm commodities generally are in a slump, they think beef is the only item on which "profiteering" is threatened.

Farm prices dropped 3 per cent in the month ended Dec. 15. At that point they were 12 per cent below a year ago. The bulk of decline was in cattle, cotton, eggs, hogs and milk.

When cattle prices started diving last fall the Office of Price Stabilization surveyed them to decide whether retail rollbacks were in order. This survey showed the declines were largely in the lower beef grades with little or no reduction in select dinner table meats.

It also showed that in many areas retail declines on lower-grades had followed the cattle price reductions.

OPS was reluctant to undertake the rollbacks then because it meant changing from easily-enforceable dollars-and-cents ceilings at retail to percentage mark-ups on wholesale costs. The latter is difficult to enforce officials said.

They also felt the rollbacks would not be worthwhile unless they were "substantial."

The new survey will include a sampling of prices at large chain stores.

As to other farm price drops, OPS officials indicated they were not worried. They pointed out that since the Dec. 15 slump, hog prices have started strengthening.

Cotton has been selling so far below ceilings that ceilings have been suspended. This also goes for goods made of cotton, including textiles and all clothing, except children's.

On milk, OPS has margin controls at distributor levels and price officials describe the regulations as "tight."

WEST CARROLL 4 - H LEADER IS AWARD WINNER

Named Outstanding Woman Leader For Northeast District In Contest

OAK GROVE, Jan. 3 (Special)—Mrs. Alma Rae Madison of the Kilbourne High School faculty and a 4-H club leader, has been selected as the most outstanding woman local leader of the northeast Louisiana district in the annual Good Provider contest.

The contest is sponsored by the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce, the New Orleans Times-Picayune, and the L. S. U. agricultural extension service.

Mrs. Madison was recently honored at the Goood Provider luncheon in New Oleans, where she received a bronze plaque.

She was one of four local women 4-H club leaders selected from Louisiana. She has been leader of the Kilbourne Junior 4-H Club for four years.

Her selection marked the third consecutive year that a West Carroll 4-H Club leader has been honored.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

Your Little Theatre ushers in the New Year of 1953 with another first in it's growing list of accomplishments. This time it is John Van Druten's currently popular "Bell, Book and Candle," one of New York's most successful hits last season, that is still touring the U. S. A.

The Monroe Littie Theatre is the first community theatre in the state of Louisiana and probably the first in the nation to obtain production rights to Van Druten's sophisticated play about modern witch-craft. It is seldom these rights are available to non-professional groups before the original run of the show has ended.

Broadway enjoyed "Bell, Book and Candle" with Lilli Palmer and Rex Harrison in the leading roles. The touring road show has starred successively, screen stars, Rosaland Russell and Joan Bennett. The entire cast includes three men and two women.

The Little Theatre playhouse at Selman Field will glow, warm and friendly, again Monday evening January 5, when first try-outs will be held for "Bell, Book and Candle." This will be just twenty-three days and two glorious holidays away from the closing of the last production, "The Petrified Forest." Everyone is cordially invited to attend the reading and try-out of the play and just in case you can't make it on Monday night, Director Fontelieu will hold a second try-out on Wednesday evening, January 7. It is your date with a celebrated play that other Little Theatres are still waiting to get and as always our director's date with his constant wish to discover new talent and broaden the field of theatre enjoyment. So, thespians and would-be thespians write "B, B & C" in your date book for either Monday evening, January 5, or Wednesday evening, January 7, 'long about 8 p.m.

Random Notes . . . Christmas and New Year's holidays were tremendous pleasure to all the celebrating Theatreites we have seen the last few days . . . Former Little Theatre actress Bette Provost journeyed from New York for a short holiday visit as guest of the Frank Breeses and was welcomed by as many of her friends as time would permit. . . . President Ed Ellison and wife, Mary had holiday dinner with their family in Jackson, Miss. . . . Director Fontelieu and Margaret managed a short visit to DeLo, Miss., and this week end found them in New Orleans for the New Year's weekend. . . . Another former Little Theatreite, Dub Moore is saying hello to all his friends in Monroe this week end. Dub has been in Houston for quite some time, then California for six months and now he has been transferred back to Shreveport. He reports that our local production of "The Petrified Forest" was better than anything he has seen on the Shreveport stage and says Dub, with a shy grin on his face, "I am not the least bit prejudiced and I am sure Shreveport has some super productions. I guess I just caught those a little under par." . . . Congratulations to one of our stage favorites Garland Shell, who was conducted into the president's chair of the Jaycees this past week. . . . Twin-orchids to Beth Breese who again will be chairman of the Mother's March on Polio, scheduled for Monday evening, December 29. . . . And that winds up another "Curtain Call" not to forget January 5 and 7, try-outs for "Bell, Book and Candle."

HOAX TELEGRAM COMES TOO LATE

'Order Of Stay Of Execution' Not In Time To Stop Hangings

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Jan. 3 —UP—A hoax telegram, which arrived at Washington state prison minutes too late to postpone the execution of Turman and Utah Wilson, orginated at a public telephone in Seattle, Western Union said Saturday.

The Wilson brothers were hanged early Saturday for the March 19, 1950, sex kidnaping and murder of 18-year-old Jo Ann Dewey, Vancouver, Wash.

It was their fifth date with the hangman. On four previous occasions Turman, 26, and Utah, 22, were saved by stays of execution. And Saturday, someone — a mystery befriender of condemned men — tried to postpone the hanging again

The telegram arrived at 2:17 a. m. CST—about five minutes too late. The Wilson brothers had dropped through two trap doors beneath twin gallows.

It said:

"Herewith is ordered a stay of execution of Wilson brothers by emergency decree presidential authority delegated through me as United States senator from Washington."

It was signed, "Warren G. Magnuson" (D-Wash.).

Magnuson denied any knowledge of the telegram when newsmen checked with him in Washington, D. C. And a close study of the telegram revealed it originated in Seattle.

SONOTONE IS FIRST AGAIN with the newest way to hear!

SONOTONE

Now the latest electronic miracle, the

TRANSISTOR HEARING AID

is here at last to bring you better hearing at less operating cost

Here is the electronic marvel that startled the scientific world—that the government has already put to secret use—that seems destined to perfect such modern wonders as wrist radios and mechanical brains—now made available to the public for the first time by Sonotone.

Yes, here in the first hearing aid of its kind, Sonotone uses the tiny germanium transistor—generally described as "the size of a pea"—to offer all hard-of-hearing people the benefits of this revolutionary discovery.

Double Power in the Thinnest Hearing Aid Ever Built

It makes no difference whether you are using any sort of hearing aid today or not. You owe it to yourself to see, to try this sensationally new SONOTONE TRANSISTOR HEARING AID, at once.

It packs up to twice the power into the smallest Sonotone in history—into the thinnest hearing aid anyone has ever built.

"B" Battery Costs Reduced 80%

It permits the use of the tiniest "B" batteries available, prolongs their life six times, and thus reduces their replacement costs more than 80%. Even with "A" battery use, operating costs are reduced more than 50%.

So Easy to Wear

Yet with all its increased power, its operating economy, the miraculous new Sonotone Transistor Hearing Aid is exceptionally easy to wear. It requires no additional wires or cords. It is super-thin. It can be invisible on women, inconspicuous on men.

SEE IT — TRY IT — TODAY!

Northern All-Stars Defeat South In Senior Bowl, 28-13

HARRY AGGANIS, DON M'AULIFFE SPARK YANKEES

Texas A And M's Ray Graves Stars For Southerners

By WILLIAM TUCKER

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 3 —UP— Harry Agganis, a left-handed slinger from Boston University, and Michigan State's Don McAuliffe led a sharp Northern team to a 28 to 13 victory over the South Saturday in the fourth annual Senior Bowl.

Getting $500 apiece for their efforts, the Yankees—made up of graduating seniors like the Southern squad in a preview of their pro careers—squared the series at two victories each. The losers drew $400 each.

A sparse crowd of 18,000 watched the game in chilly weather. The Yanks wrapped it up in the first half by scoring 14 points on a safety and touchdowns on an Agganis pass and a plunge by Fred Bruney of Ohio State after a fumble recovery.

The margin soared to 21 to 0 after another bobble which Roger French of Minnesota grabbed on the Dixie 48. Agganis capped the drive with a southpaw scoring pass to Gene Gedman of Indiana for 14 yards.

Aggie Ace Leads South

Ray Graves, ace of Texas A&M, accounted for both the South's touchdowns in the second half. He led a 50-yard march, passing to Vanderbilt's Ben Roderick and Lloyd Coulteryahn of Maryland to take the ball to the two, from where Joe Fortunato of Mississippi State scored.

McAuliffe's powerful running gave the North its final score as he dashed across from the 10.

Graves then passed the South to the Yankee 11 and, fading back, decided to run with it and went around right end for the game's last score.

Marty Beekley, the Ohio State defensive ace, put the South in the hole right at the start when he tackled Maryland's celebrated quarterback, Jack Scarbath, for a safety after one and a half minutes.

Rebel Bobbles Costly

Stewart Sheetz of Penn State had recovered a fumble on the South's nine-yard line after the oepning kickoff to give the Yankees an early break, but they couldn't score from that point until the ball changed hands.

Frank Wodziak of Illinois recovered another fumble on the South's 21 and Agganis passed to Gedman on the six. McAuliffe plunged to the three and Bruney plunged over for a touchdown.

The Northerners counted again before the half after a poor punt put the Southerners on the defense on their own 36. Agganis passed to Purdue's Bernie Flowers for eight yards, McAuliffe ran 10 and the left-handed Agganis passed to Ernie Stockert of UCLA for the touchdown. For the second time, a poor pass prevented Agganis from even trying to kick the extra point.

Score by periods:

North	8	6	7	7	28
South	0	0	7	6	13

Touchdowns: Gedman, Bruney, McAuliffe, Stockert, Fortunato, Graves; points after touchdown: Mioduszewski, Agganis (2); safety: North (Scarbath tackled in end zone by Beekley).

ELIXIR WINS AT TROPICAL PARK

Takes $25,000 Robert E. Lee Handicap; Recline 2nd

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 3. (AP)—Elixir, owned by Dave J. Schneider of Forest Hills, N. Y., easily won the $25,000 added Robert E. Lee Handicap before 14,116 fans at Tropical Park today.

Jockey Sammy Boulemetis gave him a fast ride in which the five-year-old son of Blue D'Or virtually sewed up the victory in the run to the first turn. Assuming a long lead quickly, he stayed in the clear and finished three lengths ahead of the 40-to-1 shot Recline from Fairway Farm.

Third in the field of 15 handicap stars, was William C. Helis' Topside, another outsider, while Hampton Stable's Alerted, top-weighted at 128 pounds, finished fourth, a nose away.

R. N. Webster's Crystal Boot, which had won his first three starts at the meeting, faltered utterly, after showing early speed, and finished 14th in a dismal performance.

Crystal Boot, ridden by Willie Boland, was a slight favorite in the betting over Alerted, which was making his first start at the meeting.

Elixir ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1:44 on a track deadened somewhat by Friday night's rain. He paid $47.80, $20.30, and $12.10 across the board. Recline paid $31.60 and $14.90. Topside returned $10.90 show.

To bring the fighting in Korea to an end and to move forward into the positive phases of reconstruction and peaceful settlement is still the great challenge which faces the U. N. — U. N. General Assembly Pres. Lester Pearson.

GOES AROUND SC END—Right Halfback Gerry Witt of the Wisconsin Badgers starts through the Southern California right end after taking a handoff from Quarterback Jim Haluska in first quarter of the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena, Calif. The Trojan right end, Bob Hooks, is being blocked by Art Prchlik (68), Wisconsin tackle. Witt was brought down after a two yard gain by Charley Ane (60), 254-pound Southern Cal tackle, who is chasing him. Guard George Steinmetz blocks out a Trojan linebacker at left. Other SC players are Tackle Bob Van Doren (75), and Left End Bill Hattig (86). (AP Wirephoto)

Notre Dame's 10-Point Statement Explains Unrestricted TV Stand

Steps Up Crusade For Wide-Open Grid Television

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 3 (AP)—Notre Dame today stepped up its crusade for unrestricted football television by issuing a 10-point explanation of its stand against the N. C. A. A.'s controlled program.

In a statement — significantly made public as the National Collegiate Athletic Association prepares for its convention in Washington, D. C., next week—the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, Notre Dame president, said:

"The University of Notre Dame has been cited often during the past two years as opposing a large majority who favor restricted television of collegiate football . . . We are, therefore, presenting a 10-point program which includes the reasoning behind our minority opposition, as well as our concern for the public interest involved. . .

"We are not denying that many honest efforts have been made to meet the problem of television and collegiate football . . . But we do frankly oppose the philosophy underlying present restricted television plans (of the N. C. A. A., limiting the national telecasting to one game per week.)

"We believe that our 10 - point program is a more progressive and positive approach to the problem, more in the public interest, better adapted to further the purposes of educational institutions, and, of course, clearly legal."

The 10-point program, in part:

1. We believe that both football and television can be good elements in American life. Youngsters watching football on television can learn a game available to them and good for them in a way that space ships, range riding, and criminal investigations will never be.

2. We believe television can furthem wide-spread public interest in collegiate football, and, what is more important, can promote greater public interest in the educational institutions of which the teams are just one dramatic aspect.

dictate what the public can and cannot see, with little regard for what the public would like to see.

4. We believe there is one normal restriction that should operate in the selection of what games should be televised and how broadly they should be televised: Namely, public interest in the game. If this rule were followed, and it is followed in everything else communicated by television, our basic principle would be honored.

5. We believe public interest generally follows the same pattern that obtains regarding other events on television. The public interest is local, regional, and national. If the four networks and local television stations would cooperate with obvious public interest as the season develops each fall, it would be possible to have football telecasts of as many as fifty schools each Saturday, and hundreds each season. The game of the week might be telecast nationally, many other games on a regional basis, and a large number of smaller games could be covered by local stations. With the differential in time, there could even be a double feature Eastern and Western game of the week.

6. We believe this program would meet with wide approval from the now long-suffering public who have generously supported the present growth of football. We believe any attendance loss will eventually be offset by television revenue and by new fans developed through television.

7. We believe this television coverage would give many colleges and universities a wonderful opportunity to present their educational programs to a wide audience of the people whose support they need.

8. We believe this plan allows for wider participation of the schools and the public in the benefits of both television and football. It puts the emphasis on public interest, operating through the networks and local stations, as the selector of many programs each week, rather than allowing a small committee to decide during the summer, before competition has begun, what few games the general public will be allowed to see all fall.

9. We believe this plan places control where it belongs. We advocate the same control for televocate the same control for television of football as is applied to all the musical, dramatic, educational, religious programs. They are all controlled by public interest.

10. We believe any attempt to restrict and boycott what is successful in other television programs would be thought of as Un-American.

JONESBORO SET FOR SIMSBORO

Two High School Teams To Meet At Jonesboro Tuesday Night

JONESBORO, Jan. 3 (Special)—With 20 wins in 22 starts tucked behind them, the Jonesboro-Hodge high school basketball team is boning up for the tilt with Simsboro here Tuesday night, and hoping for revenge.

Simsboro handed the local cagers their first defeat early in the season. Since that first game with Simsboro, however, the locals have won three tournaments, suffering their second loss of the season to Chatham in the finals of the Chatham tourney.

Starting lineup for Jonesboro will probably be Harold Ayres and Sonny Montgomery at forwards, Harold Daricek at center, and Travis Ford and Jack Freeman at guards.

Simsboro will have Bell and B. Rodriguez at forwards, Jap Gullatt at center and McMullin and J. Rodriguez at guards. Bell, a tall player with a sharp eye for the basket, scored 18 points against Jonesboro in the first meeting between the two teams. Gullatt was a member of the All-State team last year.

The B teams will play at 7 o'clock Tuesday with the varsities due to tie up at 8.

Calumet Farm's Filly, A Gleam, Scores Photo Win At Santa Anita

ARCADIA, Calif., Jan. 3 (AP)—A Gleam, Calumet Farm's flashy filly, today scored a hard-earned victory in the $25,000 Malibu Sequet Stakes before 55,000 at Santa Anita, winning the seven-furlong dash in a photo finish over Stranglehold and Big Noise.

An odds on favorite, A Gleam, ridden by Eddie Arcaro, kept her backers in suspense until the final strides when she forged under the wire a head winner over Stranglehold, with Big Noise, owned by band leader Harry James and screen star Betty Grable, right up there too.

Big Noise, the show horse and pace setter, hung on gamely through the stretch and appeared a likely winner until a few strides from the wire when A Gleam and Stranglehold edged past.

A Gleam paid $2.80 straight and raced the seven furlongs in 1:22 4-5. She earned $15,800 for Calumet Farm.

My only desire is to be retired and left alone. —Former actress Shirley Temple.

FERRIDAY OPENS HARDWOOD PLAY

Regular Season Begins At Newellton On Jan. 9

FERRIDAY, La., Jan. 3 (Special) The Ferriday High School Bulldogs, who are gettinga late start in basketball this year because of the long football season, open their cage play Jan. 9.

If the Bulldogs can get the rough and tumble of football out of them, they should have a better than average team.

They will have six foot team average this year that will be sparked by returning men such as Charles "Red" McNew, whose quickness is beneficial to the team; Charles Fugler, Charles Griffin, and Lloyd Bowden, whose height should control the backboard; Jackie Wilkins, and Eddie Hunter, whose ball handling should give the opposing defense plenty of worry.

The schedule for 1953 is as follows: Jan. 9 at Newellton; Jan. 12, Block of Jonesville at erriday; Jan. 16 and 17, Block High School tournament at Jonesville; Jan. 13, Monterey at Ferriday; Jan. 20, Newellton at Newellton; Jan. 23, Waterproof at Ferriday; Jan. 27, Block at Jonesville; Jan. 30, Gilbert at Gilbert; eb. 2, Sicily Island at Ferriday; Feb. 4, Sicily Island at Sicily Island; Feb. 6 and 7, Holly Ridge tournament at Holly Ridge; Feb. 9, Washington at Ferriday; Feb. 10, Gilbert at Ferriday; Feb. 13, Waterproof at Waterproof; Feb. 16, Washington at Washington; Feb. 17, Vidalia at Ferriday; and Feb. 20 and 21, District Tournament at Natchitoches, La.

HULA BOWL GRID GAME ON SUNDAY

Bud Wilkinson Coaches College All-Stars Vs. Pros

HONOLULU, Jan. 3—UP—Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson put his college all-stars through their first full practice session Saturday in preparation for Sunday's Hula Bowl grid clash with the Hawaii all-stars.

Wilkinson said he was impressed with the makeup of his squad, but was fearful that lack of sufficient scrimmage time would hurt his squad's chances in the island's colorful football contest.

His opponents consisted of an aggregation of U. S. professionals, led by Eddie LeBaron of the Washington Redskins, Doak Walker of the Detroit Lions and Dante Lavelli of the Cleveland Browns.

"I'm really impressed with the makeup of my squad," Wilkinson said, "which contains the cream of the nation's players. But I question if the fellows have had enough practice to play well enough as a team to beat the competition we're meeting Sunday."

"However," Wilkinson added, "we should really be ready to give them a good game the following week in the second Hula Bowl."

The squads traditionally meet in two separate clashes, a week apart. Many of the collegiate stars arrived here late Friday night, fresh from New Year's Day bowl games on the mainland.

Maryland Falls Before North Carolina U. Five

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Jan. 3. (AP)—North Carolina's Tar Heels jumped to an early lead and never were headed as they handed Maryland its first Southern Conference basketball defeat, 59-49, here tonight. The Tar Heels remain undefeated and their five victories give them a firm grip on the conference lead.

Unbeaten Nichols Motors Cagers Entertain East Central Tonight

Mississippi Junior College Also Sports Perfect Record

The undefeated Nichols Motors basketballers swing into action again tomorrow night when they entertain East Central Junior College, of Decatur, Miss. at the Ouachita Parish High School gym at 8:15 o'clock.

The East Central College also sports an unbeaten record for this season's cage play, having won six consecutive games in decisive fashion, and hailing their 1952-'53 edition the best they've ever seen on the hardwood.

The East Central starting lineup will consist of Denver Brackeen, a sharp-shooting ballhawk, who was not only all-conference in '49, but was all-state and All - Third Army during a service tour with the Dixie Division; Howard Sessum, also all-conference and Junior College high scorer in '49; J. P. Hurst, ex-Junior College and service player, outstanding for his rebound work under the hoop; Herman Robinson, an ex-Junior College and service cageman, and a teammate of Brackeen, Sessum, and Hurst for the past three years; and Bill Livengood, a former Junior Colleger from Indiana, who is touted as the East Central's star sharpshooter.

The balance of the invading squad is comprised of frosh and holdovers from previous seasons.

The Nichols Motors team; playing their first encounter minus the services of star guard, Charlie McCullen, who has taken up residence in Baton Rouge; is a smooth-working, ball - hawking aggragation, whose exceptional teamwork has been the secret to their flawless record this season. Numbered among their victories are three wins over Cobb's Barbecue, of Shreveport; an outstanding cage quintet. sparked by "Dead-eye" Ocie Ritchie; whose only losses have been their meetings with Nichols.

No less than four high school basketball mentors play for the Nichols team; Bob Meador, Neville cage coach; whose ball-handling and dribbling are amazing to behold, Johnny "Hound" McConathy, the popular pivot man, who holds sway over the Gibsland High cagers; Lennie Fant, Delhi mentor; and Cecil Johnson, Oak Grove High basketball coach. Jerry Lovette, Joe Mott, Linwood Outz, and Bob Carter comprise the balance ing, ball - hawkinr aggragation, of the Nichols Motors squad, and each was an outstanding cager at his former school.

Outz is expected to replace McCullen in the starting lineup, since the grim-faced net-swisher played most of the last tussle against Cobb's, and did exceptionally well.

Denver Baseball Club Sells Popular Catcher

DENVER, Jan. 3 (AP)—President Bob Howsan of the Denver Baseball Club announced today the sale of catcher Walt Novick to the Lincoln, Nebraska club, both are in the Western League.

"We are selling Novick to help Lincoln in its problem of building a club from scratch," Howsam said. "We offered to sell them the one man they needed most and they asked for Novick. He was with them for two seasons including their pennant winning season of 1949 ad has always been very popular there."

The Bears signed Novick late last summer just after his release by Ottawa of the International League. He had a .244 batting average in 68 games.

4000 Fans On Hand To Welcome Wis. Home

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 3. (AP)—About 4,000 football fans jammed the airport here to cheer the University of Wisconsin Badgers when they alighted from their chartered plane at 6:35 p.m. today.

The football team, defeated 7-0 by Southern California in the Rose Bowl game Jan. 1, left Pasadena, Calif., earlier in the day.

The players, who came through the hard-fought New Year's Day battle in good condition, were in high spirits as they met the applause of the waiting Badger supporters.

In a brief statement at the field Coach Ivy Williamson said he was very pleased with the Badgers' "play on the field and the way they behaved off the field. I have never been so proud of anyone in my life."

Carburetor Too Rich Makes Motorist Too Poor

Car owners who are wasting money and not getting proper gas mileage due to over-rich mixtures will be pleased to learn of a Wisconsin inventor who has developed a very clever unit that helps save gasoline by "Vacu-Mating." It is automatic and operates on the supercharge principal. Easily installed in a few minutes. Fits all cars, trucks, tractors. The manufacturers, the Vacumatic Carburetor Co., 7617 - 362D State St., Wauwatosa, Wis., are offering a Vacu-matic to anyone who will install it on his car and help introduce it to others. They will gladly send full free particulars if you write them or just send your name and address on a post card today. Adv.

MATAGORA FIRST AT FAIRGROUNDS

Given Rousing Stretch Ride By Jockey Scurlock

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 3. (AP)—Joe W. Brown's Matagorda, given a rousing stretch ride by Jockey Ovie Scurlock, won the $5,000 Mississippi Handicap, feature race on the Fair Grounds program today.

Matagorda was rated in fourth place by Scurlock while his stablemate, Mr. Blue Sky, fought it out with the leaders during the early stages of the mile and a sixteenth feature for three-year-olds.

Matagorda took command as the field swung into the stretch and finished a length and a half over Paytu with The Preem taking third spot.

Negotiating the distance in 1:47, Matagorda returned $10.00, $4.80 and $3.20. Paytu paid $5.60 and $4.40 and The Preem, a rank outsider, returned $7.80.

Despite chilling winds, a crowd of 11,655 turned out for the nine-race program and poured $543,014 through the mutuels.

Ex-Major League Given New Tax-Evasion Trial

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Jan 3 (AP)—Pat Collins, former Major League baseball player convicted of income tax evasion, today was granted a new trial by U. S. District Judge Arthur J. Mellott.

Collins, now a Kansas City, Kas. tavern operator, was convicted December 2 of evading payment of $4,037.46 in federal income taxes for 1946. He was found innocent of evading taxes in 1947.

Jockey Shaken Up In Fall At Santa Anita

ARCADIA, Calif., Jan 3 (AP)—Jockey Billy Pearson was shaken up in a spill during the running of the second race at Santa Anita this afternoon. His mount, C. L. Hirsch's My Host, bolted to the inside fence after the start.

Pearson lay stunned while the race was on but was on his feet before the ambulance arrived to take him to the track hospital. He was pronounced all right after an examination.

Ex-Marine Captain, Jay Hebert Takes Lead In Los Angeles Open

Mangrum, Mengert, Wall One Stroke Behind With 141's

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3. (AP)—A handsome addition to golfing reknown, Jay Hebert from Erie, Pa., late of the U. S. Marines, took charge of the $20,000 Los Angeles Open at the midway mark late today when he fired a two-under par 69 to lead the field with a total of 140 strokes.

The 29-year-old ex-captain, wounded with the Leathernecks at Iwo Jima, finished the first round yesterday with a par 71 in a determined bid to win his first major golf prize.

A crowd estimated at around 8,000 galleried the play under a broiling sun at the Riviera Country Club, with its 7020 - yard, par 35-36—71 test of ability.

Play moves into the third round tomorrow, and Hebert—he pronounces it aye-bear and hails from Lafayette in the colorful Cajun country of Louisiana — will be hard pressed to hold the lead.

One stroke back at 141 were two-time winner Lloyd Mangrum, of Niles, Ill.; youthful Al Mengert of Spokane, Wash., making his pro debut, and Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., another newcomer to watch.

Julius Boros, the U. S. Open champion from Mid Pines, N. C., checked in with his second successive 71 for 142. The big fellow lipped the cup with putts on the 16th and 17th but sank a 25-footer on the 18hit green.

Hebert, a club pro who plays only on the winter tournament trail, birdied the first hole, the eighth with a 20-foot putt, the 12th with a 12-footer and lost out to par on only one hole, the 15th, when his ball buried itself in a trap. A bachelor, he played on the Louisiana State University champion team in 1947.

Tied with Boros was Leland Gibson, Kansas City, with 72-70—142, and one stroke back was Harry Bassler, Culver City, Calif., with 71-72—143.

Cary Middlecoff, with a 74, and Ralph Evans, Riverside, Calif., with a 73, occupied the 144 bracket, and just back at 144 were Jack Burke Jr., of Houston, Johnny Bulla from Verona, Pa., and Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif.

Tommy Bolt, Maplewood, N. J., last year's winner, took a 72 for 146. With him were such threats as Dutch Harrison (75), Shelley Mayfield (75) and Dick Mayer (74.

Veteran Henry Picard from Cleveland, competing here for the first time in many years, had a 75 for 147, along with Doug Ford, Jerry Barber, Earl Steward and Henry Williams, Jr.

Mangrum, the first round leader with a 69, shot a 72 today, thanks to a gallant scramble on the 18th hole.

Mengert fired a 70 to go with his first round 71, and Wall added a 71 to his first round 70.

Playing before a gallery of thousands, Mangrum's second shot went to the 18th green and landed in the trees to the right. He approached, but fell 25 feet short of the pin. He was faced with a 25 foot putt to get his par four. He sank it.

Hebert collected two birdies on the front nine and maintained a par performance on the trip in.

PAUL DEAN WILL BE TEXAS EXEC

Named As General Manager Of El Paso Baseball Club

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 3 —UP— Paul Dean, younger brother of the more famed Dizzy Dean, Saturday was appointed general manager of the El Paso Texans baseball club of the Arizona-Texas League.

Dean's appointment was announced by Tom Love, club president, who said at the same time that he had purchased the half interest previously held in the Texans by Dick Saunders. Love is a building contractor.

Dean was general manager of the Lubbock West Texas - New Mexico League team for the past two seasons and before then ran the Clovis club of the same circuit. In Dallas, Dean said he felt the El Paso job offered a "very good opportunity" and said he was anxious to get on the scene.

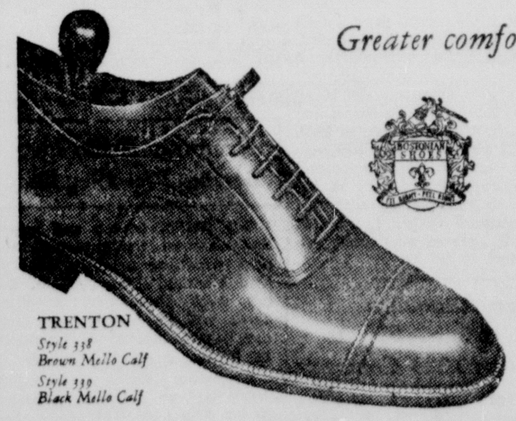

Love said that Dean, who will come here within two weeks, would have complete charge of the club, including hiring of a manager, players, conducting ticket sales and promotions, and promotions.

Georgia Tech Mentor Says Tulane Tougher

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 3—UP— Frank Broyles, assistant coach at Georgia Tech, says Tulane University was "tougher to beat then Ole Miss."

Tech beat Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl football game Thursday 24-7, and beat Tulane during the regular season 14-0.

Broyles also named Baylor as the toughest Tech opponent in the last two years. The Engineers beat the Bears with a last-minute field goal, 17-14, in the 1952 Orange Bowl.

Grid Season Still Going; Pro All-Stars Play Saturday

AMERICAN LOOP STARS TO PLAY NATIONAL BEST

Browns' Otto Graham Only Star Who May Miss Game

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3 (AP)—Hold your hats, football fans, the season isn't over yet.

Comes next, and finally, the third annual pro-bowl football battle, in which a select band of all-stars from the American Conference of the National Football League plays a similar squad from the National Conference.

It comes off Saturday in Memorial Coliseum, and will be televised nationally but blacked out in the Los Angeles area.

The two coaches in the recent championship playoff, Buddy Parker of the champion Detroit Lions and Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns, will guide the teams.

Name an outstanding player in either conference and you will find he's booked to play here.

Lone absentee may be quarterback Otto Graham of the Browns, who flew back to his home because of the death of his infant daughter.

Ready to fill in for Graham is Jim Finks, the sensational quarterback of the rugged Pittsburgh Steelers.

Headlining for the National Conference will be such stars as quarterback Norman Van Brocklin, halfback Dan Towler and Elroy Hirsch of the Los Angeles Rams; a host of San Francisco 49ers, including Joe Perry and Hugh McElhenny, and naturally the pick of Parker's Lions, notably Pat Harder, Bobby Layne, Cloyce Box and Bobby Hoernschemeyer.

In the American camp will be Eddie Price of the New York Giants, rookie Ollie Matson, Chicago Cardinals; Ray Mathews and Elbie Nickel, Pittsburgh, to list a few.

The defensive teams are equally impressive. Don Paul, Stan West and Tank Younger of the Rams; Don Doll and Bob Smith, Detroit; Ed Sprinkle, George Connor and Dick Barwegan, Chicago Bears, and Harry Brown, 49ers, are included on the National squad.

Len Ford and Bill Willis, Browns; Enlen Tunnell, Arnie Weinmeister and Jo Baker, the Giants; Chuck Bednarik, Philadelphia; Jerry Shipkey, Bill McPeak and Ernie Statutner, Pittsburgh, and Washington's Harry Gilmer and Johnny Williams are on the American squad.

KNICK CAGERS, CELTICS, WIN

Defeat Syracuse And Indianapolis Before 14,105 Fans

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—Sparked by Dick McGuire and Connie Simmons, the New York Knickerbockers poured in 13 points in an overtime period to defeat the Syracuse Nationals 85-77 8, a wild, foul-filled National Basketball Association game at Madison Square Garden today.

By winning, the New Yorkers held their one game lead in the Eastern Division over the Boston Celtics, who trimmed the Indianapolis Olympians 78 — 63 in the first game of the doubleheader.

A crowd of 14,105 saw the Knicks score eight points in the last minute and a half of regulation play to send the game into overtime.

At the start of the extra session, Dick McGuire threw in four points and later Simmons added three more to clinch the Knicks' 10th victory in 11 games.

Simmons was the game's high scorer with 22 points. He connected for six field goals and hit 10 for 10 from the foul line.

Paul Seymour, the Nationals' smooth working guard, scored 17 points to lead the Syracuse attack.

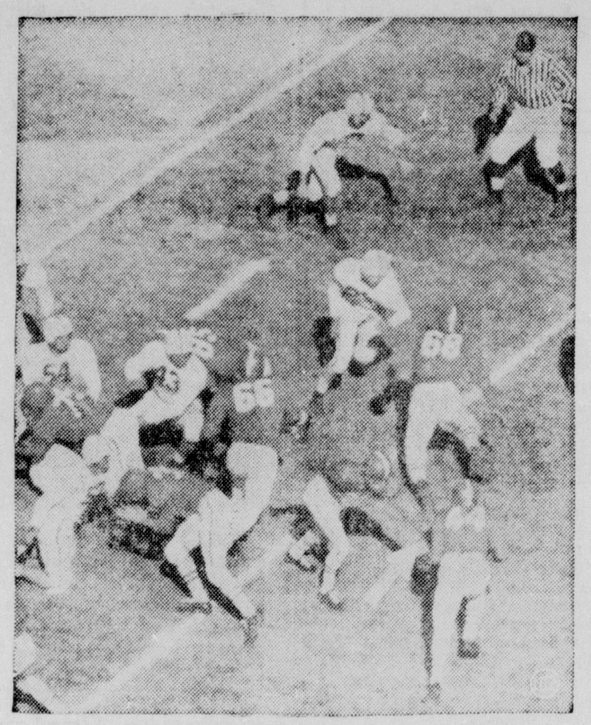

There were a total of 79 personal fouls in the game with four players fouling out.

NBA Will Consider 3 New Weight Divisions At New York Meeting

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 —UP—A proposal to establish three new weight divisions in professional boxing will be considered next Saturday and Sunday at New York meetings of the National Boxing Association's executive committee.

Harvey L. Miller, executive secretary of the NBA, will advocate the formation of new classes at 130 pounds, 140 and 190. Their addition would give the fight game 11 divisions instead of the current eight.

Miller of Washington, D. C., claims the increased size of the average American youth requires the changes. Thirty years ago the average American male of 21 scaled 135 pounds, Miller explains; but today he is about 10 pounds heavier and an inch taller because of better medication and living conditions.

REVENGE—Texas quarterback T. Jones hands-off to Gib Dawson (44), arrow, who got behind his team mate Phil Branch (68) and scampered into the end zone from the four-yard line for the first Texas score in the second quarter of the Cotton Bowl tilt at Dallas, Texas, dominating the game from start to finish, gained sweet revenge over a Tennessee team that failed to generate the spark of the 1951 Tennessee squad which beat Texas 20-14. Sauer, Shantz, As Most Valuable Player Winners, Must Watch Jinx

Berra, Campanella Last Year Victims Of MVP Jinx

NEW YORK ,Jan. 3 (AP) —Hank Sauer and Bobby Shantz, 1952's Most Valuable Player award winners, had better be on their guards next season.

The recently released sets of official major league averages, which oft-times follows many of Yogi Berra well down among the batters, again emphasized the jinx which off-times follows many of the MVP recipients.

Only a year ago, Campanella, Brooklyn's burly catcher, was being hailed as the National League's most valuable. He had batted .325 in 1951, driven in 108 runs and hit 33 home runs. Last season, although he still sparkled on defense, Campanella slumped to a .269 batting average, drove out only 22 homers and batted in 97 tallies.

Berra, who received the AL's award in '51, also took a nose-dive. The Yankees' backstop sticked .294 in '51 but tailed off to .273 last year. His home run output, increased, however, from 27 to 30.

Many of the other most valuable players during the past decade have been similarly affected.

In 1950, Jim Konstanty of the Philadelphia Phillies was the talk of the baseball world. The bespectacled relief hurler almost single-handedly led his club to the National League pennant. He won 16 games, lost only seven and set a major league record by appearing in 74 games.

The following season, Jim was just another pitcher, his record was just another pitcher, his record was a poor 4-11.

Lou Boudreau couldn't have asked for a better year than the one he had in 1948. He sparked Cleveland to the world's championship and received the AL's most valuable prize in the bargain. He batted .355, walloped 18 home runs, drove in 106 runs and collected 199 hits.

In 1949, Boudreau dropped to .2844 with only four circuit blows, 60 TBI's and 135 safeties. Too, the Indians dropped to third place in the standings.

Even Stan Musial found the most valuable hoodoo too much to cope with in 1947. He had a brilliant season in 1946, leading the senior loop in batting with a .365 mark. He also got 228 hits and pounded out 86 extra base hits, including 50 doubles.

But the following year, Stan dipped to his all-time low of .312, with 183 hits and 62 extra bases.

One of the most outstanding MVP form reversals involved Joe Gordon of the New York Yankees. Joe went on a batting rampage in 1942, hitting .322 and compiling 103 runs batted in. But in '45, the second baseman dropped 73 points to .249 with only 69 runs batted across.

So, Sauer and Shantz had better be careful. They're also most vulnerable now.

Cardinals Announce Five More Players Sign 1953 Contracts

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 3. (AP)—Five more members of the St. Louis Cardinals have signed their 1953 contracts, the club announced today.

The latest to sign are outfielder Hal Rice, pitchers Harvey Haddix and Willard Schmidt, third baseman Vern Benson and first baseman Neal Hertweck.

This brings the total of signed Redbird contracts over the halfway point with 22 out of 42 players on the winter roster now in owner Fred Saigh's office.

GOPHER GRIDDER MAKES RECORDS

Conference Credits Giel In Records; Cancels Kress Feat

CHICAGO, Jan. 3. (AP)—All-America halfback Paul Giel of Minnesota was credited with a share in a conference record, but another record by halfback Ted Kress of Michigan was cancelled in a revision of Big Ten football statistics today.

A check of the 21-21 tie between Minnesota and Wisconsin in their season finale showed Gopher Giel carried or passed the ball in 49 plays to equal a record first set in 1943 by Bob Hornschemeyer of Indiana. Indiana's Lou D'Achille also matched the mark in 1950.

Post-game statistics had not credited Giel with one pass completion attributed to quarterback Don Swanson.

Kress originally was credited with a new single game rushing record of 218 yards in Michigan's 48-14 trouncing of Northwestern. The 1943 record of 216 yards by Michigan's Bill Daley also against Northwestern still stands.

A review of the game's play-by-play, checked against movies, disclosed Kress was credited with 32 yards on fumble and lateral pass plays which official scoring rules cancel. Kress had been given total yardage gained on lateral pass plays, instead of yardage to the point of lateral. He also was credited for the gain on a loose ball recovery by Michigan nine yards ahead of one fumble.

Promoter Kallio Lists Boxing, Wrestling Date

Gus Kallio, boxing and wrestling promoter, has announced the next wrestling program will be held Monday, January 12th. Every week thereafter, wrestling cards will be featured on Monday nights, instead of Tuesdays, as in the past.

Promoter Kallis also states there will be a boxing program at his Arena on Wednesday, January 14, the card to be announced at a later date. In the future, any boxing matches will be scheduled for Wednesday nights, instead of the previous Monday programs.

On weeks there is to be no boxing, roller skating will hold sway Tuesday through the balance of the week, and on boxing weeks, there will be skating only on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Says 1953 Bears Resemblance To Year 1923, Known As 'Golden Age'

This Year's Sports May Be Called 'Fabulous Fifties'

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 3. (AP)—Here it is 1953. What's so significant about that? Nothing much, except this New Year baby bears a striking resemblance to his illustrious old grandpa, 1923.

This is the 30th anniversary of that year, one of the all-time banner years in sports. If 1953 can produce half the highlights and sensations of 1923, we might well be headed for a great new era known as the "the fabulous fifties."

For it was 1923 which ushered in the so-called "golden age," a period of athletic prosperity and achievement unparallelled in our history.

It was in 1923 that they raised Yankee Stadium — the house that Ruth built — and the late Babe Ruth christened the green, stone structure with one of his 714 home runs.

In 1923 the Yankees, under fiery little Miller Huggins, trimmed the Giants for their first World Series victory—starting a skein which was destined to stretch to 15 world championships.

A Finn named Paavo Nurmi set a new mile record in 4:10.4 and the University of Washington's eight-oar crew began a long-lasting dominance of the water by winning its first Poughkeepsie regatta.

A football player named Harold (Red) Grange opened his collegiate career at Illinois by ripping off touchdown runs of 35, 65 and 12 yards to help trample Nebraska.

Before his career was ended, the "Galloping Ghost" with the 77 on his back scored 31 touchdowns and ran up a total of 3,637 yards in three years.

It was on July 15, 1923 that the boy wonder from Atlanta, Bobby Jones, won his first major golf championship, ending what he called his seven years of famine and launching him on seven years of plenty.

Jones defeated wee Bobby Cruickshank in a playoff for the National Open crown at Inwood, N. Y. until that moment, he said, he was becoming discouraged over his repeated failures and was considering abandonment of the game.

The Atlantan went on to win four U. S. Opens, four British Opens, one British Amateur and five U. S. Amateur championships, closing his career with the unequalled grand slam of 1930.

It was on Sept. 14, 1923 that Luis Firpo, the Wild Bull of the Pampas, sent heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey sprawling into the laps of ringside newsmen in the first round of their battle at the Polo Grounds.

The Manassa Mauler barely climbed back into the ring in time to knock out Firpo in 57 seconds of the second round in a fight which sports writers two years ago voted the "top thrill of the century."

It was in 1923 that a 17-year-old girl in pig-tails, Helen Wills, cut down the veteran Mrs. Molla Mallory for the women's National Tennis Championship at Forest Hills. Thus began a reign that netted seven National and six Wimbledon championships in 14 years.

And how about 1953?

Another California lass, Maurren (Little Mo) Connolly from San Diego, is feminine ruler of the world's court's — at 16, already twice winner of the U. S. championship and queen of Wimbledon.

A husky, hard-hitting Brockton, Mass., shoemaker, Rocky Marciano, is the new heavyweight champion of the world — a throwback, the experts say, to the brine-soaked fists of Dempsey.

The Yankees, under Casey Stengel, are still on the rampage, going after their fifth straight World Series victory.

America's track and field forces are moving toward a new peak of achievement after a record-shattering Olympic triumph at Helsinki. A grimacing Czech, Emil Zatopek, already has eclipsed Nurmi's Olympic distance triumphs by winning the unbelievable triple—the 5,000, 10,000 and marathon in the space of a week.

A 22-year-old Australian named John Landy recently ran a mile in 4:02.1, just seven-tenths of a second slower than Gunder Haegg's world mark of 4:01.4.

Horse fans are talking about another Man O'War in Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Native Dancer, unbeaten juvenile, winner of nine straight races as a two-year-old and the winter book favorite for the 1953 Kentucky Derby.

Then there's the one coincidental link between the two eras. Southern California football team, on Jan. 1, 1923, played its first Rose Bowl game, whipping Penn State, 14-3.

On Jan. 1, 1953 the Trojans, winningest of all bowl teams, appeared in the Pasadena Pageant for the tenth time, to chalk up their ninth Rose Bowl win, defeating Wisconsin, 7-0.

North Carolina State Cagers Beat Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Jan. 3. (AP)—North Carolina State's Wolfpack awoke with a start after trailing Cincinnati by 13 points at half-time to throw a 33-point barrage in the third period and hand on doggedly for a 77-72 basketball triumph tonight over the underdog Bearcats.

North Central Ohio Loop Voted '52 Non-Pro Tops

WICHITA, Kans., Jan 3 (AP)—The North Central Ohio baseball league, comprising two divisions of eight clubs each, has been voted the most successful non-professional circuit in 1952, the National Baseball Congress announced today.

The Mansfield Merchants won the league title.

The National Baseball Congress is now franchising leagues in each of the 48 states for the coming season, president Ray Dumont announced.

BOOST — Utah State's Bob Harbertson seemingly gets an extra boost from Tom Hunt leaping high in the air to sink a driving shot for another two points as the westerners defeated Manhattan, 59-57, to win New York Holiday Basketball Festival at Madison Square Garden. (NEA)

LSU's Southern Boxing Champions To Meet 5 Top Teams In Nation

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 3—UP—Louisiana State's defending Southern Invitational Boxing champions will meet five of the nation's top teams in dual matches during 1953, Athletic Director T. P. Heard announced Saturday.

The Bengal boxers, tutored by Olympic Coach James T. Owen, will play host to Minnesota, Miami and South Carolina, and will meet Maryland and defending national titlist Wisconsin on the road.

The Tiger team will also take part in the Southern Invitational and National Collegiate tournaments.

Last year LSU won five of six dual meets, losing only to Wisconsin in the Sugar Bowl. The 1952 team defeated Miami, The Citadel, Army, South Carolina and Maryland.

The Bengal boxers open their season against Minnesota here Jan. 30.

Two More 'Mosts' Of American Loop Baseball Nominated By Umpire Napp

Names Most Talkative Catchers In American League

By Murry Rose

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP) — The two most talkative catchers in the American League are New York's Yogi Berra and Cleveland's Joe Tipton says umpire Larry Napp.

"Those two guys never let up," said Napp. "Always yat-a-ta-yat-a-ta. That Yogi is always hollering about something. One time the Yanks are playing the Athletics and Dave Philley comes to the plate. Now that Philley uses an old bottle bat that Jimmy Dykes must of used 30 years ago. It's short and stumpy... ....

"Yogi takes one look at the bat and he turns to me. 'Nappie,' He says. 'Look at that bat. It's a banana stalk. Is that legal?'

Right behind Philley comes Gus Zernial. Gus uses one of the longest bats in the majors —about 38 or 39 inches long. Compared to Philley's stick, it looks like a battleship gun.

Yogi takes a look and screams 'hey, Nappie, this guy's using an electric light pole. That ain't legal, is it?"

"of course both bats are legal," added Napp. "But that don't stop Yogi from bringing it up all the time. He just likes to talk.

"Now you take that Tipton," said the umpire, "He's always upset the batters. He asks the batters what song they'd like to hear. One day He's working on Ted Williams. His jaws never never stop. Ted steps out of the box and says to me: Nappy, pitchers never give me any trouble but this guy——!

"He steps back into the box and Tipton says to him: 'Ted, we're going to throw the next one right down the middle. Nice and fat. Bet you a hat you don't hit a homer. Sure enough the pitch comes down the alley, Ted steps into it, and the bat meets the ball solid. It has to be a homer. Without looking to see where the ball's going, Ted turns to Joe, says 'you owe me a hat' and then dashes to first.

"Tipton was speechless for the first time."

Napp, a very capable boxing referee as well as umpire, was one of a group of sports people who visited the Sunmount Veterans Hospital at Tupper Lake in the New York Adirondack Mountains last weekend. With him were Yankees Joe Collins and Tom Gorman, Dodger pitcher Billy Loes, and the writer. The trip was sponsored by the 52 Association, a fine organization of men and women dedicated to keep the promise that "the wounded shall never be forgotten."

The 52 Association, founded in 1945, has entertained and served more than 125,000 wounded and sick veterans and servicemen in and out of Army, Navy and Veterans Hospitals. The 52 Association does an outstanding job.

Anyone who doubts the value of sports in a troubled world should take a trip some day to a veterans hospital. The vets thrive on sports.

The vets tossed plenty of questions at the ball players. One of the first to Collins and Gorman was "what is it that makes the Yankees win the big ones consistently?"

Collins and Gorman did their best to explain but I thought an anecdote Collins told about his wife gives the best idea of Yankee spirit.

The first baseman related how "we were down in Philadelphia last season hoping to clinch the pennant there. Philly is only an hour and a half from home so I told her if we win the game, she should hop on the train and join us for the victory celebration.

"Well, we get into another one of those tough games with the A's and we go 11 hard innings to win 5-2 and clinch the pennant. When we get to our hotel, who do you think is sitting in the lobby waiting for me? the missus! I asked her how she got down here so fast.

"She looks at me sweetly, and says 'I was listening to the game on the radio and when you went ahead 1-0 in the third inning, I knew the Yanks were going to win and took off.'"

Southeastern Conference Gridders Bring Home Most Bowl Game Gravy

5 Members In Bowls Including Two In Sugar Tilt

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP) — Like hominy grits and gravy, they love football bowls down in Dixie, and who can blame 'em?

Southeastern Conference teams brought home more than half a million dollars — $572,500, according to first bookkeeping reports — from four of the top New Year's Day games. Of this, 25 per cent, or $143,125, was kicked back to the conference.

The Southeastern, which has been the major provider of the bowls for years, hit a peak even for itself this year by putting five of its members into major games — two of them, Georgia Tech and Mississippi, into the rich Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Tennessee played in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Alabama in the Orange Bowl at Miami and Florida in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville.

Tech and Mississippi each received $140,000 from the Sugar Bowl, which pulled in approximately $365,000 in ticket sales and perhaps another $100,000 or more from the television and radio proceeds.

Of this, one fourth went to the conference under a league rule, leaving the two teams $105,000 apiece. They had to pay their own expenses.

Tennessee brought back the same amount from the Cotton Bowl, gave the conference its cut of $35,000 and kept the rest. Texas, although 16-0 winner, received only $52,000. The Longhorns were permitted to keep three-tenths of their share, plus $10,000 expenses, with one-tenth going to the Southwest Conference office and the rest to be divided among conference members.

The game grossed around $320,000, after 15 per cent for stadium rental, and picked up $90,000 from TV and radio receipts.

The take-home pay of Alabama, 61-6 victor over Syracuse in the Orange Bowl, was $102,500 but the Tide had to shell out $25,625 to the conference. Syracuse also received $102,500 with no stringe attached.

The game grossed approximately $360,000, plus $62,500 from TV and radio.

The fifth Southeastern Conference team, Florida, collected $50,000 for beating Tulsa 14-13 in the Gator Bowl and kept $37,500 after giving the conference its bite. Tulsa received $44,000 of the estimated $165,000 gross, which was increased with $3,500 in radio monies.

The Rose Bowl continues to be the richest of the post-season classics but not the best deal financially for the participants. This year the gate receipts at Pasadena amounted to around $400,000 with TV and radio receipts adding $500,000.

The Pacific Coast Conference and Big Ten each collect around $360,000 but distribute the money so widely that it takes an auditor to keep track.

For instance, out of the PCC share, Southern California, winner over Wisconsin 7-0, will get about $65,000. The other $295,000 is distributed among conference members.

The Big Ten carves its take into 11 chunks, giving Wisconsin as the representative team two shares and the other nine mmebers one share each. That makes Wisconsin's share also around $65,000.

MIZE WINS BABE RUTH MEMORIAL

Trophy For Outstanding Player Of Yank-Dodger Series

NEW YORK, Jan. 3. (AP)—Bulky, 40-year-old Johnny Mize, who was warming a large section of the Yankee bench when the 1952 World Series began, has been selected as the outstanding player of the Yankee-Dodger series and winner of the Babe Ruth Memorial Trophy.

His selection was announced today by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America, which has awarded the trophy for the past four years. Mize is the fourth Yankee to win it. Others were Joe Page, 1949; Gerry Coleman, 1950, and Phil Rizzuto, 1951.

Mize, former National Leaguer who never got into a world series until he joined the Yankees, made his first 1952 series appearance in the third game as a pinch hitter. He belted a homer, then added two more in the next two games and finished the series with a .400 batting average.

BERNICE GIRLS, ARKANSAS BOYS WIN TRI-PARISH

Host Bernice Boys Team Eliminated In Opening Round

BERNICE, La., Jan. 3 (Special) —In the Tri - parish basketball tourney, played here Friday and Saturday, the Bernice girl cagers and the Junction City, Ark. boys team emerged as tourney winners.

The Bernice girls defeated Lisbon in the finals, 36-24, to cop the Union-Claiborne-Lincoln Parish title, with Trudy Green, of Bernice, and Betty Nichols, of Lisbon, each scoring 18 points to top the scorers.

In the boys finals, Junction City, the tourney guest team, defeated Spearvill, 42-35; with Mos shigh scorer for Junction City, scoring 17, and Holloway hooping ten points for the losers.

The girls semi-finals found Lisbon beating Junction City, 31-27; English for Lisbon with 15, and Owens for Junction City, with 16 pacing the scorers. In the second semi - final, Bernice topped Spearsville, 39-31, Green sinking 17 points for the hostesses, and Odom scoring 14 for Spearsville.

The boys semi-final play found Spearsville nipping Lisbon, 51-49, with Griffon pacing the winner's attack with 17 points, while Kilgore, of Lisbon, scored 18. In the second game, Junction City edged Hico, 42-41. Ainsworth was Junction City's pace - setter, with 11 points, while for Hico, Kay and Moon each garnered ten.

Trophies were awarded to first and second place teams in each division.

The first round play of the tournament on Friday found the Junction City boys defeating Dubach, 40-39, in a close tussle; with Ainsworth leading the Arkansas lads with 15 points, and Colvin scoring an identical number for Dubach; Spearsville downing Summerfield, 50-32; Griffon was high point man for the winners with 17, and Moss, for Summerfield, with 14; and Lisbon High defeating Bernice, 51-27; Copeland scoring 14 points for Lisbon, and Salley, nine for Bernice.

The girl basketballers' opening round saw Junction City beating Hico, 33-26; Owens scoring 18 points for Junction City, and Henry 21 for Hico; Lisbon winning over Dubach, 36-26, with Nicholas scoring 17 for Lisbon, and Hanna 11 for Dubach; and Spearsville defeating Summerfield, 33-25; Smith leading Spearsville with 15 points, and Bailey, with 17, leading the losers.

The Bernice sextet drew a bye in the first round.

NCAA Meeting This Week; Will Discuss TV Problem

TELEVISION TO REQUIRE 2 FULL DAYS OF MEET

Trying To Find Way To Become Strong Enforcement Body

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association meets here next week, and its No. 1 problem can be summed up on one word:

Television.

Last fall the N. C. A. A. tried an experiment, limiting television during the regular season to a game a week. The N. C. A. A.'s committee on television met in New York last month, hashed over the question for a couple of days and came up with the tentative conclusion that he experimen had been okay.

"It worked satisfactorily," the committee said of the N. C. A. A. program.

But there have been dissents.

Some feel the idea is all right, but that area games could be substituted for the one chosen for national distribution. Others, such as he officials at Pennsylvania and Notre Dame, would prefer to see all restrictions removed.

The television committee has scheduled two all - day meetings, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, to work on the problem again.

The N. C. A. A. still is trying to find a way to become a strong enforcement body, and it may have the answer in a 10-point plan drawn up by its membership committee.

Certainly the plan looks formidable enough, judging by the 2,250-word report that was put out with it.

The basic idea behind the plan: To set up machinery whereby the membership committee can more easily punish violators of the association's principles of conduct.

At present, any complant is referred to the head of the institution involved. If any more investigating is to be done, it must be carried on by the membership committee, a subcommitee, or the N. C. A. A. executive director.

The committee's plan included: (A) greater powers to investigate, (B) clearer definition of disciplinary powers and (C) closer cooperation with the various conferences in ferreting out and doing something about violations.

The N. C. A. A. proper doesn't get down to business until Thursday, but related organizations will get under way first to make it a full week.

Meeting with the N. C. A. A. will be:

The American Football Coaches Association.

American Association of College Baseball Coaches.

Sports Division of American College Public Relations Association.

The College Athletic Business Managers Association.

Walter Byers, executive director of the N. C. A. A., will hold a news conference tomorrow to explain what can be expected to come up during the week.

Then the N. C. A. A. executive committee goes to work Monday, as do the directors of the football hall of fame.

The baseball coaches have a meeting scheduled Monday night.

NEW YORK, NBA GROUPS TO MEET

To Consider Middleweight, Featherweight Divisions

NEW YORK, Jan 3 (AP)— The National Boxing Association today announced the agenda for meeting of two committees in New York, Jan. 10 and 11, in a move for closer co-operation with the New York State Athletic Commission.

George Barton of Minneapolis, NBA president, and commissioner, Abe Greene of Paterson, N. J. released details of the schedule.

The special eight - man committe will meet with chairman Bob Christenberry and the other members of the New York Commission Jan. 10 at the Hotel Astor.

"Since 1921 we have been striving for closer co-operation with New York," said Greene. "But heretofore New York has not accepted the invitations to attend our conventions. We are hopeful that great good for boxing will result from the meetings."

The NBA executive committee will consider the current status of the middleweight and featherweight division and will work on the television problem. With Sugar Ray Robinson now retired, the middleweight title is open. While Sandy Saddler is in the Army, an interim featherweight champ may be recognized.

Also on the agenda is a plan for collaboration with Great Britain in the lightheavyweight and middleweight title bouts, recommendations of the medical committee on safety mats and a substitute for resin and the site of the '53 convention

Ex-Detroit Lion Coach Thinks His 1935 Team Could Beat '52 Champs

'Potsy' Clark Says His Defense Of '35 Was Tougher

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 3. (AP)—It is George (Potsy) Clark's opinion that this year's Detroit professional football championship team is a good one. Yet he thinks the team he coached to the championship in 1935 could beat the 1952 champs.

Potsy, now Athletic Director of the University of Nebraska, gives as his reasons.

1. His 1935 club had a better defense It is his opinion that defense won the title for the 1952 Lions against the Cleveland Browns. Just the same he rates his four outstanding ends of 1935 and his "inner line" as a bit tougher combination.

2. His 1935 club had a better offense. Clark said he wouldn't trade Dutch Clark, the Colorado College whiz who quarterbacked the 1935 champs, first undisputed Detroit titleholder, for Bobby Layne, Tex., who guided the present champs. Nor, he said, would he trade Ernie Caddel, of Stanford, his ace running back, for Doak Walker, Southern Methodist, of this year's team.

3. His 1935 club not only won the title, but in 1934 the same club won ten straight games before losing to the Chicago Bears. Clark also listed his 1931 and 1932 teams, with many of the 1935 players on them, as "actual champs" if not official ones.

Clark who watched the Lions nip Cleveland last Sunday via television, said he was impressed with the play of Lions fullback Pat Harder yet didn't think Harder was any better than Ace Gustowski in 1935.

Clark's champions operated off the single wing and the former coach declared he wouldn't sway that formation for the generally favored "T" of today. In recent years the "T" has been improved, but, Clark said, only a handful of coaches have worked on improving the single wing.

Too many coaches today, said Clark, are afraid they are going to lose their jobs. So, he commented, they use the same formation, trade their movies and trade their defensive formations.

Clark declared he would like to see more individualism — then pointed to Michigan State's Coach Biggie Munn as "an individualist of the old school."

Of the Lions - Brown game he said the contest showed that even with the pros the fundamentals of blocking and tackling are still the heart of the game. It was "one of the few pro games I have seen that they didn't pass every time they got hold the ball," Potsy chuckled.

Flu Forces Demaret Out Of Golf Tourney

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3. (AP)—Golfer Jimmy Demaret bowed out of the Los Angeles Open golf tournament today, the victim of influenza.

Demaret, winner of the event in 1939 and one of the most popular golfers in the business, shot a first round 73 yesterday but complained of feeling ill during the round. It developed he was running a fever of 103 degrees.

"I feel better but I'm pretty weak and the doctor said to stay in bed a few days— I'll be all right," Demaret said at his hotel.

Lack of public knowledge has made a fertile field for new forms of quackery which exploit the consumer pocketbook and impair his health by inducing him to rely on bizarre diets for treatment of serious diseases. — U. S. Food and Drug Commissioner C. W. Crawford.

Downsville Boys Win Over Bernice, 49 - 44; Girls Lose, 35 To 30

DOWNSVILLE, La., Jan. 3 (Special)—The Downsville High cagers split a double-header with the Bernice teams at Bernice Tuesday night; the boys winning their game, 49-44; and the girls' sextet losing, 35-30.

In the boys game, Hamilotn was high point man for Downsville, with 21; and for the losers, P. Salley rang the bell for 19 markers.

The Downsville girls played without the services of two of their leading players, J. Taylor and V. Ballard, and their coach.

High scorer for the Downsville girls was Wilhite, with 15 points; and Tucker for Bernice with 24.

Santa Anita Race Fan Arrested At Track; He Doesn't Mind At All

ARCADIA, Calif., Jan. 2. (AP)—Officers arrested Donald D. (Tex) Coty, 46-year-old carpenter, on a charge of being drunk at Santa Anita racetrack Thursday.

He was hustled from the track before the second race. While he was being booked at the Arcadia jail, his horse, Micoka, a 60-1 shot, was winning the race.

Friday, Coty bailed out of jail for $25, returned to the track and cashed his nine $2 tickets for $126.20 each, a total of $1,135.80.

Preacher Bob Richards Pole Vaults 15-1 Inch

DORTMUND, Germany, Jan. 3. (AP)— Bob Richards, America's Olympic pole vault champion, soared 15 feet, one inch in the International Amateur Sports meet here tonight.

The Pastor from LaVerne, Calif., thus bettered his Olympic mark of 14 feet 11.14 inches. He had done 15 feet 4 3-4 inches.

West German Chancellor Adenauer attended the indoor show featuring Olympic stars of several countries. In a speech before the 6,000 fans he praised the valuable contribution sports have made to international friendships.

Richards flew 7,000 miles to participate in tonight's meet. He will spend two days in Germany and fly home Monday.

Army Quintet Defeats Williams College, 84-60

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 3 (AP)— Bil Hannon, high scoring captain of the Army basketball team, led the Cadets to their third straight victory of the season, an 84-60 win over Williams College in the field house today.

A native of Westville, Ind., Hannon scored 26 points in pacing the Cadet attack. His play under the backboards was also instrumental in enabling the Cadets to build up a 14-point halftime lead.

Michigan State Quint Whips Ohio State, 68-57

EAST LANSING, Mich., Jan. 3 (AP)—Michigan State used team play and control ball tactics to offset the 32 points made by Paul Ebert, the high scoring Ohio State center, and went on to win a Western Conference basketball game 68-57 here tonight.

Great Indoor Winter Track Year Shapes Up For U. S. This Season

Competition Starts In Madison Square Garden Jan. 29

NEW YORK, Jan 3 (AP)— One of the greatest winter indoor tracks seasons ever is shaping up for the United States with a program spiced by an imposing list of Olympic champions plus sparkling foreign invaders.

Competition here starts with the Millrose Games at Madison Square Garden. New York, Jan. 29 and reaches its climax in the American championships, also at the Garden, Feb. 14. Other big meets take place in Boston, Washington, Philadelphia, Chicago, to Cleveland, and Milwaukee.

Among the American Olympic stars expected to share in indoor track are Mal Whitfield, two time 800 meter king; Horace Ashenfeeler, surprise winner of the Helsinki steeplechase; Lindy Remigino, little 100 meter champion; and Andy Stanfield, 200 meter king.

George Rhoden of Jamaica, the 400 meter winner, plus his long striding countryman. Herb McKenley, will be back. Walt Davis, the Texan who won the high jump, is expected to appear in northern indoor arenas, as is Bob Richards, the pole vault winner at Helsinki.

From Germany will come Heinz Ulzheimer, third in the 800 at Helsinki with 1:49.7 and Rolf Lammers, sixth in the 1,500 with 3:46.8, equivalent to a 4:04 mile. They will compete in the Millrose Games and in the major meets that follow, such as the Boston A. A. Games Jan. 31., the New York Athletic Club Games Feb. 7, and the American Championships.

Herbert Schade, the German who was third in the 5,000 at Helsinki with 14:08.6, is due in time for the national championships.

There is a possibility that Josef Barthels, the unknown, little runner from Luxembourg who won the Olympic 1,500 meters, will come over for a single meet. In addition, Bob McMillen of Occidental College, California, who was inches behind Barthels, may come east to compete.

For the first time Turkey is sending over three track stars. They are Osman Cosgul, who will arrive in Mid-January, and who outran America's best distance runners at Helsinki--men such as Curtis Stone, Charles Cappazoli, Wes Santee, and Fred Wilt. In 1951 he beat Horace Ashenfelter at 5,000 and 10,000 meters.

The other Turks are Erdal Bakay, who has a clocking of :14.7 for the high hurdles, and Kemal Horulu, Turkey's best from 300 to 600 yards.

Don Gehrmann, the former Wisconsin flash who failed to make the Olympic team, is expected to try for a comeback in the indoor distance races, and Fred Wilt, the tireless FBI man, will be on hand to duel with him.

PAPER HAS TV POLL RESULTS

Show One-Third People Polled Willing To Pay Fee

CHICAGO, Jan. 3 —UP—The Chicago Herald-American said every three persons who voted in its recent football television poll expressed willingness to pay a small fee to see gridiron games on their TV sets.

The newspapers aid 18,056 persons in 23 states voted in the poll, one of the briskest responses to public opinion sampling it has received in recent years.

The small fee plan was one of four possibilities that voters were asked to consider. The newspaper said that 5,966, or 33 per cent, voted approval.

But the Herald-American said that only 783 voters, a mere four per cent, liked the present controlled-television plan practiced by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

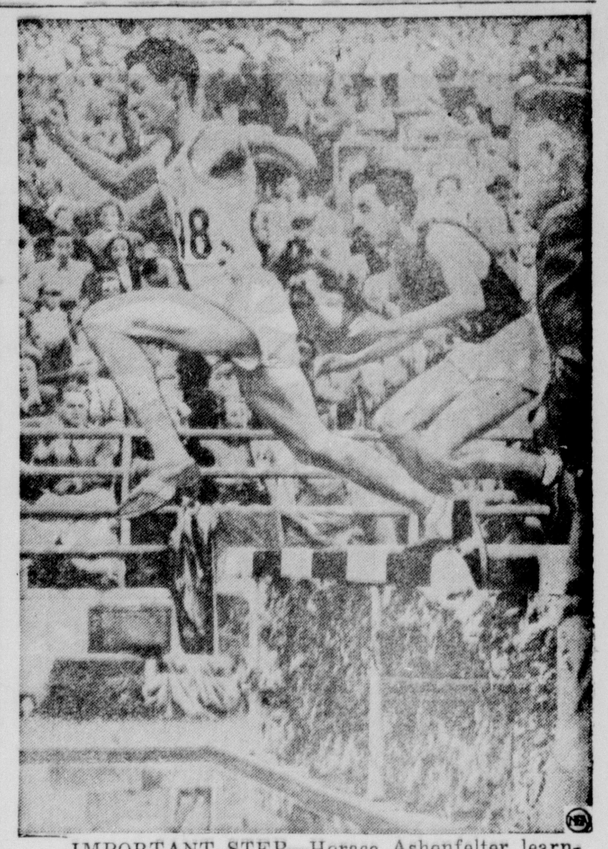

The strongest approval, 6,296 votes, or 35 per cent, was given to a policy of unrestricted television, as advocated by such schools as Notre Dame and the University of Pennsylvania.

The Big Ten suggestion of televising the major game in each section of the country each Saturday was backed by 5,011 votes, or 28 per cent of the total.

The Herald-American said results of the poll are being sent to Asa Bushnell, chairman of the NCAA television committee, for study in advance of the association's annual convention opening in Washington next Tuesday.

Penn Tops Pitt Cagers In Overtime Tilt, 81-76

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3 (AP)—A hard driving Penn basketball team, playing without the services of the Nation's high-average scorer, Ernie Beck, staged a spirited last quarter rally to defeat the Pitt Panthers, 81-76, in overtime tonight in the first game of a Palestra doubleheader before 5398 screaming fans.

PIRATES REDUCE FARMS TO NINE

Denver And Billings Working Agreements Ended

PITTSBURGH, Ja. 3—UP—General Manager Branch Rickey announced Saturday that the Pittsburgh Pirate farm system has been reduced to nine clubs with the termination of working agreements with two wgestern teams.

Agreements were ended Saturday with Denver, Colo., of the Class A Western League and Billings, Mont. of the Class C. Pioneer loop.

Earlier the Pirates ended similar arrangements with Hollywood of the Class AAA Pacific Coast League; Modesto of the California Pittsburg, Kan. of the KOM League, and Mayfield, Ky. of the Kitty League.

The Pirates own three farm clubs outright—New Orleans of the Class AA Southern Association; Waco, Tex. of the Class B. Big State League and Brunswick, Ga., of the Georgia-Florida Class D. League.

The Pirates have retained working agreements with Charleston, S.C., of the Class A Sally League; Burlington, N.C., of the Class B. Carolina League; Hutchinson, Kan., of the Class C. Western Association; Bristol, Va., of the Appalachian D loop, Batavia, N.Y., of the Class D Pony League, and St. Johns, Quebec, Class C.

PROOF! Gertrude Berg, TV star of The Goldbergs, watched as a full glass of water was placed on one of 837 independent-action Beautyrest springs. She was amazed that water did not spill when near-by springs were pushed down. Reason: Beautyrest is made differently. Springs not "tied together." Result: No sags, just even, "Levelized Support."

PROOF! Above, John Ringling North (President of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus) and circus elephant, "Big Mo." Elephant is hoisting all five tons into air, with rear feet planted on Beautyrest. (Note right foot on edge of mattress.) Yet even this weight failed to break down patented, sag-proof edges. Proof: Beautyrest is built to stand hard use.

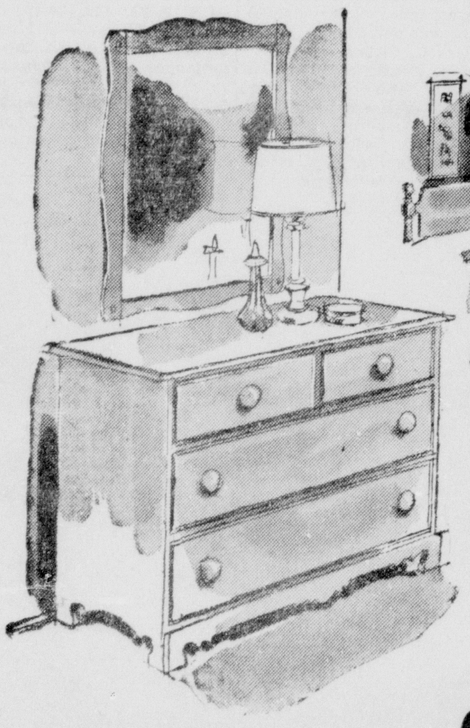

PROOF! "I hereby certify," says Mrs. Anita Propeack, New York City Notary Public, "that I went to the United States Testing Co., and saw the brutal 'Torture Tester' machine pound leading mattresses till they broke down. Beautyrest took 740,744 more poundings, lasted twice as long as any other mattress tested. It really can take it!"

Miss Doris Levy And Burton Philip Bodan Pledge Vows

December Wedding Is Solemnized At Home Of Bride's Parents In Memphis

A lovely wedding of the Holiday Season was that of Miss Doris Levy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Joseph Levy, of Memphis, whose marriage to Burton Philip Bodan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Bodan, of this city, was solemnized at the home of her parents. Dr. Harry W. Ettelson of Temple Israel officiated. Mrs. Paul Allen played the wedding music.

The music room, where the ceremony was solemnized, was decorated with white stock and white chrysanthemums, held in a large basket, and flanked by lighted tapers in branching candelabra. Arrangements of white snapdragons and white carnations decorated the living room. The dining room table was centered with a tiered wedding cake, encircled with white camellias, with compotes holding bouquets of lilies of the valley at the sides. Throughout the home were other flowers, matching the decor of the various rooms.

The bride wore an original Madam Emily wedding dress of white Chantilly lace, fashioned with a picture neckline, a filmy yoke of illusion outlined by a scallop of lace that framed her face, and a bouffant skirt. The veil of English illusion was held by a half Juliette cap. She carried a colonial bouquet of white camellias and lilies of the valley.

Miss Joan Levy, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, Miss Elaine Stein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Stein was bridesmaids, ad Miss Helen Levy, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. The bridesmaids wore shell pink nylon net and tissue taffeta frocks, and carried bouquets of shell pink carnations.

The frock of the junior bridesmaids was of the same design and material.

Alvin Bodan, brother of the bridegroom, attended him as best man, and Irving Lax was groomsman.

Mrs. Levy, mother of the bride, wore an original gown of emerald taffeta. Mrs. Bodan, mother of the bridegroom, wore a bouffant gown of illusion over silk taffeta, in a soft shade of gray.

Mrs Joseph Levy, grandmother of the bride, had chosen gray Chantilly lace. Their corsages were of white orchids.

Following the reception the young couple left on a southern wedding trip. Upon their return, they will live at 1167 Poplar, Memphis, Tenn.

A series of social events preceded the wedding, the two final events being a cocktail party Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Freudberg, followed by a rehearsal dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roth entertained at the Peabody.

Joy Class Has December Social

Mrs. Fred R. Cook and her mother were co - hostesses for the Joy Class of the First Baptist Church for the December social at the home of Mrs. Meyers on Gordon Avenue.

The reception suite was beautifully decorated in Christmas greens and sprays of holly and gold and silver snow flakes. In the living room was a lighted and gift laden tree. The dining room had as a central decoration Christmas arrangement on a crystal plaque.

Games were enjoyed by the class members and their visitors after a delicious dinner. They were Mrs. Gertrude Lyles, Mrs. Fern Wilson, Mrs. Irene Goza, Mrs. Dolly Goza, Mrs. Tina Hardison, Mrs. Bessie Cloud, Mrs. Era Prentice, Mrs. Mary Koch, the visitors were Mrs. J. E. Hodges, Mrs. Lucy Keller, Mrs. Betty Fisher, Mrs. Brand Seaman, Mrs. Ola Mae Passman and Mrs. Cecil Jones.

Bridal Shower Is Given Honoring Johnny Ray Wilson

Miss Johnny Ray Wilson was honoree at a bridal shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Soignier, 703 Montgomery Street, West Monroe, Saturday evening, December 27. The reception room was beautifully decorated with a holiday theme, including a lovely lighted Christmas tree. Miss Wilson received many lovely gifts consisting of lingerie, linens, and crystal.

Mrs. H. B. Wilson was co-hostess with Mrs. Soignier and they served a salad course to the following guests: Mrs. Simon Soignier, Mrs. Henry Miller, Mrs. J. H. Wilson, Mrs. Lee Bass, Mrs. J. J. Brockner, Mamie Danna, Margaret Bryant, Mrs. W. B. Thompson, Mrs. B. D. Wilson, Mrs. E. J. Moffett, Mrs. G. B. Wilson and the honoree. Others sending gifts but could not be present were: Mrs. Leon Prestwood, Mrs. J. B. Miller, Peggy Jean Webber, Mary Virginia Parker, Mrs. S. M. Edwards, Mrs. W. E. McFarland, and Josephine Trichell.

Greasy, stained kitchen boards can be bleached to clean whiteness. Soften top layer of the wood with Javelle water or lye. This will take about half an hour. Then scrape with paint knife or piece of glass, letting the shavings fall on newspaper. Rinse with vinegar or lemon juice. Fill any cracks with putty or wood filler. When dry, rub smooth with steel wool or sandpaper. Brush in warm linseed oil, allowing it to soak in for a stain-resistant finish, or varnish with waterproof varnish.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED — Mrs. James E. Berry, before her marriage Saturday, October 18, was Miss Anne Gates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Gates. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Berry.

Small curtains may be pinned for drying to a table covered and padded like an ironing board.

Coat bureau drawer runners with shellac during dry weather to prevent sticking when it's damp.

Miss Sallie Lou Victory To Wed Cecil M. McKenzie

Of cordial interest here is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edward Victory, of Shreveport, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sallie Lou, to Cecil Marshall McKenzie, of Shreveport, son of Mrs. Clara H. McKenzie of West Monroe, and Miller McKenzie of Lake Charles.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, January 24 at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the chapel of the First Baptist Church. Dr. James W. Middleton, pastor, will officiate.

Mrs. Charles O. Cook, Jr., cousin of the bride-elect, will serve as matron of honor and Miss Victory's sister, Miss Sharon Victory, will be the bridesmaid.

Mr. McKenzie has asked Lieut. Thomas L. McKenzie, his brother, to be best man, and the ushers will include Edward M. Egan and Lieut. Rodney L. Salmon.

Miss Victory is a graduate of Byrd High School and Centenary College and attended the graduate school of the University of Colorado. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta social sorority and of Chi Sigma Nu and Cencoe. Her grandparents are Mrs. Currie B. Horton, of Shreveport and the late Gay Taylor Horton, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Benjamin Victory of Shreveport. She is the niece of the Rev. James T. Horton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of this city.

The late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lewis Holloway of Marion and the late Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McKenzie of Monroe are the bridegroom-elect's forebears. Mr. McKenzie attended the United States naval academy at Annapolis, Md., and is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute and of the graduate school of social welfare of Louisiana State University. He is employed as the rehabilitation counselor with the state department of public welfare.

The couple will reside in Shreveport after the ceremony.

Before pressing dresses and blouses, slip the damp garments over ironing board and pat it into shape with Turkish towel. Half the pressing job can be done in this way so that actual ironing is not difficult.

Stand a scorched pot in a pan of cold water 15 to 30 minutes and do not scrape the bottom.

Eastern Stars And Masons Install Officers

Collinston Lodge 357 and Harry Vaughn Chapter 125 held a joint installation at the Methodist Educational Building Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

Vaughn Harkness was the installing officer for the Masons and Mrs. Irma Mae Boyd of Natchez was installing officer; Mrs. Katie Dalgarn, installing marshall; Mrs. Bernice Pratt, installing chaplin, and Mrs. Barbara Lowrey, installing organist for the Eastern Stars.

A delicious barbecue chicken supper was enjoyed by the large group present after the installation service.

Georgia Tucker P.T.A. Has Meet

The Georgia Tucker Parent-Teacher Association held its regular December meeting at the school with the president, Mrs. Paul Thompson, presiding.

A chorus, consisting of fifth and sixth grade students sang several Christmas carols after which Mrs. Thompson introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Wayne MacFadden. He spoke on "At Peace with Others." This talk was very appropriate with the Yuletide season so near.

Refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

Miss Pasternack Becomes Bride

Of prominent interest in and around Ferriday and this section is the wedding of Miss Betty Claire Pasternack of Ferriday to Harold Clinton Samuels, of Brookhaven, Miss., which was solemnized at seven - thirty o'clock Sunday night December 28 in Natchez at the Temple B'Nai Israel.

The wedding party consisted of Mrs. Alvin Wexler, of Houston, Tex.; (nee Miss Marilyn Pasternack) as matron of honor; Miss Betty Louise Gray of Ferriday; Miss Dorris Levy, of Natchez, Miss.; as maid of honor, and bridesmaid respectively; little Miss Linda Pasternack of Alexandira, La., as flower girl and Master Larry Kullman of New Orleans and Morris Pasternack of Memphis, Tenn., as ring-bearers.

Mr. Donald Samuels of Brookhaven, Miss., brother of the groom served as best man and Messrs. Joe Pasternack, Jr., of Ferriday and David Pasternack, of New York as groomsmen.

Serving as ushers were: Melvin Buchman and Sam Abrams of Brookhaven, Miss. and Messrs. Bernard Kullman, Wilfred Kullman, Jr., and Frederick Kullman, Jr., of New Orleans.

Girl Scout News

Now it can be told — those Christmas secrets. Wonder how many girls really kept their gifts for Mother secret until Christmas? It's hard for the young to do, we know.

We can't imagine any lovelier surprise than the Christmasey aprons the girls of Troop 28 made for their mothers. Made of white organdy and stencilled with a poinsettia design, they were as gay and original as anything we've seen. A committee of four girls, Mary Emma Wilson, Martha Riser, June Johnson, and Sally Hinkle made the design and did the stencilling. We know that all 16 mothers appreciate the effort involved when busy teenagers spend as much time at troop meetings and on Saturdays to make these gifts. Leaders Eula Davenport and Wanda Hinkle were in on the secret, of course.

Big red appies, yellow pears and other fruit potholders made from colorful scraps were Troop 5's gifts to their mothers. Mrs. J. M. Heidenreich and Mrs. James H. Belote helped.

Ivy containers that look as if ivy would like to grow in them were the gifts of girls of Troop 34 to their mothers. Also, to grow a cutting or take care of a plant for several weeks is part of the second class rank requirements on which the troop is working. Sounds smart to us to combine the requirement and the gift. June Strausser and Doris Keller are leaders of this group of first-year intermediates.

Troop 13, also first year intermediates, at Highland School made bright plaques for mother's kitchen with the aid of leaders, Mrs. A. L. Gates and Mrs. E. J. Miller. The girls reported that they had a lot of fun making the gifts.

Troop 12's pincushions made from scraps sounded as if they were attractive and useful. And troop 7 made pretty sachets to go in mother's dresser drawers.

Guess every troop didn't have a party, but we heard that Troops 2, 32, and 40 were planning to have a good time at their troop parties.

The registration that made Georgia Tucker a 100 per cent school with a troop available to every girl of Scout age was that of Troop 39, first year intermediates. Mrs. J. B. Corder and Mrs. Leon Noland, both experienced in Girl Scouting, will be leaders of the troop which is made up of girls from Georgia Tucker and Lexington Schools. Most of the girls have already been members of the troop for three years.

Speaking of length of membership, Troop 40 has started its fifth year of activity. For their first year as Brownies they were in troop 4 with Mrs. Louis K. Turner as leader. The next year Troop 4 divided, the younger girls becoming Troop 40 with Mrs. R. W. Rogers and Mrs. Andy Conaway as leaders. For intermediate scouting Mrs. G. A. Sievers has been leader.

Enrolled in the troop are: Alice Bower, Rena Conaway, Doretta Dyer, Linda Hendricks, Linda Hines, Patricia Howard, Toni Hubka, Janice Murphy, Sarah Peters, Linda Robinson, Glenda Rogers, Linda Rogers, Gay Sievers, Sue Smith, Diane Stancil, Ann Walker and Marcia Willis.

We had strict instructions to mention the Girl Planning Board meeting, so, lest we forget, here is the announcement. G. P. B. will meet Saturday morning, January 10, that's next Saturday, from 10:00 until 11:00 o'clock at the Girl Scout office. From what we hear, girls from different troops enjoy getting together and planning together with Edna Bishop as adviser. Don't know just what they'll talk about, but it's about time to be looking ahead to the Juliette Low program on the 41st anniversary of Girl Scouting in March.

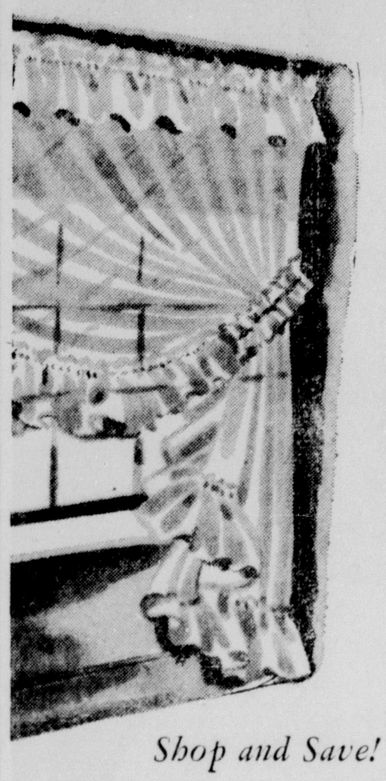

How about a name for camp? Rack your brains and send in a suggestion before the deadline.

Vows Said At Baptist Church

The wedding of Miss Jeanie Mae Crum and Mr. Robert Hale was celebrated January 1, 1953 at the Ferriday Baptist Church at 7:00 o'clock with Rev. Dick Griffin officiating. Attendants were: Matron of honor, Mrs. R. H. Dinger; bridesmaids, Jeannie Marie Mayer and Martha Ann Varnell, ushers: Charlie Chauvin and Billy Tennison, and best man was Mr. Merrill Marshman, of Dallas, Tex. The girl candlelighters: Bebe Joy Gallender and Emily Chauvin. The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dinger on Tennessee Avenue in Ferriday, where they will make their home.

Miss Beverly Glyn Martin Is Bride Of Bobby Jackson Lane

First Christian Church Is Scene Of Impressive Ceremony Of Holiday Season

One of the most beautiful and impressive holiday weddings was held Saturday evening, December 27, at 7:00 p.m., when Miss Beverly Glyn Martin, became the bride of Mr. Bobby Jackson Lane.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bass Benjamin Martin, of this city and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marvin Lane of Lake Charles.

The Rev. R. T. Watson, performed the very sacred and impressive double ring ceremony to a large concourse of friends and relatives.

The cathedral beauty of the interior of the sanctuary was enhanced by the simplicity and dignity of the decorations. Tall floor standards held large white calla lilies and trailing southern smilax. Myriad white tapers burned in branched wrought - iron candelabra. The altar had a background of calla lilies and ferns with the candelabra forming an arch overhead. This made a picturesque setting for the exchange of vows. Trailing bamboo vines were draped over the lantern lights down the side aisles, and red berries and greenery were banked under the beautiful recessed stained windows. The reserved pews were marked with calla lilies and smilax, tied with wide satin bows.

Mrs. R. V. Wroten, organist, rendered a beautiful pre - nuptial concert. She also accompanied Miss Lloydelle Walters who sang in lovely voice, "Through the Years" and "Because." She also sang "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction, as the bridal couple knelt on the white satin prie - dieu at the close of the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were played.

Preceding the ceremony, the candles were lighted by Mr. Cecil Broussard of New Iberia and Mr. Joseph Gravelle of Winnsboro, fraternity brothers of the groom.

The bridal attendants were charming and all wore identical gowns of luscious American beauty red. The tight - fitting bodices were made of crimson velvet with tucked in stole. The bouffant skirts of red net over red taffeta with velvet medallions on the skirt. They carried red velvet muffs to which specimen gardenias and silver ribbons were attached. They wore head dresses of silver fluted ribbons and silver sandals. The marked beauty of the five attendants, all close friends of the bride, was very striking.

Miss Agnes Jones, friend since childhood, served as maid of honor.

Mrs. Frank Lee of El Dorado, Ark., served as matron of honor.

Mrs. Graham Humble Mrs. Mariann B. Williamson and Miss Billie Harper served as bridesmaids.

Master Howie Smith, son of T. Sgt and Mrs. Howard J. Smith served as ring-bearer. He was in formal attire in accord with the other male members of the wedding party.

The radiant bride was a vision of loveliness as she came down the aisle on the arm of her father. Her gown was a Coronet creation of white duchess satin and French imported Chantilly lace. The lace formed the bodice and long sleeves which came to points at the wrists. The nylon yoke had a tiny stand-up collar. Tiny covered buttons down the back of the dress. The full flowing train had two wide panels of the lace and made an enchanting effect. She wore all the traditional "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue" and a lucky penny in her shoe. Her only piece of jewelry was an exquisite gold cross set with diamonds, a gift from the groom.

Robert Neely, served in the capacity of best man. Louie E. Singleton, K. B. Lake, Jr., William Robinson and Walter Horn, Jr., served as groomsmen. They were all boyhood friends of the groom in Lake Charles.

The ushers were L. G. Hunt, Jr., Henry Tilbury and Don Bacon, also fraternity brothers of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs Martin chose a dusty - rose lace dress with a yoke of silver sequins. She wore silver lace mitts and silver slippers. In her hair, she wore a halo of pink carnations and silver ribbons.

Mrs. Lane, the groom's mother, was lovely in a formal gown of stardust blue Chantilly lace. She wore matching gloves and sandals in the same shade, and a corsage of pink carnations.

Reception

A beautiful reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Glenn Moore, grandparents of the bride, stood at the door and welcomed the guests. Mrs. Moore was a picture in fuschia lace and net over taffeta with bustle back effect. She wore a corsage of white carnations tied with silver.

Mrs. Fred Huenfeld, Jr. presided at the guest book.

The bride's table was draped in a Mexican hand drawn cloth. The four tiered wedding cake formed the centerpiece. It was placed on a large mirror and surrounded by spun sugar wedding bells and valley lilies and surmounted with a miniature bride and groom. White satin ribbons ran to the four corners and large medallions of tulle and lilies of the valley were fashioned at the corners. Tall white tapers burned on either side in five branched silver candelabra.

Mrs. G. W. Morgan, close friend of the bride's family, and Mrs. F. C. Reynolds, great-aunt of the groom, cut and served the wedding cake.

The long punch table on the other side of the room had for its central decor, a beautiful antique silver bowl of white carnations and mums. Two large white satin wedding rings bearing the names, Beverly and Jack, were suspended in the center. Tall white tapers burned in triple silver candlesticks on each side. Pale green punch was dispensed at one end of the table by Mrs. L. J. Hulin and Mrs. P. A. Colvin and at the other end by Mrs. Otto Passman an Mrs. Herschel Gentry. Mrs. L. D. Rogers also extended courtesies in the serving.

The girls who assisted in passing the wedding cake and mints were: Misses Carolyn Bagwell, Barbara Hulin, Maurine Linquist, all of Monroe, and Mrs. James Cheneval of Alexandria.

The bride tossed her bridal bouquet into the arms of Miss Barbara Hulin. She, then, donned for traveling, a spring suit of royal blue gabardine. She wore a tiny white hat of pan velvet petals studded with seed pearls. She wore white gloves with suede pumps and matching bag and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The happy couple left in a shower of rice on their honeymoon to the Ozark Mountains. They will make their home temporarily in Norman, Okla., where Mr. Lane is presently stationed at the Naval Technical Training Center.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lane, Mr. Louie E. Singleton, Mr. Robert Neely, Mr. William Robinson, Mr. K. B. Lake, Mr., Mr. Walter Horn, Jr., all of Lake Charles, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burke, Mr. and Mrs. James Cheneval, of Alexandria, La.; Mr. Henry Tilbury, Mr. Don Bacon, of Mer Rouge, La.; Miss Barbara Spier, Miss Lola Hern, Mr. James Madison, of Bastrop, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Graham Humble of DeRidder, La.; Mr. Al Warren, Jr., Mr. Leo Terry, of New Orleans, La.; Miss Babs Pollard, Mr. Dick Sevier, of Tallulah, La.; Mr. Charles Gray of Minden, La.; Mrs. W. H. Canter of Vinton, La.; Mr. Ellis Sandoz, Mr. Bill Robinson, Miss Joyce Dawson, all of Shreveport, La.; Mr. William Bowdon, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. Henry Fergus of Tyler, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee of El Dorado, Ark.; Mr. Cecil Broussard of New Iberia, La.; Miss Bea Bradley of Delhi, La.; Mr. Joseph Gravelle of Winnsboro, La.; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jackson of Rayville, La.; Miss Nancy Ward of Wisner, La.

Rehearsal Supper

The rehearsal supper for the Maritn - Lane wedding party was held in the Cameo Room of the Virginia Hotel with Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lane as hosts.

A long buffet table was set up in one end of the room. A large centerpiece of fruit made a colorful decoration. Large platters of sliced ham, turkey, shrimp salad, tossed salad, relishes, pickled peaches, crabapples, fruit cake and coffee were served. A long table was set up down the center of the room where candles burned at intervals along the board.

The honoree was lovely in a semi-formal model of black and white starched taffeta made halter style. She wore a bright red velvet sash and black velvet stole over her bare shoulders.

The bride and bridegroom took this opportunity to present their attendants with gifts. Miss Martin gave each of her attendants after-dinner coffee spoons in her chosen silver with her and the bridegroom's names and the date of the wedding engraved. Mr. Lane presented his attendants handsome gold cuff links and tie clasps.

The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a handsome gold watch and his gift to the bride was a dainty gold cross set with diamonds.

Thirty-five guests attended this event.

Miss Mary Carl Underwood Bride Of Lt. Robert Dye

Methodist Church Of Mangham Is Setting For Impressive December Wedding

A wedding of interest throughout this section was that of Miss Mary Carl Underwood and Lt. Robert Dye. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Underwood of Mangham, the bridegroom is the son of Mr. Marvis Dye of Winnsboro.

The couple exchanged nuptial vows on Monday, Dec. 22, at 6:00 p. m. in the Methodist Church of Mangham, with the Rev. D. W. Poole of Lafayette, a close friend of the family, officiating.

An artistic arrangement of Southern smilax, grown in the yard of the bride planted when she was a little girl for her wedding, fern & palms formed the background for tall standards of pink stock and dyed candy tuft, wrought iron candelabras holding pink candles, the aisle was marked with tall white stands holding pink candles entwined with smilax.

In a pre-nuptial concert several numbers were played by Mrs. B. N. Hixon at the Hammond organ. She also accompanied Miss Elaine Canady, who sang, "Oh Promise Me." Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was rendered for the processional and Mendelssohns Wedding March for the recessional. While the organist played "Clair de Lune," the candles were lighted by Miss Patricia McConnell and Mr. Prichard Underwood, brother of the bride. The bride given in marriage by her father, was gowned in exquisite shell pink moire taffeta with pink lace bolero, the collar stood up to enhance her lovely blond beauty, the finger tip pink lace veil completed her costume. She carried an orchid on her pink prayer book. For something old, her maternal grandmother's engagement ring, a blue garter from the little flower girl, a hoop skirt borrowed from a friend, a penny in her slipper from a dear friend and something new was her trousseau.

Serving the bride as attendants were Mrs. Freddy Christian, as matron of honor, Miss Priscilla Backcom as maid of honor, Miss Marilyn Harper and Miss Kitty Pardue as bridesmaids. Little Miss Jennifer Lyn Bell was flower girl.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Leonard B. Archibald Jr. as best man. The groomsmen were George Sartor, Rex Pensinger and Prichard Underwood.

The bride's attendants wore gowns of varied shades of pink, identically like the brides. They also wore small pink net bonnets. Their flowers were crescents of pink split carnations. The candle lighters and flower girl were likewise gowned with arm corsages of pink carnations.

Miss Canady sang the Lord's Prayer as the benediction.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The spacious reception suite held artistic arrangements of pink and silver, tall candles lighted the rooms with a soft glow. Receiving with the bridal party were the hosts and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. H. H. Nash. The bride's mother was wearing an ice blue gown and corsage of pink carnations. The groom's grandmother wore black with pink carnation corsage.

The bride's table was overlaid with lace cloth. It was centered with tall pink tapers and the attendant's flowers made the centerpiece. At one end of the table was the large double wedding ring cake embossed in valley lilies and white wedding bells at the other end of the table. The crystal punch bowl was presided over by Miss Zona Morris and Mrs. B. M. Hixon. Miss Patricia McConnell at the bride's book. Assisting in the courtesies were Miss Jean Harper, Mrs. F. A. Childress, Mrs. Cecil Pardie and Mrs. E. C. Harper. For travel the bride chose a navy suit with pink accessories and the orchid from her bouquet as a corsage.

After a short honeymoon the young couple will be at home, Camp Gordon, Georgia, where the groom is stationed. The bride is a graduate of Mangham High School, Northwestern and has been employed at St. Francis Sanitarium in Monroe as technician.

Lt. Dye is a graduate of Mangham High School, attended Northeast Junior and Northeast State College. At present he is in the United States Army.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Gladney, Mrs. John Brunson, Ted Brunson, and Simmie Sayre, all of Rayville; Dr. and Mrs. Dee A. Strickland, Maidie Jean and Dee A. Jr., Dr. J. Q. Mr. And Mrs. Emmett Lee Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett J. Lee were complimented with an open house at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ben M. Lee, Thursday, December 25, on the occasion of their Golden Wedding anniversary. Guests called between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m.

Mrs. Lee, the former Miss May Tatum, and Mr. Lee were married on December 25, 1902 at the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Tatum of Cherry Ridge. They are the parents of three children, Mrs. Edward Everett, Jr. of Lake Charles, Ben M. Lee of Farmerville and Emmett J. Lee, Jr. of Arcadia, and grandparents of Jeff and Nancy May Lee, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ben M. Lee.

Receiving the guests with Mr. and Mrs. Lee were Mrs. Ben M. Lee, who greeted the guests at the door, and Mrs. W. C. Andrews, who was an attendant at the wedding of the celebrants. Others in the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Lee were their children.

The honored guest was becomingly dressed in a plum colored crepe original model. Her corsage was a white and gold orchid.

The house was beautifully decorated with yellow carnations and yellow rosebuds flanked by yellow tapers. Miniature golden wedding rings and golden wedding bells tied with golden ribbon were placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms.

Miss Nancy May Lee, in blue nylon net formal, and Mrs. Lee's great-niece, Miss Dianne Williamson in pink nylon net formal presided at the guest register. Mrs. Emmett J. Lee, Jr. invited the guests to view the gorgeous array of gifts, and into the dining room. The dining table was covered with an imported cut-work cloth. At one end was a huge centerpiece, the arrangement of which was a golden horn of plenty, overflowing with golden - tinted commodore leaves and day lily buds, interspersed with yellow rosebuds. Intertwining the arrangement were dainty miniature wedding bells. Flanking the centerpiece were golden tapers. Seasonal canapes were placed on the other end of the table. Mrs. L. R. Pomeroy of Shreveport, niece of the honoree, and Mrs. Tazewell Baird, Mrs. Dewey L. Barr and Mrs. Drue Miller alternated at the coffee and tea services, which were placed at another table.

Mrs. Frank Yelton played appropriate piano selections during the afternoon.

Around 200 guests called during the appointed hours.

News From Public Library

It is the beginning of another year and the Librarian and staff members of the Ouachita Parish Library give a hearty invitation to every man, woman and child in Ouachita Parish to make use of the resources of the library. Every day new people come to the library and find here the answer to some problem which is confronting them. However, there are many people who have never taken advantage of its resources. Why not make a New Year's resolution to use your library?

In the past week three new novels by outstanding modern authors have been added to the library collection. Each one of them should be extremely popular. As there has been very little advance publicity on them, not one of the three is on a waiting list, so if you want to read one of them, get your request in now and you can get the book very soon.

Frank G. Slaughter has made a name for himself as the writer of historical novels with a medical background. Last year he ventured off into another field and wrote "The Road to Bythinia", a novel based on the life of Luke, the great physician. He has returned again to the time of Christ as the setting for his latest novel, "The Galileans". Mary Magdalene is the heroine of this story. She is first seen dancing for coins on the streets of Tiberias. She is seen there by Joseph of Galilee. A young physician studying Greek at the University of Herod Antipas and by Gaius Flaccus, a Roman officer who is a kinsman of Pointius Pilate.

This is the story of the efforts of both men to win her love. It is also the story of the ministry of Jesus told in a reverent and inspiring manner. It is a book which sheds new light on the early Christian era and which paints an unforgettable picture of a woman.

James Street from our neighboring state of Mississippi is a writer of uneven merit. Some of his work is very good, but several of his later novels have been very poor. His newest title is "The Velvet Doublet" and is based on the life of Christopher Columbus. The time is the late fifteenth century, when the scimitar of Islam was across North Africa and the Moors still held Granada. Constantinople had fallen to the Turks and the path to the East with all of its spices and gold was closed. The long bleak night was upon Europe, and a few men—only a few — turned their backs on the East and looked westward toward the Ocean Sea and the unknown. Columbus was one of these and he inspired his followers with his vision.

"The Velvet Doublet" is the story of the excitement and intrigue, good fortune and tragedy that filled the lives of the men who followed Columbus, sometimes loving him, sometimes hating him, but always inspired by his conviction and his purpose. Mr. Street has written a novel on a subject that has been rarely used before and the book should be an interesting one.

The third new novel is "Whetstone Walls" by Lella Warren. It is a sequel to her very popular "Foundation Stone" which appeared several years ago. This is the story of the Whetstone family at the end of the nineteenth century. Into this story is woven all the color of life in the South during this period — the long family visits and lavish hospitality; the political rebirth and the struggle to recover from the harrowing hardships that follwed the Civil War. The hero of the book is young Rob, who was determined to get a medical education in spite of the many difficulties in his way.

From the red clay roads of backwoods Alabama, through the grueling grind of Tulane's medical school, to the swirling gaiety of New Orleans' Mardi Gras, Lella Warren has told a vividly tapestried story. Whetstone Walls is an inspiring novel about an important period in our history, and a splendid portrait of a wonderful family.

To whiten a wooden floor, use a strong scrubbing powder such as oxalic acid (poison). One pound of oxalic acid crystals to one gallon of water will make a saturate solution. This will cover about 10 square feet of floor. Use an old broom to spread the solution. Give it time to bleach the wood. Mop it up with water containing about ½ cup ammonia to a pail.

Miss Mary Jean Lewis Is Bride Of Robert C. Horton

The Baptist Parsonage in Sterlington was the setting for the marriage of Miss Mary Jean Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Lewis, of Sterlington, and Robert C. Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott E. Horton, Sr., also of Sterlington. The wedding was solemnized December 20 at four o'clock in the afternoon with the Rev. T. J. Welch officiating.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive double-ring ceremony before an improvised altar which was decorated with magnolia leaves, white camellias, and tall white tapers.

Preceding the wedding a program of pre - nuptial selections were rendered by Mrs. T. J. Welch, at the piano.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Earl R. Lewis, was lovely in her wedding dress of pink pleated nylon jersey with which she wore a pink feather hat and black velvet accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and white carnation streamers. She wore the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and blue. She wore a silver bracelet which had belonged to her grandmother as something old, the white Bible as something new, a white lace handkerchief borrowed from her mother and a blue garter as something blue.

Miss Charity Barlow, maid of honor, and only attendant, was wearing a grey wool jersey dress with white accessories. She wore a white glamelia corsage.

Frank Zontek served the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Lewis, mother of the bride, was wearing a suit of burgundy wool, white accessories, and she wore a white glamelia corsage. The bridegroom's mother chose a grey wool with which she wore a white glamelia corsage.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Baptist parsonage.

the bride's table which was overlaid with a white linen cutwork tablecloth, was centered with magnolia leaves, white candles, and crystal holders.

The couple then left on their wedding trip to the Gulf coast.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School. The bridegroom graduated from Ouachita Parish High School and Louisiana Tech where he majored in Forestry. He is now in the U. S. Navy, attending officer candidate school, in Newport, R. I.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horton of El Dorado, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Naff, of Tallulah; Mr. and Mrs. Scott Horton, Jr., of West Monroe, Mr. Frank Zontek, of Clarksburg, W. Va.; Roger Earl Lewis and Ted Christy Lewis, brothers of the bride.

Millsaps P.T.A. Meets At School

The Millsaps PTA held its December meeting in the school cafeteria with Mrs. W. P. Morrow, vice - president, presiding. The PTA prayer was read by Mrs. Tige Mullins.

A Christmas program was presented by Mr. Solon King, music director, who introduced the 6th, 7th and 8th grade chorus. A film, "The Baby King" was shown, and was narrated by Mr. Clifford Roberts, principal. The chorus rendered appropriate music during the film.

A brief business session was held, with Mrs. R. C. Pittard reading the minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. L. F. Wilhite gave the treasurer's report.

Room count was taken and Mrs. Warren McGee's first grade won.

Refreshments were served, and the meeting was adjourned.

Miss Mitchiner Bride-Elect Feted

Claiming prominence among the social events this week honoring Miss Martha Jane Mitchiner of Oak Grove, bride-elect of John Arch O'Neal of Choudrant, was a luncheon at the La Casta Tea Room in Monroe, Saturday, December 27th with Mrs. William H. Keller, Miss Major Keller, Mrs. William C. Hudson, Miss Patsy Hudson of Oak Grove and Mrs Harry La Foe of Monroe as hostesses.

The refreshment table, overlaid with white, had as its central decor an attractive arrangement of spring flowers. The guests' places were marked by unique place cards in the shape of a heart encircled with imitation Chantilly lace and bridal bouquets. Miss Mitchiner's corsage was of white carnations, symbolical of a cupid's bow and dart. The hostesses presented the honoree with a platter in her chosen pattern of China.

Sharing this occasion with Miss Mitchiner and the hostesses were: J. A. O'Neal, of Choudrant; Mrs. Paul Rosenzwieg of Lake Providence; Mrs. Clyde White and daughter Miss Janet White of Homer, Miss Barbara Burge of Lake Village, Ark., Miss Beverly Stovall of Jonesboro; Kenneth Castleman of Baton Rouge; Mrs. James Heflin of Fort Worth, Texas; and Mrs. John B. McIntosh of Darnell.

Hair ribbons and small lingerie ribbons should not be rubbed or crushed in washing. Do all the washing and brushing with soap jelly as the ribbon is stretched out flat on the bottom of the bathtub or other porcelain. After thoroughly rinsing, press the ribbon with soft cloth to squeeze out all water. Let dry stretched out on the porcelain. Lingerie ribbons can be dried wrapped tightly around a bottle.

Miss Barbara Good Weds James Bass

One of the prettiest and simplest weddings of the holiday season was that of Miss Barbara Sue Good to Mr. James Bass at the Ferriday Baptist Church on December 27th, the double-ring ceremony being used with Rev. Dick Griffin, presiding.

The church was attractively decorated with fall flowers. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Max Good. She wore a pink fall suit with navy accessories and carried a white Bible topped with an orchid. Mrs. John Wactor was the bride's only attendant, and Mr. Lloyd Perkins, Jr., attended the groom. Mrs. Harvey Moreland, Jr., sister of the bride, sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the piano by Miss Dianne Cross.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was overlaid with an attractive cloth centered with the traditional wedding cake. At one end of the table was the large punch bowl from which guests were served by Miss Shirley Lou Chapman. Shortly afterwards the young couple left on a short honeymoon.

Mrs. Bass is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Good and Mr. Bass is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bass, all of Ferriday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bass are now residing in Ferriday, where both of them are employed.

Mrs. Cornelia McVay of Enterprise was honored with a birthday dinner at the home of a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Enterkin at Jena on Sunday, Dec. 28th. She was seventy eight years old.

Mrs. Arford Tarver of Jena, another daughter, assisted Mrs. Enterkin in serving and extending courtesies to the many guests who called throughout the day. Several pictures were made of Mrs. McVay with her beautifully decorated cake and the large number of gifts she received.

Dinner guests celebrating with Mrs. McVay were: Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Poole, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McVay of Enterprise, Mr. and Mrs. Alton McVay and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tullos of Tullos, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Enterkin and son, Mr. and Mrs. James Enterkin, Mr. and Mrs. Arford Tarver and children and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Enterkin and Betty Flo all of Jena.

When sorting clothes to launder, sort them according to amount of soil, as well as to fabric. This will insure thorough washing for very soiled pieces and prevent overwashing that wears out less-soiled pieces.

Here you can rely on prompt accurate service all the time — for every need.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: I am a nice-looking, 20-year-old blonde. About six months ago, I met a serviceman who is training at a nearby base. His home is 1,000 miles away. We have dated as much as possible. He is married but has convinced me that he is very unhappy with his wife. They have no children. He is 29.

We are deeply in love and he wants to marry me if he can obtain a divorce. He tells me, however, that he hasn't the courage to write to his wife about us as she has never done anything wrong and he does not want to hurt her. Under the circumstances, don't you think I could write her, tell her about us and ask her to release him? — Upset.

You are very dumb or very innocent. Either way, you certainly are a rotten sport! You had no business dating a married man in the first place. His wife loves him, too, and he used to love her —probably still would if it were not for gals like you. Any lonely serviceman 1,000 miles away from home for any length of time is ripe for the first sympathetic pair of eyes blinking signals at him. Your job was to get him to talk about his wife, encourage him to be loyal to her and to think of her and his ties with her.

Certainly, you cannot ask his wife to give him a divorce! If the man really means business and loves you; if his marital troubles warrant cleaning up, it is up to him to obtain his freedom. Frankly, it all sounds like an old routine with you holding the bag in the end. If you don't believe me, tell the man you won't see him until he is free of entanglements.

Dear Mrs. Landers: I am 17 and going steady with a boy of the same age. I love him but he criticizes everything I do. He is very much against a girl wearing jeans, smoking, walking home alone from a show at 11 o'clock at night and other things in which I see no harm. He compares me with his mother and sister, constantly saying they don't do this or that (things that I do). It hurts me and I don't know how to tell him. I don't want to lose him. We plan to marry in five years. What do you suggest I do?—Andrea.

I suggest you take your boy friend's hints or lose him. He is trying to improve you and raise your standards to those of his family without which you will not be acceptable to them. He wants them to like you. He sounds like a nice boy with a good background. If you don't change he will drop you no matter how much he loves you. Jeans on dates are wrong, most high-type boys object to a girl smoking and you have no business out alone at 11 o'clock. Don't resent his criticisms. They sound constructive to me.

Dear Mrs. Landers: I have a son who was just 18, recently. We moved here from another city a few months ago. My son hasn't made any friends. He wants to go back where we came from and live with his grandmother. He doesn't like this city at all. I don't want him to leave and my husband says if he does he can't come back. There is a 16-year-old girl in the other place with whom he thinks he is in love. He is my only child and I want to do what is right. Do you think I should let him go back for a while and that he might get over his feeling? His father says to make him stay here, but how can you make an 18-year-old do anything? —Worried Mother.

Your son's place is with his family. The grandmother should not have the responsibility of a teen-aged boy who thinks he's in love. Encourage him to join as many social groups as he can if he is still in school, or to join night school classes if he is not in day school. It will only be a question of time before he makes new friends. You and your husband should join as many community and church groups as possible to paye the way for your son. Promise him a visit to his grandmother in the summer.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper.)

Miss Ann Crow And Wayne Williams Take Wedding Vows

A lovely wedding of the Christmas season was that of Miss Ann Crow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Young, of Delhi, and Wayne Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams, of Rison, Ark., who were united in marriage Sunday, December 21st at two o'clock in the afternoon in the home of the bride's parents.

The Rev. W. A. Dearman read the impressive double-ring ceremony before an arch of Hawaiian Contie. On either side of the arch were tall floral baskets of white gladiolias and fern and wrought iron candelabra each holding seven white cathedral tapers.

A. O. Vick of Pine Bluff, Ark., uncle of the bride, at the organ, rendered a program of pre-nuptial selections consisting of "Intermezzo" and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life." The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Young, was attractively attired in an original grey wool suit. She wore a mint green hat and blouse, which was designed with a rounded neck and inverted tucks. Other accessories were of black. The bride carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid showered with lily-of-the-valley.

Mrs. John Tyner of Baton Rouge, La., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a light grey suit with navy accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations tied with ribbon of the same shade.

Lighting the tapers were little Linda Lynn Scott of Shreveport and Cynthia Vick of Star City, Ark., cousins of the bride. The girls wore iridescent green taffeta dresses and head bands of yellow carnations.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Mr. Joe Williams of Rison, Ark.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Williams, chose a navy blue suit with a corsage of rose carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held for the relatives and friends.

The bride's table was overlaid with linen cutwork. In the center of the table was the three tier wedding cake surmounted by a miniature bride and groom. The punch bowl at one end of the table was encircled with gladiola florets and maidenhair fern.

Miss Velma Crow, Fordyce, Ark. and Mrs. Morgan Williams, Natchez, Miss., served the cake while Miss Dorothy Price, Little Rock, Ark. and Miss Madge McEacharn served the punch.

The bride is a graduate of Louisiana State University where she was a member of Alpha Xi Delta. For the past year she has been home demonstration agent at Rison, Ark.

Miss Sally Edwards Is Bride Of John Emery

In an impressive ceremony marked by simplicity, Sally Edwards, daughter of Mrs. Gus Edwards and the late Mr. Gus Edwards of Choudrant, became the bride of John Emory, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Emory of Choudrant. The double - ring ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock in the evening of December 20 at the First Baptist Church of Choudrant with Rev. E. W. Bryan, pastor, officiating.

Against a background of smilax vines and burning tapers, stood iron floor standards filled with white galdiolas and white chrysanthemums.

Prior to the ceremony Peggy Holstead, accompanied by Mrs. Zylpa Babers at the piano, sang "Because" and "Love's Old Sweet Song."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Willard Edwards, chose a gown of imported Chantilly lace over white satin featuring a bouffant, gathered skirt. Her fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline accented by seed pearls and long, tapered sleeves coming to points over her hands. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a hat covered with lace and satin. She carried a white Bible covered with a purple orchid.

Preceding the bridal party was the candlelighter, Miss Mary Ann Whitman, dressed in a mint green velvet gown with a bouffant skirt pleated on each side and a fitted bodice with a sweetheart neckline.

The bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Jean Aswell, and the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Whitman, were identically dressed in lovely aqua velvet gowns featuring a bouffant skirt pleated on each side and a fitted bodice with a scalloped neckline. They carried bouquets of pink carnations with pink satin streamers.

Serving as best man was Roy Emory, brother of the groom, and ushers were Pat and Judson Emory also brothers of the froom.

The bride's mother chose for this occasion a black lace dress with pink accessories, complimented by a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother was wearing a navy blue crepe two piece dress with white accessories. complimented by a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony, the reception was held in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Simmie Whitman. The reception rooms were beautifuly decorated with unusual arrangements of white gladiolas and white carnations.

Receiving the guests were the bride's mother, the groom's mother, the bridal couple, and members of the wedding party.

The bride's table, covered with an Irish linen cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white gladiolas and white carnations. In the center of the arrangement was a white branch from which wedding bells were hanging.

Assisting in the courtesies were Miss Mary Ann Whitman, presiding at the guest book, Miss Irene Fallin, presiding at the cake service, and Mrs. James Whitman, presiding at the punch bowl.

Later in the evening the couple left on a short wedding trip. Mrs. Emory was wearing a black and white checked suit with black accessories.

After their return, they will be at home in Columbus, Ga., where he is stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., with the United States Army.

Miss Johnny Ray Wilson Is Bride Of Grady L. Brockner

A wedding of interest to many friends took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Wilson, Monday, December 29 at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, when their daughter, Miss Johnny Ray Wilson was united in holy wedlock to Grady L. Brockner. The impressive double-ring ceremony was read by Dr. Ernest Holloway.

The living room was beautifully decorated with a gold and red theme, symbolic of the festive season. The bridal party stood in front of the candle - lighted improvised altar while the vows were spoken.

Mr. Charles Tubbs, the bridegroom's only attendant, awaited the bride's entrance with Mr. Brockner. The matron of honor, the bride's only sister, Mrs. W. B. Thompson, entered with the little ring bearer, Terry Lynn Wilson, niece of the bride. The bride entered on the arm of her father, G. B. Wilson, who gave her hand in marriage.

The bride was lovely in an afternoon frock of ice-blue Antique Shantung, with navy accessories. She carried a bouquet of orchids on her white Bible, with skirt-length, white satin streamers. The matron of honor was dressed in an afternoon model of pink Antique Shantung with a shoulder corsage of white carnations. The petite ring bearer wore a pink Antique Shantung dress with a halo of feathery pink carnations and blue ribbons. She carried the rings nested in a blue satin pillow. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. J. J. Brockner chose a navy sheer for the occasion, with a shoulder corsage of white carnations. The bride's mother wore a black dressmaker's suit with a shoulder corsage of orchid mums.

A reception was held immediately after the vows were spoken. The bride and groom cut the lovely three-tiered cake in traditional style. The bride's three sisters-in-law presided at the punch bowl; Mrs. H. B. Wilson, Mrs. J. H. Wilson, and Mrs. B. D. Wilson. Those attending the wedding and reception were: Mrs. J. J. Brockner, Mrs. L. Of interest to friends in the Twin Cities, is the announcement of the marriage of A-1c William Z. "Bud" Franks, to Miss Doreen Beddall of Bedford, England. The wedding was solemnized on Saturday, November 15th at Mogerhanger Parish Church. The Rev. H. Phoenix officiated.

The bride is the younger daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. F. V. Beddall of No. 8 Bedford Board, Mogerhanger. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. Johnny Eli Franks and Mrs. Bessie Brown of West Monroe.

Mr. G. Jacobs at the organ, rendered "Lead Us Heavenly Father," "O Perfect Love" and 67th Psalm.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Dennis Beddall, wore a gown of white slipper satin, figured with lily of the valley. Her veil and headdress were of tulle and white feathers, and she carried a bouquet of red roses, fern and satin.

The matron of honor, Mrs. B. Stocker, and the bridesmaids, Misses Ruby Willett and Pauline Beal, were wearing gowns of lavender taffeta and carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. The junior bridesmaids, Misses Deborah Pheonix, Valerie and Sylvia Cook, wore gowns of pink taffeta and carried posies of yellow button chrysanthemums. Misses Valerie and Sylvia Cook are cousins of the bride.

A-1c C. Kuhns, close friend of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the Village Hall.

The couple will be at home to their friends at 32 Clapham Road, Bedford, until June of this year, when Airman Franks and his bride return to West Monroe.

Airman Franks received his training at Keesler Field, Brooks Air Force Base, and Lackland Air Force Base, before being sent to England, where he has been stationed the past two years.

The Home Shift With

Mildred Swift

Well — all the holidays are behind us. We're ready to take on those everyday tasks again. One of those is the tailoring class to be held the week of January 26. We'll have our first meeting on Wednesday morning, January 7 at 9:30. All those enrolled come to the agriculture building at that time. It is not too late to enroll. Just call 3-2251 or just come on Wednesday morning. Bring pencil and paper — that's all. We'll discuss patterns, materials, etc.

An Accident

Yes — and a disastrous one for me. The janitor burned my 1952 calendar before I transferred my 1953 dates. Please if you have invited me to be on your program any time during 1953 call me at once so I can mark it on this year's calendar. I'm very sorry this confusing episode happened. I'll be worried until you call me. I've never broken but two dates in my seven year's work with you. Both of those were a mix-up on my part, but that's one of my "phobias" — never to break a date or be late for one.

New Garden Club

The day Mr. Spurlock taught the landscape school at the agriculture building, somebody on the south side of town asked if I would help her organize a garden club. Of course, I said yes and asked her to call me on Saturday morning. You've never called. Will you please let me hear from you? I simply can't remember who it was and I'd love to help you get started now that the new year has begun.

Cook Book For Brides

One of the nicest presents you can give a bride is a cook book. Not just any book but a good one. "The Encyclopedia of Cookery" is one of the best I have ever used. You not only get recipes but suggested menus, table service, etiquette measurements, meals for special occasions and just about everything you'd ever need. My daughter has found hers a source of joy. I've given several as wedding gifts and the young housewives use them constantly.

Garden Rakings

Have you noticed the thrift in bloom? Every summer when this border plant takes over the bed and gets weed infested, I vow to pull it all up. Then — at this time of year it begins to bloom when we have little color in the garden and I decide it's a very rewarding little plant.

Somebody asked why I didn't mention nandinas in my summary of plants. They have been very beautiful this year with their profusion of berries. Now is the time to transplant nandinas, too. I don't like them with the gray and pastel colored houses because the foliage turns so red in the fall. Mrs. Bagwell says work plenty of bone meal in the soil around your plants if you want lots of berries.

Everybody has their preference when it comes to planting shade trees. Gram Breard says he would not have a pecan in his yard because they are so messy. I like them because they lose their leaves over a two week period and they're through with that messy job, while the oaks drop leaves for about nine months. However, the oak leaves do make better mulch and better compost. Maybe you'll have room for both in your yard. Our extension horticulturist says the best pecan varieties for north Louisiana are Staurt, Desirable, Elliot, Jennings and Schley.

Hints of Styles for Summer

Among the washable textured fabrics for day time dress wear are nubby cottons and rayons. The cottons belong in the ratine and seeded yarn family. The rayons are light weight and will be shown in prints and plain pastels. Crease resistance will be the main point of stress in this summer apparel. In colors, top favorites are now cited as blues, bieges and grays.

There will be a parade of fabrics, blends of fabrics and effects such as puckered fabrics. Orlon-cotton blends are among the recent newcomers that have met immediate success. Chambray which has been permanently glazed for added luster is among the most attractive. Another orlon-cotton blend that you'll see next summer is akin to lawn and has a clean, fresh quality. Puckered nylons will repeat with new success because of new variations you will find available. The well-received types are the bubble, checkerboard and shadow effects.

Next Sunday I'll tell you something about stitching these new fabrics. I'll see you then in this same column.

Feathery Flapjacks Are Maine Woodsman's Dream

Here are some fine suggestions for late Sunday or Holiday breakfast. Mrs. A. M. Grove, Skilleteer of the Chicago Daily News Chapter, sent us "Maine Woods Flapjacks," and here's the recipe:

2 cups sifted flour
2 well-beaten eggs
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 1-3 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons melted butter
1 tablespoon sugar

The perfect utensil, says Mrs. Grove, is a real soapstone griddle. Next best is an iron one that is properly seasoned so it will need no extra greasing. Failing these, use an iron skillet, well heated, and very lightly greased with bacon fat. Pour the batter from a pitcher onto the hot griddle, letting it spread out until it forms a six-inch cake. When the bubbles on top break and form holes, turn the cakes and brown the other side.

The flapjacks should be tender and fluffy—just a feathery delight to smother in maple syrup or jam or honey. This recipe makes six good-sized cakes.

Skilleteer Arthur C. Eddy, San Diego Union Chapter, is reported to have cooked 1200 of these doughnuts for 250 men when he was an ensign aboard the U. S. S. Tucker during the late war. Vice-president-elect Nixon has eaten at his board. The doughnuts are good, and here's how:

1 cup sugar
2 eggs
3 teaspoons baking powder
Pinch of salt
4 cups well sifted flour
1 cup milk
Touch of nutmeg
Same amount of finely grated lemon peel

Cream shortening and sugar and mix with well-beaten eggs. Mix baking powder, salt, nutmeg and lemon peel with 1 cup of the well - sifted flour. Mix these two combinations and add remaining flour, well sifted, until dough is stiff enough to handle. Put on floured board and roll about ½ inch thick. For crullers, cut into ¾ inch-wide strips and twist. For doughnuts, use cutter.

Heat skillet grease to about 365 degrees; if you have no thermometer, use small piece of dough for testing. Be sure frying grease is fresh. After frying, put on glazed paper or paper towels until cool and drained. Put granulated sugar, powdered sugar and a bit of cinnamon in a paper bag, and shake doughnuts in it until they are evenly coated. This will make about 36 doughnuts or 30 crullers.

While we're in contact with the armed forces, Sgt. Thomas Salmon, another San Diego Skilleteer, figured this one out when rations were low one morning in the Philippines, and brought home a fine idea. "Pineapple Fricasseed" he calls it. It goes very well with ham slices or bacon at a Sunday breakfast.

1 egg (or 2 egg yolks) slightly beaten
⅓ cup milk, ¼ teaspoon salt
6 slices pineapple

Make a batter of the egg, milk and salt. Drain juice from the pineapple slices and dip them in the batter. Fry in deep fat until lightly browned. May be served with syrup, the sergeant says, but we like it "as is."

Your favorite recipe and a stamped envelope mailed to this newspaper makes you a member of The Skillet Club for life—send them in and you'll receive your membership card to prove it.

Chapter V, PEO Entertains B.Q.L.'s At Dinner, Dance

Chapter V., P. E. O. held their annual Christmas party Monday night in the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Eason, Jr., on the Loop Road. The Eason home reflected the holiday spirit with its beautiful decorations.

The center of attraction was Santa Claus in his sleigh with all the tiny reindeer across the picture window overlooking the bayou. Centerpieces for the tables were beautifully colored holly berries and leaves with lighted candles on each side. Honored guests for the occasion were the B. Q. L.'s husbands, of the P. E. O.'s.

Delicious turkey and ham with all the trimmings were served buffet style after which the couples enjoyed the remainder of the evening dancing.

Enjoying this lovely party were Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Z. C. Ambrose, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Smith, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Crump, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. A. Signoff, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Simpson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Touchstone, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Eason, Jr., Mrs. C. B. Ackel, Mrs. R. T. Farr, and Mrs. J. F. Curry.

Kappa Delta Alumnae Honor Six Pledges At Luncheon

Six new pledges were named guests of honor when local Kappa Delta alumnae entertained at their annual holiday luncheon Tuesday at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club. Those honored were Misses Amalie Nichols, Katherine Guerriero, Anna Stokes, Pat Peterman, and Ione Hill of Monroe, and Miss Jennie Reynolds of Columbia.

The speaker's table featured a white stryofoam plaque centered with the green letters KD and encircled with ivy and white candles. Ivy and candles extended the length of the table.

Mrs. Emmett Mitchell, Jr., served as toastmistress and presided over the short business session which followed the luncheon. The girls home from school were asked to give a brief resume of the activities of the active chapters.

Kappa Deltas present included Mrs. W. J. Riley, Jr., Mrs. G. W. Levert, Mrs. H. B. Hargrove, Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson, Miss Florence Fluker, Mrs. Leo Terzia, Jr., Mrs. Don Hibbard, Miss Tillie Cookston of Winnfield, Mrs. Austin Miller, Mrs. O. N. Reynolds of Columbia, Mrs. W. C. Cookston, Jr., Miss Jane Steed, Mrs. Jack Taylor, Miss Johnnie Bolton of Alexandria, Mrs. James Ellis, Jr., Miss Anita O'Kelly, Mrs. Mitchell, and the guests of honor.

Mr. And Mrs. C. M. Clark Entertain In Mer Rouge

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Clark were hosts at an open house between the hours of six and 10 p.m. on Tuesday evening in their lovely new home on Davenport Avenue. Nestled in the midst of a grove of huge pecan trees, the low ranch sytle house presented an especially appealing welcome with the lovely Christmas tree sparkling with myriad lights by the doorway and jolly old Santa standing by with extended hand.

Friends were greeted by Mrs. G. D. Williams and Mrs. J. A. Davenport and ushered into the spacious reception suite where lovely Christmas decorations and fresh flowers gave a very festive air to the beautiful interior. In the huge rumpus room across the back was a fireplace where the Yule log was cheerily burning.

In the dining room the serving table was overlaid with a hand made cloth. A handsome Epergne overflowed with huge clusters of nandina berries. Tall red tapers burned in five branched candelabra on either side of the centerpiece. Mrs. W. H. Blackwell and Mrs. Jack Yeldell served coffee and others assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. E. M. Clark, Mrs. Willis Montgomery, Mrs. T. H. Rankin, Dr. E. M. Clark and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Clark.

Miss Diana Noel And Fiance Are Honored At Two Parties

Miss Diana Noel and her fiance Herbert Wilson were honored recently as a buffet supper at the lovely plantation home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cox.

The house was aglow with candles and holly and filled with the fragrance of the glistening pine Christmas tree.

Cocktails were served in the spacious living room after which the guests were invited into the dining room where a sumptuous feast was spread. The table, overlaid with a handsome embroidered cloth, had as its central decor a miniature Christmas tree with red candles.

Twenty friends drove out to the farm to enjoy this happy occasion with Miss Noel and Mr. Wilson.

Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frazer, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frazer, Jr. entertained at an open house during the holidays in honor of Miss Diana Noel and Herbert Wilson.

The Christmas motif was carried out with evergreen, Purple Down camellias and the Christmas tree in the reception room.

The tea table held as its centerpiece a silver epergne overflowing with bunches of grapes with candles placed at vantage points in the dining room.

On this occasion Miss Noel wore a most becoming gray faille dress and a corsage of Debutant camellias.

Assisting the hostesses in extending courtesies to the fifty callers were Mrs. John Noel, Mrs. Mason Wilson, Mrs. E. A. Montgomery and Mrs. Fagan Cox.

Assisting in the dining room courtesies were Miss Virginia Blanks, Miss Cathy Noel, and Miss Elstner Frazer.

Business And Professional Women's Club Has Christmas Party At O'Kelly Home

The Business and Professional Women's Club held their annual Christmas Party on December 18th at the home of Miss Mary O'Kelly.

The house was beautifully decorated with Christmas greenery and flowers. Carols and Christmas songs were sung and solos were beautifully rendered by Mr. Jennings Wilkins, accompanied by Mrs. Velma Willey at the piano. A reading of a Christmas story, "The Small One", was given by Mrs. Beth Breese in her inimitable manner. Miss Elizabeth Stenberg gave a most interesting talk on Christmas customs in her native Sweden.

Santa Claus then distributed gifts to all, after which delicious refreshments were served to members and their guests. Miss Mary O'Kelly was assisted in extending the courtesies of the occasion by her sister Mrs. Charles Mitchell and by Club President, Mrs. Helen Trichel. Other members on the entertainment committee were: Ruth Cooley, Alma Terry, Olive Terry, Edna Vaughn, Alice Baur, Lula Swinson, Gladys Miles, Norma Stewart, and Elizabeth Stenberg.

In addition, the following members were present: Bessie Skinner, Emma Rosenbaum, Gladys Collins, Nell Bennett, Ruth Thomas, Jennie Smith, Faye Heard, Lillie Mae Carroll, Jewel Wise, Mamie Ober, Johnnie Elbert, Agnes Krogmire, Lucille Durham, Dorothy Smith, Ruby Soureal, Betty Oxford, Maibel Hood, Dora Anish, India Calder, and Hazel Wakefield. Guests attending the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mitchell, Miss Gail Dyes, Miss Diana Dyes, Mrs. Velma Willey, Mr. Jennings Wilkins, Mrs. Beth Breese, and Mr. Landon Miles.

COMMERCIAL SOLVENTS CORPORATION

PRODUCT HIGHLIGHTS—1952

we're growing more N at Dixie

The $20,000,000 expansion program now nearing completion at our Dixie Plant in Louisiana will enable us to double our ammonia output in 1953. This means that we will be able to supply the fertilizer industry with about twice as much nitrogen as before and that CSC will be a leading basic source of nitrogen in its three key forms—anhydrous ammonia, nitrogen solutions, and ammonium nitrate.

Ammonium nitrate will be produced by the new, exclusive Stengel process developed by CSC Research. The yield of this advanced method will be a product "custom-sized" to the industry's varying needs.

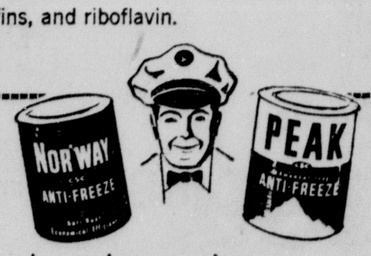

Primary in the agricultural chemicals field, CSC is also a source of supply for technical-grade benzene hexachloride and for the new nitroparaffin insecticide Dilan®

Timetable for "catching" more CH_3OH

The CSC 1953 production timetable puts much more methanol on the delivery schedule than ever before. A major supplier of methanol for many years, CSC will be one of the largest producers in the world in 1953.

In addition to this expansion, CSC has stepped up the output of formaldehyde at its plant at Agnew, California. Volume production continues, of course, in the fields of fermentation alcohols, nitroparaffins, and riboflavin.

increased anti-freeze sales in key markets

Intensive promotion focused on selected cold-weather cities increased sales in key market areas of both PEAK® ethylene glycol and NOR'WAY® methanol anti-freezes.

Unexcelled in its class, each of these anti-freezes is called for more and more by motorists who want dependable winter protection. That's the trend, too, with NOR'WAY Radiator Products and other automotive specialties which make up the complete line.

Expandex® . . . now available for civilians

Expandex, CSC's dextran plasma volume expander, is now being produced in such quantity that it is available for civilian as well as military use. The first commercial plant in the U. S. was placed in operation by CSC at Terre Haute in June, 1952.

Valuable in the treatment of shock due to burns, hemorrhage, surgical procedures or other trauma, Expandex is clinically effective and safe. It does not interfere with blood typing procedures or cross matching. It does not carry and, therefore, does not transmit the virus of hepatitis. In solution, and without requiring refrigeration, it is ready for immediate use new CSC product . . . "fed" to pigs by ear!

In the medical and pharmaceutical fields, CSC is also a major producer of bacitracin and penicillin and combinations of these antibiotics as well as other pharmaceutical specialties.

Bacigro, new antibiotic growth pellet, was introduced to the 1952 fall crop of baby porkers. Implanted just under the skin behind the ear of new-born pigs, it provides the hog raiser with an entirely new, practical, low-cost method of getting sucklings off to a fast start in life.

CSC is not only a primary producer of bacitracin and penicillin, both of which are used in animal feed supplements, but also is basic in vitamin feed supplements.

sold: the millionth barrel of whiskey

The 1,000,000th barrel of whiskey, produced at our distilleries in April of 1948, was withdrawn from bond last fall and delivered to one of our customers.

CSC ranks high in the industry as a preferred source of bulk whiskies of fine quality, as well as top-grade neutral spirits. At the same time, we offer distillers and rectifiers excellent facilities for storing their production in our bonded warehouses in Terre Haute.

Inside Hollywood

By Jimmy Fidler

HOLLYWOOD, January 3 — The All - American screen poll, conducted by Boxoffice Magazine, is on my desk, and the marvel it reveals is that stars of long standing are the winners. Marilyn Monroe was the only youngster, in point of screen experience, who finished among the first twelve. And it gives me much pleasure to note that Gary Cooper, screen idol for a long period, tops the list of men, and Jane Wyman is the most popular woman.

The poll was taken among motion picture editors of newspapers and magazines, radio commentators, members of the National Screen Council — consisting also of representatives of women's clubs, educational and civic organizations — and independent theater managers. The element of sober judgment has entered into the voting.

Seven men and five women appear among the twelve top favorites. The twelve listed are Cooper, Jane Wyman, Susan Hayward, Bing Crosby, June Allyson, Doris Day, Gregory Peck, Esther Williams, Cary Grant, John Wayne, Marilyn Monroe and Joan Crawford. The announcement notes that the winners for the past two years were June Allyson and Bing Crosby, now in fifth and fourth place, respectively.

The top twelve male stars, according to the poll, are Gary Cooper, Bing Crosby, Gregory Peck, Gary Grant, John Wayne, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, Humphrey Bogart, Bob Hope, Spencer Tracy, James Stewart, Clark Gable and Gene Kelly. Feminine stars were rated in this order: Jane Wyman, Susan Hayward, June Allyson, Doris Day, Esther Williams, Marilyn Monroe, Joan Crawford, Betty Hutton, Elizabeth Taylor, Ava Gardner, Katherine Hepburn, and Ann Blyth.

There are polls and polls, of course, and none can be 100 per cent accurate in reflecting the over - all opinion of the movie-going public, but they do give us an idea of the popularity drift. Congratulations to those who made the grade in this one, as I believe the selections are pretty close to public choice.

The most serious problem facing television is the alarming mortality rate among its stars. Casualties have been mounting heavily, as overtaxed stars confront the nerve - wracking task of preparing new programs week after week. Eddie Cantor suffered a heart attack. Red Skelton had to undergo a three - hour operation, after a collapse that almost cost him his life. Donald O'Connor and Jerry Lewis broke down under the strain, and Ed Sullivan suffered a perforated ulcer. Many others are on the verge of equally disastrous consequences. One solution may lie in the development of new talent in order to give present stars a breathing spell between shows. In the movies, bad scenes can be retaken. In television, there is only one "take." Whatever the solution of the problem, it must be found — or television will suffer more breakdowns and illnesses — and maybe deaths.

A Hollywood producer has announced plans to make a movie starring Christine Jorgensen, the American soldier who underwent a change of sex after a series of operations in Copenhagen, Denmark. Despite Miss Jorgensen's denials that she has any plans for a movie career, the producer insists that a contract is signed, sealed and delivered. I have my doubts about the propriety of this picture, under the bizarre circumstances. It is something for the Johnston office to study. I'm afraid that the effort could result in nothing more than a freak show — and Hollywood is vulnerable enough without this possible added fling, based on "curiosity," and little more.

Marilyn Monroe has offered many reasons, valid ones or otherwise, for posing in the nude for a calendar that has since become somewhat notorious. Marilyn has said over and over that she regrets the folly. Now we hear that a gift - ware company is planning to manufacture a line of cocktail trays, intending to use some of the Monroe nudes as decorations. This has stirred Marilyn and her studio to the point of planning a court battle to prevent the company from making the trays. Far be it from me to encourage the putting of such trash on the market, but I must say, Marilyn's indignation is a little out of line in this instance. If she had never posed for those pictures, she would not now be subjected to embarrassment.

'Because Of You' Reaches New Dramatic Heights

Loretta Young and Jeff Chandler are co-starred in a touching and tender drama in Universal-International's "Because of You," which opened yesterday at the Tem Theatre. Alex Nicol and Frances Dee head the film's strong supporting cast. In this story of a great love, Miss Young comes through with the most deeply emotional portrayal of her career. As the unwitting accomplice in a crime for which she serves a prison term, who falls in love and begins to build a new life, Miss Young reaches new heights in dramatic power.

It remains, however, for Jeff Chandler to turn in the surprise performance of the season. Until now Chandler has been seen in action films as the daring swashbuckler in period costumes or as an Indian chief or war hero. In "Because of You," as an ex-air force major and husband of Loretta Young, he registers outstandingly in an emotional role. Chandler fans will discover him just as handsome and just as forceful in street clothes as they have found him heretofore in the dress of the movie thriller.

A man to watch in this engrossing drama is Alex Nicol, who plays the "heavy." As the ex-convict who forces Miss Young into crime against her will, Nicol does a thorough job of portraying one of the worst heels on the screen with a maximum of charm. One of the upcoming stars on Universal-International's ever - growing contract list, Nicol is an actor worthy of watching.

"Because of You," a tender story highlighted with action in its dramatic telling, was directed by Joseph Pevney and produced by Albert J. Cohen.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR NEW PARISH

Meeting Held In Mitchell Home To Formulate Program For January 18

Various members of the congregation of the newly - formed parish, 'Our Lady of Fatima" assembled on Sunday in the O'Kelly home to discuss particulars of the planned silver tea and open house in honor of Rev. Father Martinez, pastor.

Mrs. Charles Mitchell welcomed those attending and after opening the meeting with a prayer — Fr. Martinez turned the meeting over to Mrs. Mitchell who explained that in an effort to help toward fund raising for the new parish that she would open her lovely old southern home to be viewed by all who appreciate antiques and love the traditions of the old south.

It was decided that the tea would be from two until 6 p.m. on Sunday, January 18, 1953. Mrs. Mitchell stated that she would contribute all the refreshments needed and asked the help of the ladies in the different duties involved.

Msgr. Marsh was designated publicity committee chairman with assistance of Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Roy Holloway.

Mrs Holloway suggested that an endeavor be made to obtain all available camellias at that time and that they be arranged with a little ribbon and sold at the tea. The quantity and quality of the camellias would depend on the weather. This was agreed upon and with the help of a few ladies —Mrs Holloway will assume the responsibility of this project.

Mrs. Julia Coon was appointed to take charge of the fee to be obtained from viewing the pictures on the visuscope.

Leo Ritter, member of the fund raising committee, took this opportunity to thank Mrs. Mitchell and members of the O'Kelly family for offering the use of their home on this occasion.

It was decided upon that all the sisters and members of the clergy would be invited.

After discussions as to the attire of those serving, the meeting was closed and refreshments with Mrs. Mitchell preiding at the silver tea service, were served.

Superstitious? 1953 Has Three Friday 13ths

WASHINGTON (UP) — The 1953 calendar is studded with three Friday the 13ths — two in successive months — and four five-Sunday months.

Two big holidays — Memorial Day and Independence Day — fall on Saturday when many persons have a day off anyway. Washington's birthday is on Sunday, automatically moving that holiday ahead to Monday.

The Friday the 13ths, abhorred by the superstitious, occur in February, March, and November.

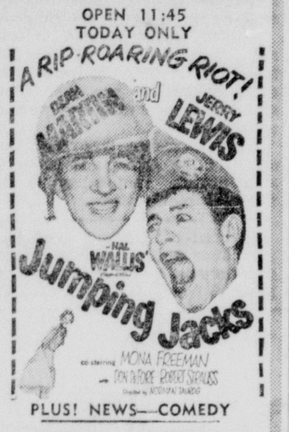

The five - Sunday months, dear to ecclesiastics because of the traditional Fifth Sunday Meetings in rural areas, are March, May, August, and November.

Labor Day is Sept. 7, Thanksgiving occurs Nov. 26, and Christmas, the last holiday of the year, falls on Friday.

New Highway Bridge At Delhi Under Study

VICKSBURG, Miss., Jan. 3 (Special)—Construction plans for a new highway bridge across Bayou Macon on highway 80 near Delhi are under study here at the district Corps of Engineers office.

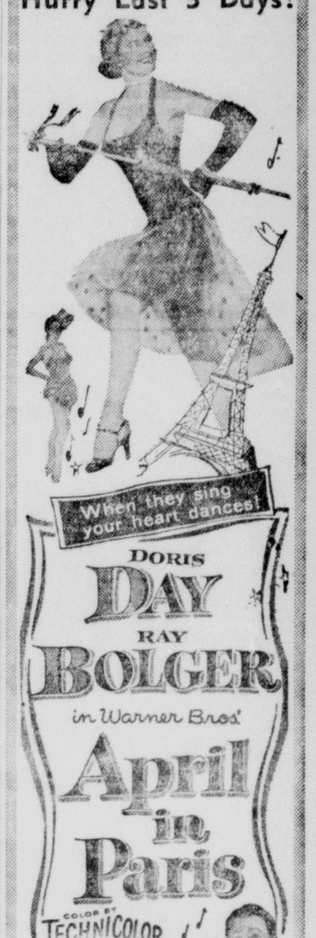

Approval of the bridge, which will be located about 1300 feet upstream from the present old bridge, is being sought by officials of the Louisiana highway department. The bridge will be 28 feet in width with a total length of 423 feet.

The present bridge will remain in place. Highway officials have stated that the new bridge will ultimately become part of the proposed four-lane federal interstate highway 80.

USDA Proposes Boost In Fee For Cotton Reviews

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)— The Agriculture Department today proposed an increase in its fees for reviewing the classifications of cotton stored under cotton futures regulations.

Interested persons will have until Jan. 26 to submit their comments on the proposal to the director of the cotton branch of the Agriculture Department's Production and Marketing Administration.

The department suggested an increase of five cents a bale for reviewing the cotton classifications. This would raise the cost per bale from 30 to 35 cents.

The department announcement said the increase would apply only to reviews of classification of cotton for delivery under futures contracts, and not to cotton classified under the Cotton Standards Act.

The increase was suggested, the department said, in order to bring the fee for reviews to the applicant into line with the cost of the service.

The department also proposed to change the fee charged for telephone or telegraph transmission of cotton classing information under futures deliveries from five cents a bale to the actual toll charge.

It said that in many instances, persons involved asked that the classing information be furnished them either by telephone or telegraph.

Cotton for future delivery is classified by Agriculture Department agents who inspect the material at warehouses where it is stored.

Firms may contest the classifications and appeal to the Agriculture Department in Washington for a change of classifications. The proposed increase in fees would apply to these requests for reviews.

New Theory On Hardening Of Arteries

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Cholesterol, recently believed to be the killer in deaths from hardening of the arteries, may be acquitted. Experiments by two University of California scientists have introduced a new villain, mucoproteins.

Drs. James F. Rinehart and Henry D. Moon studied arteries of 250 victims of coronary thrombosis resulting from hardened arteries. In many cases there was little cholesterol a fatty substance.

Instead, cases seemed to originate with deposits of mucoproteins, large carbohydrate molecules linked to proteins. Cholesterol or other substances were deposited later.

Their inference was that hardening of the arteries is connected with protein metabolism rather than fat metabolism.

Fish Authority Claims Rare Scientific Find

DURBAN, South Africa, Dec. 29 (AP)—A noted fish authority who has been searching 14 years for a good specimen of a fish once believed extinct said today his search had ended with "one of the most important discoveries made in science."

The scientist, Prof. J. B. Smith, South African icthyologist, won a 3,000-mile race in a government plane to reach the dead fish before it decomposed. Smith announced his success tonight after returning to Durban from a tiny islet in the French-owned Camoro group between Madagascar and the East African mainland.

Smith, weary but triumphant with his fish in a carefully guarded crate, told a crowd who met him at the Durban Airport:

"Yes, it (the fish) is a coelacanth—of a new type. It is one of the most important discoveries made in science. That we are able to bring it back to Africa is due to the Prime Minister's swift appreciation of the fish's significance."

The coelacanths were the first family of bony fish, believed to have evolved anywhere from 200 to 350 million years ago and long known only as fossils. Earlier fish had skeletons composed of something like cartilage, like modern sharks. The coelacanths are believed to have been an important link in the evolution of sea vertebrates into land vertebrates, including man. The fish's scientific name is latimeria chalumnae.

The specimen, the second caught in African waters within 14 years, is a grotesque creature five feet long with a bluish tint. Smith was delighted to find it in a good state of preservation. The first specimen, caught off South Africa and also identified by Smith, was so imperfectly preserved that anatomical study was difficult.

The new specimen was caught more than a week ago by an African fisherman. An acquaintance told him it was valuable. In this way it came into the hands of Capt. Eric Hunt, master of a schooner trading between Zanzibar and Madagascar. Hunt told the world by cable that another coelacanth had been found.

The fisherman who caught the living fossil had slit the flesh and rubbed in salt to preserve his catch. When Hunt received it he had no refrigeration but an ample supply of a preservative.

In a radio interview tonight Smith told of his agonizing delay in arranging for swift passage to the island and of the government's aid in furnishing the plane. At that time it was feared preservation might be imperfect. Smith began his flight to the Camoros early yesterday.

Within the next few days Smith plans to make a scientific examination of the fish's anatomical structure.

Houston Man Has Cattle 'Hotel'

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—F. L. Lepper runs a cow hotel, taking guests on either the American or European plan.

Lepper, who got into the cattle business by buying and selling a few head at a time, was a trucker before he started his 55-acre custom feed lots for cattle south of Houston some seven years ago.

Livestock owners can supply their own feed, Lepper said, but most prefer the "American plan" under which he takes care of everything and provides balanced meals consisting of ground corn, rolled oats, rice bran, alfalfa meal, blackstrap molasses and cottonseed meal.

Most of the cattle are shipped to him from the range and he fattens them for market. Some of the owners do not have facilities to "finish" their own steers and others prefer to let Lepper handle the details.

The feed lots are only a mile south of Houston's municipal airport and the location accounts for some of Lepper's "boarders." Shippers of cattle to South America, where increasing numbers of both beef and dairy types are being sent to build up herds, find it convenient to patronize Lepper because they ship by air.

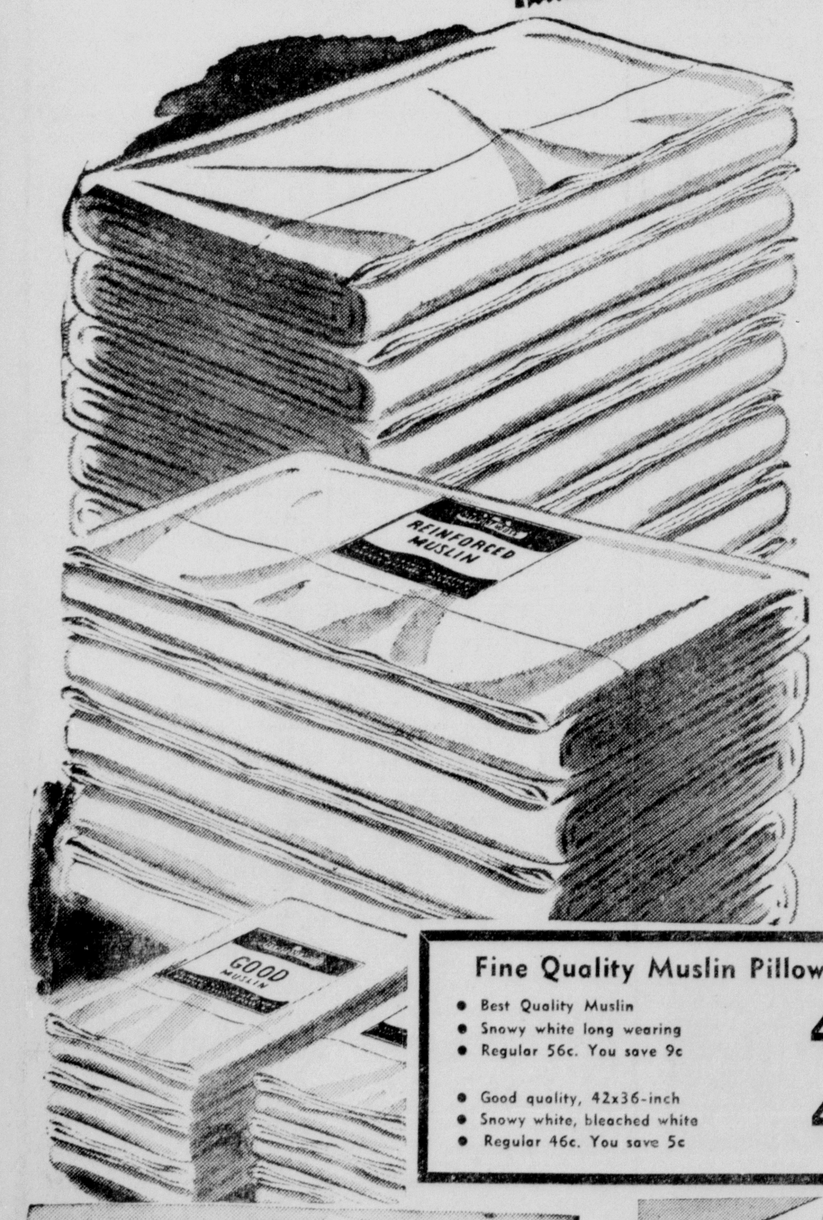

After the cattle are rested, or perhaps until the complete consignment has been purchased, Lepper takes charge of having them inspected by veterinarians and then loads them aboard either some of Leppers "boarders." Ship- south.

MAN 40 TO 60
TO RUN NEW BUSINESS
WE HAVE an opening in the Monroe area for a mature man to join our top men, mostly in their 50's, who are drawing $5,000 to $9,000 in a year. One of them is now earning $15,000 in a year.

YOUR INCOME possibilities are exceptional. The man we select receives an excellent commission arrangement, plus incentives. You receive your earning checks in advance. . . you don't make any investment, any collections, or any deliveries.

WHEN YOU qualify you become a proud member of a company that's a leader in the field. You can enjoy pleasant working conditions in this refined business, with long - range security, respect in your community, and probably bigger earnings than ever. All replies in strict confidence. Write Cascade, Dept. A-1, P. O. Box 5252, Denver 17, Colo.

SALES — BEST season just starting for you to increase your income by showing our newest line of calendars, pencils, fans, plastics and other new advertising specialties. Reliable company with over 65 years experience. An opportunity to build your own business for the future. Full or spare time. The Geo. H. Jung Co. 299 Jung Bldg. 312 E. Court, Cincinnati, O.

IS $210.00 a week worth a postcard to you? Then rush card for special free trial plan that sells amazing new automatic refrigerator defroster like "hot cakes!" D-Frost-O-Matic, Dept. 50-A, 173 W. Madison, Chicago.

EMPLOYMENT

Salesmen Wanted (33)

MIDDLE-AGED Businessman or Salesman
For Monroe Area

Wanted: Two mature businessmen or salesmen. M. F. Hoover, new man, earned $1,668.50 his first month. T. D. Stockwell earned $5,310.53 first 8 months. C. C. Hawkins earned a young fortune of $39,422 in less than 5 years. And all indications are that he'll do even better during the next 5 years. Big earnings right at start — R. F. Heckman, $104.44 first 2 hours. D. A. Crowley, $224.95 first day. J. L. McCullogh, $526.00 first week. Over 150 of our men have earned $600 to $3,000 in one month, many being new men. (These are sworn statements) THESE GROSS earnings are, of course, exceptional. Many of our top men have been doing this well for years. It's a foregone conclusion that they will do even better now with increased demand. Men who were "bankrupt" when they started now have big new homes, some two cars instead of one, are sending children to college and enjoying security for the future.
MAN IS needed for this area — also several others for nearby territories. Our most successful men are those who are able to be away from home traveling one or two weeks at a time — outdoors in healthful, fascinating occupation.
OUR PRODUCT (U. S. Pat. No. 2,392,813) sold on long - trial credit terms, no down payment, to high - grade, dignified trade such as manufacturers, business officials, schools, merchants, large farm and ranch owners. Immediate delivery. Earnings advanced weekly. Big season just ahead. Write a confidential letter to President, Dept. A-2, P. O. Box 711, Ft. Worth 1, Tex.

RAWLEIGH DEALER wanted at once, in part of Monroe, West Ouachita or Union Parishes. Good opportunity. Write at once, Rawleigh's Dept. LAA-120-105, Memphis, Tenn.

IF YOU have been traveling northern Louisiana and have established contact with the retail grocery stores, commissaries, confectionary stores, supermarkets, variety stores, drug and department stores and are looking for a real opportunity to increase present earnings then our firm, which has been established 120 years, manufacturing the largest and most complete line of quality confections has a full time position to offer you with an excellent opportunity for advancement. Write, giving full details of past experience, names of counties covered, approximate number of accounts, how recently you made a complete coverage and how often you cover the territory. Address C. P. Lang, C-O Bradas and Gheens, Inc., Louisville 2, Ky.

WANT TO EARN AT LEAST $5,000.00 A YEAR?
The boss just told me he wants to get about 15 alert, opportunity minded salesmen that are above 30, and want a career instead of just another job; men that are willing to spend at least five days of the week in the field taking orders for some of the finest internationally accepted products that have ever been sold. We'll co-operate and give field training too, if you need it. . . and we'll come right on through with one of the sweetest drawing accounts you've ever heard about. . . in the meantime, those fat commissions will show up at your house three times each week and your wife will have a big time selecting prizes that she never dreamed she could afford. And just about the time you figure it is all too good to be true, along will come a bonus check that proves you haven't been dreaming. If you want to be one of the 15 men my boss told me to hire, shoot in a letter at once that will make me glad to recommend that he hire you. I'm not leaving my desk for five days, so keep me reading. Just send your letter to A. L. Lockhart, P. O. Box 392, Dallas, Tex.

WE HAVE OPENING FOR 4 good salesmen to sell WESTINGHOUSE appliances and T. V. Sets.
Experience helpful but not essential.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Takes Only Eight Weeks To Lose Twenty Pounds

The model at right actually looked as she is shown at left before she began her reducing routine. You, too, can dig out your beautiful figure from the pounds which are hiding it by joining Josephine Lowman's 8 - Week Self - Improvement Marathon.

IT'S HERE AGAIN! The "Why Grow Old? Eight Week Self-Improvement Marathon" is as natural a part of life for hundreds of thousands of Why Grow Old? readers as robins are a part of spring, for everyone, everywhere.

Many of the most successful inventions of men and women were inspired by a individual personal need on the part of the creator. Being myself a naturally happy soul but one who is unhappy when fat or when burdened by bulges and pads of fat or rashes and wispy hair, I planned Marathon, thinking, "Maybe my readers need it, too."

Being of good digestion and fine appetite and a convivial spirit, and having the ability to work and struggle like the dickens if I have any reasonable assurance of a happy goal ahead, not too far distant, I thought of Marathon!

ASSURANCE

That is just what my Eight-Week Self-Improvement Marathon is — an assurance from me to you that you can do certain things in the way of self - improvement in eight weeks' time. This is not wishful thinking on my part. For years I have seen the wonderful changes which took place in pupils in my classes, from overweight to curves, from fatigue to vitality, from self-consciousness to self - confidence. I have also been the gratified recipient of thousands and thousands of Marathon success stories from my readers.

It is easy to stick to a routine if you know that within eight weeks you can safely lose 20 pounds, that you can shave inches off of embarrassing measurements through exercise, that your skin and hair will respond beautifully in that length of time to daily care.

It is also nice to know that you can build up leg and bust contour and improve posture, all in eight weeks, and that you can minimize any problem in beauty you may have.

DO WONDERS

We all want to know where we are going, where we are going to land, AND WHEN, before becoming enthusiastic about a daily plan for self - improvement. I can tell you exactly where you will land if you join my Marathon, because it has been carefully and scientifically worked out. You can accomplish wonders in eight weeks' time, and I am here to help you do it!

If you would like to have my Eight - Week Self - Improvement Marathon Booklet send ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, with your request. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

ONLY ONE WELL IS BROUGHT IN DURING WEEK

Three Are Plugged, Abandoned; One New Location Announced

Only one well was brought in during the past week according to a weekly field report of oil and gas wells drilled and completed in the Monroe district for the week ending Dec. 31. The report is issued by the local office of the department of conservation, minerals division.

Also listed in the report were three wells which were plugged and abandoned and one new location.

The single completion was the Louisiana Gas Producing Co.-Cummings No. 1, completed Dec. 20 in 4,826 MF with an estimated flow of 192 MCF. It was located in Section 30, Township 20, Range 3E of the Monroe field of Union Parish.

Wells plugged and abandoned were:

Concordia Parish (wildcat field-Barnett Serio Co. - Justiss Mears Oil Co. - Turner - Pasternack No. 1, plugged on Dec. 24 in Section 23-810E; Wilhite, Seay & Bryans et al-S. D. Winston No. 1, plugged on Dec. 24 in Sec. 42-7-9E. (Esperance Point field)- Kemp drilling Co. - Midstates Oil Corp.-Laura B. Foules No. 1, abandoned on Dec. 23 in Sec. 10-5-9E.

The single new location was in a wildcat field of LaSalle Parish, Section 16-6-4E. It was the Justiss Mears Oil Co., Inc. - LaSalle Parish School Board No. 1, 660'S-660'E of the NW corner.

STATE SOLONS MAY KEEP SAME POSTS IN HOUSE

Only Boggs And Passman Could Possibly Be Removed From Committees

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)— Louisiana's Democratic House members returning for new terms probably will retain committee assignments they had last year, Rep. Brooks, dean of the group reported after a delegation caucus today.

Brooks and Hebert are on the Armed Services Committee; Morrison on Post Office and Civil Service; Boggs on Ways and Means; Passman on Appropriations and Willis on Judiciary.

All are high on the list of Democrats on their respective committees except Boggs and Passman who could be squeezed off if Republicans decided to alter the ratio of party assignments to committees.

Louisiana's two new representatives, Long and Thompson, have expressed preference for Public Works or Agriculture Committee assignments. However, Brooks said prospects are rather dim for new Democratic House members getting on such important committees when in many cases, Democrats will be dropped in the switchover to Republican control.

Brooks said he plans to put in a bid for a place on the Committee on un-American Activities, in addition to retaining his place on Armed Services.

Democratic committee assignments are made by Democrats on the Ways and Means Committee, who serve as a party committee on committees.

All Louisianians were on hand for the caucus today except Reps. Hebert and Passman, who are due in tomorrow morning.

Water Found On Oasis Puts Town On Map

GANDHIDHAM, India (AP)—Wells reaching deep into this arid land plus the energetic work of 15,000 Hindu refugees from Pakistan are fast putting this brand new West Indian town on the map.

Gandhidham enthusiasts — the name means "Gandhi's Town"— claim this is the only Asian community with electricity and running water in every house.

The abundant water has been made possible by 16 new wells yielding 1,500,000 gallons daily. Planned by Hindu refugees from the Sind area surrounding Moslem Pakistan's capital city of Karachi, Gandhidham has enjoyed the backing of the Indian government Refugee Rehabilitiation Ministry.

In two years, the population has jumped from zero to 15,000. Italian and American town planners, who have had a hand in the project, predict the figure will reach 100,000 within three years.

State Industrial Picture For '53 Best In History

BATON ROUGE, Jan. 3 (AP) — Louisiana enters 1953 with some of the brightest industrial prospects in its history, Executive Director Elmer D. Conner of hte State Department of Commerce and Industry said today.

Its petro-chemical industry ranks second in the nation in expansion, he said.

"Its almost limitless deposits of Sulphur and Salt are causing more and more manufacturers to look toward the state with interest.

"The importance of synthetic fibers put the state in a prime position to expand in that direction."

The department will open an exhibit in New York's Colonial Trust Company in January to spotlight Louisiana's industrial advantages.

Conferences and discussions will be arranged with eastern industrialists, Conner said.

The department plans similar events periodically, designed to acquaint manufacturers with Louisiana's potentialities.

During 1952, Department of Commerce and Industry records show more than $262 million in new construction received tax exemptions. The state long has had a policy to attract new industry by granting ad valorem tax exemptions.

The new construction, Conner said, meant some 6,000 new jobs. During the 11-year life of the tax exemption plan, $871 million in new construction was undertaken.

A glimpse at Louisiana's growth during 1940-51 is contained in figures which show a 216 per cent increase per capital income, compared with a national average increase of 175 per cent.

Effective buying income dwarfed the national average with a 269 per cent increase in those years, compared with the national increase of 197 per cent, Conner said.

Louisianians ratified the state's industrial inducement plan in 1952, sometimes called the balance agriculture with industry program.

Under this plan, local governments are allowed to vote industrial bonds for purchasing sites or constructing plants for new or expanding industrial enterprises.

"The industrial inducement plan is not new," Conner said. "Other states, notably Mississippi, have had a similar plan and have reported good results.

"Since 1936, Mississippi has seen the establishment of some 70 industrial plants, with a combined value of $19 million.

"If this play provides the same results for Louisiana, a great many of our smaller communities will be able to get their first real crack at industry. Formerly, larger communities could afford to seek out industry, while the smaller ones could not."

Dirt cannot embed itself in the non-porous surface of a vinyl plastic floor, but it can accumulate on top. Dirt is far easier to remove if this flooring is kept waxed. Wax also prevents scratching of floor.

TEXAN URGES RESTORATION OF TIDELANDS

AUSTIN, Jan. 3 —U. P.— Attorney General John Ben Sheppard urged Friday that restoration of Texas' tidelands be made the No. 1 domestic issue for Texas' congressional delegation.

In telegrams marking his first official act as attorney general, Shepperd sent messages to the state's 22 representatives and two senators saying:

"I urge you to place tidelands legislation as the No. 1 domestic problem on your agenda. The future of the Texas public school system will be affected to a marked extent by a prompt and complete settlement of the many problems involved in the tidelands controversy. A business-like solution to the problem will mean a package bill which affirms Texas' right to its historic ownership of three leagues and an equitable settlement of the continental shelf claims."

Shepperd also urged that "conservation laws inside and beyond the three-league boundary should be included in such a bill."

Sheppard, of Gladewater, was sworn in Thursday by J. E. Hickman, chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court, and held a black-eyed pea reception in his office after the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Shepperd of Gladewater, parents of the attorney general, were among some 300 spectators who saw him sworn in.

Shepperd, 36, succeeded Price Daniel, who held the office for six years. Daniel was elected U. S. senator to replace Tom Connally, who did not run for re-election, and will be sworn in Saturday in Washington.

Red China Wants Quick Industrial Development

TOKYO, Saturday, Jan. 3—UP—Chief aim of Communist China's first "five-year plan" will be quick development of heavy industry, Peiping radio said Friday.

Peiping conceded the job is one of 'gigantic proportions" but said it could be accomplished, starting this year, because of "rich natural resources, wise leadership of the Communist party and selfless help of the Soviet Union."

It said the Communist regime already has made great economic and cultural advances while helping North Korea "repel American aggression."

"Rehabilitation of the Chinese economy after decades of internal and external wars has been completed," Peiping said. "Now, energies are being turned to large scale planned economic construction which will transform China from an agricultural into an industrial country."

Surest way to stay fresh all day!

DIAL SOAP removes the cause of perspiration odor!

DIAL with AT-7 (Hexachlorophene) cleans away thousands of odor-causing bacteria that ordinary soaps leave on your skin.

Just step into your daily shower or tub and lather-up with fragrant, rich-foaming DIAL Soap. It's the newest way—the most wonderful way ever—to end your worries about perspiration odor. For DIAL gives you the wondrous deodorant-action of AT-7 (hexachlorophene).

No matter how often or how thoroughly you wash, ordinary soaps cannot effectively remove the skin bacteria that cause perspiration odor. But DIAL with AT-7 does. So odor never even has a chance to get started—any place on your body. You'll stay fresh all over—all day—with DIAL!

DIAL's creamy lather and gentle bacteria-removing action really protect your complexion, too. Get DIAL—both bath and complexion sizes, today!

DIAL DAVE GARROWAY, NBC, Weekdays

etter than ordinary soap!

Doctors proved it! No ordinary soap can get you so clean as DIAL with AT-7. In surgical scrub-up tests, doctors found that AT-7 soap leaves skin 10 times freer of bacteria than even strong hospital soaps. Yet DIAL is mild and gentle as a soap can be!

Better than deodorants!

Not just underarm—but all-over protection! That's what DIAL gives you—without stopping normal healthful perspiration. Because bathing daily with DIAL removes up to 95% of the skin bacteria that cause odo.. Gives you all-over freshness no deodorant can equal!

Change to DIAL for a cleaner, clearer complexion, too!

Depend on DIAL, the soap that stops odor before it starts!

MONEY BACK IF YOU DON'T AGREE*

New Dial Shampoo is 5 Ways Better!

1 SOFTER, MORE LUSTROUS HAIR

Dial Shampoo contains lanolin .. leaves hair softer, easier to manage . . . helps prevent excessive dryness of hair and scalp.

3 MORE SHAMPOOS PER BOTTLE

With Dial you spray just the right amount on your scalp. There's no spilling, no waste. Dial saves you money.

5 HANDY, UNBREAKABLE SQUEEZE-BOTTLE

Ideal family shampoo. Easier, safer to use. Squeeze bottle sprays directly to your scalp . . . penetrates thickest hair.

2 CLEANER, FRESHER-SMELLING HAIR

Dial's rich creamy lather removes loose dandruff and odor producing bacteria from hair and scalp.

4 FAMOUS AT-7 (Hexachlorophene)

Like Dial Soap, Dial Shampoo contains AT-7 (Hexachlorophene). Keeps your hair clean, fresher smelling days longer.

HELLO.

HELLO, HELLO! I GOT CUT OFF!

OUCH!

DIAL THE NUMBER AGAIN

I DID, BUT MY WIFE WON'T TALK TO ME.

OH, BROTHER, ARE YOU LUCKY!

OH, THERE YOU ARE! GUESS WHAT, WILLIE... WE'VE GOT A JOB FOR YOU

STEP OUT HERE. I WANT TO SEE HOW IT LOOKS IN THE DAY-LIGHT.

SMILIN' JACK

A SIX ENGINE JET BOMBER FROM THE B-47 BASE IN WICHITA, KANSAS, WAS SENT TO ISLAND X, TO TRACK AS MUCH OF JACK'S SPEED TEST AS POSSIBLE.

BY HAVING JACK MAKE HIS RUNS UP AND DOWN THE LENGTH OF PUERTO RICO...

... WE CAN CATCH HIM IN RANGE OF OUR LONG-DISTANCE RADAR-CONTROLLED CAMERAS PART OF THE TIME!

...ALSO, IN CASE JACK HAS TROUBLE, IT'LL BE EASIER TO FIND THE PIECES HERE OVER LAND THAN IN THE SEA!

WE'RE ABOUT AS HIGH AS THIS B-47 WILL GO... WE'RE ABOVE 40,000 FT. BUT JACK IS STILL FLASHING ON UP!

THE VAPOR TRAIL BEHIND JACK'S PLANE HAS STOPPED FORMING...

...WHICH INDICATES THAT JACK HAS REACHED TH' STRATOSPHERE WHERE THERE IS NO MOISTURE!

JACK SAYS— WHAT A WEIRD FEELING! THE ALTIMETER REGISTERS OVER 70,000 FT!

(GULP)— THAT MEANS I'M ALMOST 15 MILES ABOVE TH' EARTH! I'M REALLY "OUT OF THIS WORLD!"

...YET TH' MACH NEEDLE SHOWS THAT I'M DOING OVER 1500 MILES PER HOUR...

...TWICE TH' SPEED OF SOUND... WITH ONLY 400 OF MY LITTLE RAM JET "ENGINES" IGNITED!

...WITH TH' ENGINES' ROAR BEHIND ME, TH' QUIETNESS MAKES IT SEEM ALMOST AS IF I'M STANDING STILL!

TH' RUSSIANS ARE SAID TO HAVE SET A RECORD OF 1700 M.P.H. WITH A ROCKET FIGHTER RECENTLY!

...TO LESSEN MY DRAG, I'LL JETTISON THE TWO TURBOJET WING-TIP ENGINES I USED FOR TAKE-OFF!

...NOW, I'LL "IGNITE" MY LAST 200 RAM "ENGINES" AND I'LL BEAT TH' REDS' RECORD!

I SHOULD DO OVER 2,000 M.P.H. ...IF EVERYTHING HANGS TOGETHER!

A BEAUTIFUL BRUNETTE SECRETARY FOR A COFFEE PLANTATION HAS SIGHTED THE ORIGINAL VAPOR TRAIL MADE BY JACK'S RAM JET!

WHO IS THIS WOMAN? HOW IS SHE DESTINED TO FIT INTO JACK'S LIFE?

WHEN BRER RABBIT GITS GOIN' ...HE GOES ALL TH' WAY!

THIS IS POWDERED WATER. ALWAYS GOT WATER WITH YOU—NEVER GIT THIRSTY—TH' EXPLORER'S BEST FREND!

BUT... HOW DO IT WURK?

TH' DIRECKSHUNS IS INSIDE.

WELL... I IS IN A HURRY, BUT I'LL TRY ONE BOX.

THAR AIN'T MUCH WATER WHAR I IS GOIN'... SO THIS'LL BE JEST FINE!

20 MILES LATER.

I AIN'T SEEN WATER FER TWENTY MILES... NOW'S TH' TIME TO TAKE A DRINK O' THIS HERE POWDERED WATER.

YEE-O-OW! THAT'S NUTHIN' BUT SALT. I BETTER READ TH' DIRECKSHUNS!

IT SEZ HERE... "MIX TH' POWDERED WATER WITH ONE GALLON OF FRESH WATER... AN' SERVE!"

IS YOU HAVIN' TRUBBLE, BRER RABBIT?

I IS BEEN SKUNT! I NEEDS WATER TO GIT WATER.

UH... I'LL FLY YOU BACK TO WHAR THAR IS SOME WATER... FER TWO BUCKS!

AN' WHAR DOES YOU WANNA BE DEELIVERED?

JEST FLY ME BACK AN' DROP ME ON TOP OF BRER WEASEL!

BUY IN HASTE... REPENT IN WASTE.

Little Orphan Annie

OH, HAPPY DAY! A NEW YEAR IS HERE! OH, YEAH? WELL, LET'S NOT BLOW A GASKET, BUD— AS J. R. LOWELL SAID, "—ALL AIN'T GOOD THET'S NEW."

LEAPIN' LIZARDS! IT'S HARD T'BELIEVE! NINETEEN HUNNERT AND FIFTY-THREE— AND FOUR DAYS ALMOST GONE ALREADY!

I'M TELLIN' YUH! THERE WERE PLENTY TIMES LAST YEAR I'D HAVE GIVEN EIGHT TO FIVE WE WOULDN'T BE HERE TODAY—

EIGHT TO FIVE, MY EYE! WHY, I'D HAVE BET YUH A THOUSAND TO ONE! EH, SANDY?

ARF!

OH, WELL— IT WASN'T SUCH A BAD YEAR— WE'RE STILL ALIVE! WHAT ELSE CAN Y'ASK FOR THESE DAYS? AND WE'RE EATIN' REG'LAR— BUT SO ARE MOST FOLKS, IN THIS COUNTRY!

GEE! I'LL NEVER FORGET A YEAR AGO NOW! THAT'S WHEN I COULDN'T REMEMBER ANYTHING— I SURE WAS LUCKY— NICK KNUJ— MOTHER M'KEE— SIMPLE SAMSON!

WHAT WONDERFUL FOLKS THEY WERE TO US, SANDY— THEN ALONG CAME "DR." LAHTEL AND MISS REDDA!

ONLY I COULDN'T REMEMBER 'EM, WITH TH' BANG ON TH' HEAD I'D HAD—

OH, WELL— MEATBALL MAC, TH' COP— AND MAMIE— AND UNCLE KRIS KRINGLE, THE BLIND MAN— AND ALL TH' KIDS— AND SUDDEN SIMPSON, TH' NEWSPAPER GUY—

A LOT OF IT WAS ALL LIKE A DREAM— THEN DAN HAZARD— LIMPY LEM AN' CAL CLOD— AND KURT KNITS, WHO PUT US IN THAT CEMETERY VAULT— WOW! THAT WAS WHAT SCARED ME SO BAD MY MEM'RY CAME BACK—

THEN "DADDY" WARBUCKS AN' PUNJAB AND TH' ASP— AWAY ON THE YACHT TO A TROPICAL ISLE — AND MURDER AN' SUDDEN DEATH— AND THE GENERAL!

WHAT A HORRIBLE, VICIOUS, VIOLENT MAN! —TILL I SAVED HIS LIFE— GEE! WHAT A CHANGE— I HOPE IT LASTS!

YEP— IT'S BEEN QUITE A YEAR, AT THAT— SO HERE WE ARE NOW, WITH SWELL FOLKS, IN QUIET LITTLE OLD FUTILITY!

NOTHIN' 'CITING EVER HAPPENS IN A TOWN LIKE FUTILITY— HOW CAN IT? STILL, THERE'S ALWAYS GOTTA BE A FIRST TIME— IF ANYTHING BIG DOES BREAK THIS YEAR I'D HATE T'MISS IT— EH, SANDY?

ARF!
